The life that counts most and love the right. Most stand for truth, by day, by night. This is the life that counts. -Spurgeon

The two brothers left and Phillip were around Sunday to see the London show. They took him for a long drive.

Free advice is the worst thing you can be asked for.

Emer Frederick is a new patient. His daughter, Mrs. Howard Shaw, helped him get situated. He was visited by Mrs. Howard Shaw, Mrs. Berry, Newport and Cynthia, all relatives. Emer Frederick, Missie McKinley and Charles Frederick, Elmer is a native of the Clayton section.

Mrs. Essie Datzelle who has been living at her home on Locust Street is now back at the home. She was given a hearty welcome by all the home employees.

Margerie Clavner came from Millersburg to visit Miss Effie Anderson. They used to teach together.

Miss Anna Bell Gill looked mighty pretty in her new pink duster, big smile and pretty hair do. It's easy to remember her birthday, for she was born Dec. 9, 1877, the same day as my mother. There was a pretty Easter decoration on her table, which was from the little Livingdon girl.

It was nice to talk to Mrs. Gertrude Woodson and see her Easter present - a beautiful Lily of the Valley. Mrs. Mary Jane Clavner, pretty cards and so on. Don't want to forget to say some company in Pennsylvania had sent a box of greeting cards. If your door bell rings it may be "Miss Gertrude" selling cards.

Uncle Tom said the files were so bad. When asked what to do, he said "kill them, but be sure you hit them hard enough." His daughter Nancy Springer and her two sons of Detroit, Michigan, are visiting him.

The adult class of the Headquarters Church furnished the Easter favors.

The Easter decorations on the door and around showed that Barbara and some of the residents had been busy. There were pretty flower arrangements in the rooms and one could tell Naomi Dale had been around.

If you can't change facts, try bending your attitudes.

Fony Dotson said he thought sure he could quit smoking; laid his pipe down, but didn't have enough will power; picked it up again.

Mrs. Maude Hamilton and Miss from Aberdeen, Ohio one day recently. The Methodist Men had charge of the Sunday worship service. The president, Cleve Ritchie was the leader. There were more than 40 present. There were several speakers by the different churches. Julian McKee read the scriptures. Mr. McKee brought her guitar along. Several were called on to make extemporaneous talks. Several ministers were present including Rev. Howard Ritchie who gave the closing prayer.

"Flanny" Earlywine had a pretty bad case of flu in his window. The card said, "Gracie Gay, J.P. Barber's boy had been around to see him."

W.J. Kimberling has returned from the hospital.

The cooks really put the "served the little one" and had a delicious Easter dinner.

My Tax Dollar - I'm glad to know just how it spent, but still not happy that it went.

Mrs. Eva Blount's daughter, Mary Clay, is now living in the new housing unit, apartment 302. She says she'd like to thank all her friends who saw she was well situated.

Mrs. Ellen Kenney was enjoying a beautiful Lily from her children, Stanley and Robert. The following visited her Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vice Sr., Mrs. Frances Parker, Rose Marie, Melissa and Sonny Parker of Walton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vice Jr. of Williamsburg, Ohio.

Mrs. Mary Jane Clavner of Millersburg is a new patient of the home. Mrs. Cora Gaunce's window was a white bud vase of pink roses. The card said the Kenneth Sunday family from roommates Grassy House was enjoying a pretty white Lily.

Mrs. Pelfrey enjoyed company

'The World Of Carl Sandburg' To Be Presented At M.M.I.

"The World of Carl Sandburg" Residents of the Millersburg area will have the opportunity of watching the nation's most active poetry theater group in performance when the Alpha-Omega Players present "The World of Carl Sandburg" at Millersburg, military institute on April 23 at 8 p.m.

Headquartered in Dallas, Texas, the Alpha-Omega Players last year staged over 400 performances in churches, schools and military bases and covered over 200,000 miles in their travels to some 40 states.

"The World of Carl Sandburg" includes the best known of Sandburg's poetry and music, along with several notable prose selections, including President Lincoln's touching farewell to his hometown of Springfield, Illinois. It is a fully staged production, not a dramatic reading.

Critic Howard Tushman of the New York Times notes that "The World of Carl Sandburg" is "very in its wit, like a prairie fire, and passionate in its convictions. It is one of the best of the 'prophets'." It was first staged in 1938, starring Lewis Davis and Gary Merrill. Starring in "Sandburg" will be talented young actor, Bruce Walters, Charles Stafford, Bruce Ellert and Michael Powell, who will know Norman Corwin award-winning producer and director by the name of "The World of Carl Sandburg". The local performance is sponsored by the M.M.I. Auxiliary with the cooperation of the Kentucky Arts Commission.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK
Miss Edna Mae Carr, a missionary of the Wesleyan Church from the West Indies, will speak Sunday morning, April 25, at the Carlisle Wesleyan Church.

Miss Carr has served as a missionary in Jamaica with duties including teaching, youth, literature and evangelistic work. She will show colored slides and curioes from her mission.

The pastor, Rev. Don Moseley invites all to attend.
