

Nursing Home News

Yes, it's Thanksgiving Time and I want to tell you how thankful I am for my job. I'm employed by Carlisle. I feel so happy that I can maybe be able to lighten some little burden of those who have spent so many years trying to make us happy. I have a great job. Are you wondering what this job is? I work for the people of the nursing home, work on a busy job, whenever I can be in my office which is my bedroom. I'm able to be able to answer my phone. Just as I started to write this the telephone rang, was Mrs. Ethel Booth. She said, "I'll bet you said there's that old woman again." She wanted me to ask Mrs. Verdie Stone (Maude Roberts) if she remembered when she, Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Boya's six children ducked the late David Booth to a snow drift. I will ask her.

How to buy a boot

Look for the all-weather boot. And light weight too. Only 13 ounces.

$6.95

Knée-high. Circumference 10 to 11 inches. Only 19 ounces.

$8.95

NEW! Women's Mukluk boot. Simulated hand stitching. Only 10 ounces.

$5.95

TINGLEY

Southern States Carlisle Cooperative

Cash And Carry SPECIAL

Johns-Manville Ceiling Tile 12 x 24 12¢ Square Foot

Reid and Vice Builders Supplies PHONE: 289-5279

do without. Think it over. Homer went to school to me the first year I "tried" to teach 1977-78 at the Hanna School. I've often wondered if I ever taught anything. I know I didn't teach Homer anything about automobiles. I do know a truck from a station wagon if I look closely.

Yes, Thanksgiving Day will soon be here but let us not be thankful just for that day, but be thankful all the year.

Let's all stop and give thanks for the little Wesley C.M.E. Church on the Hill in Henryville. What would Carlisle have done without it all these years? I could say more but must hurry on. The Thanksgiving favors will be furnished by the Nicholas County High School Home Economics classes.

Verdie Stone is back from the hospital, but Mrs. Vada Peiray is still there. Did you know that John and Sheila Barrett had moved up on Sycamore Hill? Yes, auctions are fun, but we must not forget that they may not be fun for the departed's relatives. They were selling "things" that this departed one loved and cherished. Saturday, Nov. 20 was a cold "raw" day when the "things" of the late home resident, Mrs. Mae Moreland, were put up to the high-end bidder. It could help from thinking about when I wasn't too old and lived on West Main "Miss Mae", her mother, Mrs. Higgins, brother, Everett and sister, Betty were our good neighbors. I didn't have a bid, believe it or not, but I did get to see someone I hadn't seen for a long time. You can't guess who.

This fellow was Homer Kearns. I had been wanting to see him since I came back to Nicholas County over seven years ago. We were so glad to see each other, I asked him where he worked. He said he had been working at Harper's Garage for 22 years. As my teeth chattered I invited him and his good wife, Geneva Gauce Kearns to see me. It was so cold that I had to go to Frank Simons' store to get warm. While I was there he told that Homer was "master".

I had eaten so much dinner at the Wesley C.M.E. Church that I was so full I couldn't say much. You work. Only 19 ounces.

I had eaten so much dinner at the Wesley C.M.E. Church that I was so full I couldn't say much. You work. Only 19 ounces.

I had eaten so much dinner at the Wesley C.M.E. Church that I was so full I couldn't say much. You work. Only 19 ounces.

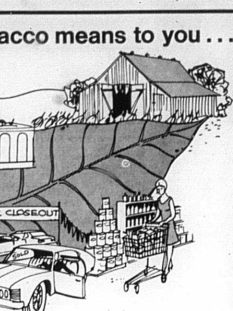

I had eaten so much dinner at the Wesley C.M.E. Church that I was so full I couldn't say much. You work. Only 19 ounces.

I had eaten so much dinner at the Wesley C.M.E. Church that I was so full I couldn't say much. You work. Only 19 ounces.

Place your order for your Gift Fruit Basket Ale 8-1 ct. of 6 $39¢ plus btl. deposit

By Virginia Smith Donovan

What tobacco means to you . . .

As Kentucky's leading cash crop, tobacco obviously is important to our state's farmers. But it is sometimes overlooked, however, is that tobacco is equally important to the banker, the factory worker, the local businessman, the housewife, and to virtually every Kentuckian. Whole tobacco generates farm income of $300 million annually in Kentucky. It is estimated that the crop is worth some $1.5 billion each year to our total economy.

This advertisement paid for by Kentucky Tobacco Growers through the Burley Tobacco Promotional Fund.

Tobacco Talks Are you listening?

Tablet Fryers 29¢
Fresh Hens 37¢
Bacon 69¢
IGA Ice Cream 56¢
Orange Juice $1.09
IGA Hi-Power Bleach 29¢
Pantry Prize Flour $1.69
Charmin Bathroom Tissue 39¢
Heinz Strained Baby Foods 8¢
Carnation Evaporated Milk 17¢

Tablet Treat Enriched Bread 19¢
Stokely Tiny Tin Sale! 17¢
Vegetables 14¢
Puffs Facial Tissue 29¢
Ale 8-1 ct. of 6 $39¢ plus btl. deposit

Tablet Treat Enriched Bread 19¢
Stokely Tiny Tin Sale! 17¢
Vegetables 14¢
Puffs Facial Tissue 29¢
Ale 8-1 ct. of 6 $39¢ plus btl. deposit

Tablet Treat Enriched Bread 19¢
Stokely Tiny Tin Sale! 17¢
Vegetables 14¢
Puffs Facial Tissue 29¢
Ale 8-1 ct. of 6 $39¢ plus btl. deposit

Tablet Treat Enriched Bread 19¢
Stokely Tiny Tin Sale! 17¢
Vegetables 14¢
Puffs Facial Tissue 29¢
Ale 8-1 ct. of 6 $39¢ plus btl. deposit

Music heralds the Christmas season

By Marianne Kohler, Travis Wristor

About 25 musicians of all ages will actually perform, in a program of Christmas songs. There will be flute, clarinet, guitar and harp, group singing of carols, special numbers on the oboe, piano, organ and violin. A brass group will play the joyous sounds of trumpets and trombones to the great swell that will ring out in Bardonia, heralding the oncoming of the Christmas holidays.

Families that will be opening their homes are: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards, 516 North 3rd; Dr. and Mrs. P. L. Nally, 302 West Main; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hibbs, Jr., 309 West John; Mrs. Fitch Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cedarholm, 21 East Stephen Foster Ave., and Mrs. Ford Rapier, 302 S. 5th. Refreshments will be served at Wickland, former home of the midgets.

Tickets, $1 each, may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office from Mrs. Harold C. Browning, president of the Stephen Foster Music Club, or she may be reached by phone at (502) 348-9445.

Edgar A. Wallace says poverty major issue in special election

Poverty was singled out as the major issue in the upcoming special Congressional election by Edgar A. Wallace, an independent candidate on the Dec. 4 ballot. Wallace also discussed the need for reform of the Congressional seniority system and called for an end to U.S. military support for the Thai government in Thailand.

Wallace called for a change in national priorities as fundamental to dealing with the problem of poverty. He urged major cuts in U.S. defense spending to make possible funds to provide jobs, housing, improved education and a better standard of living for Americans.

Wallace said that if elected to Congress he would work for an adequate health care program "as a right, not a privilege," and a tax on tobacco imports to help local small farmers earn an adequate income.

The candidate said that he strongly opposes President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan which, according to Wallace, would provide $1,600 below the official federal poverty level.

Wallace termed the seniority system "obsolete" and charged that "it is standing in the way of sound representative government."

My Neighbors

Public Auction

Sat. Dec. 18, at 10:30 A.M.

Located in Arnold Heights.

For the Estate of the late Clinton Dayton.

Property will be shown by Agent. Look for Sign.

Paul Dayton, Administrator

Earl Hamm Auctioneer Carlisle, Ky. Office Phone 289-5720 Home Phone 289-5320 Lester Green, Clerk Robert Geary, Cashier

The Lexington-Blue Grass Army Depot employees with a goal of $34,000 for the 1972 fund for the United Way of the Blue Grass contributed over $50,000. Pictured above is the team that directed the campaign and the acting commander and the president of the United Way of the Blue Grass. From left to right: Col. Goodell, Albert Paschal, chairman, Imogene Westfall, secretary-treasurer, Donald Scott, co-chairman, J. Ronald Scrivner, co-chairman, and John Swift, president of United Way of the Blue Grass. This marks the 12th year that Miss Westfall has served as secretary-treasurer for the Depot.

Edgar A. Wallace says poverty major issue in special election

Poverty was singled out as the major issue in the upcoming special Congressional election by Edgar A. Wallace, an independent candidate on the Dec. 4 ballot. Wallace also discussed the need for reform of the Congressional seniority system and called for an end to U.S. military support for the Thai government in Thailand.

Wallace called for a change in national priorities as fundamental to dealing with the problem of poverty. He urged major cuts in U.S. defense spending to make possible funds to provide jobs, housing, improved education and a better standard of living for Americans.

Wallace said that if elected to Congress he would work for an adequate health care program "as a right, not a privilege," and a tax on tobacco imports to help local small farmers earn an adequate income.

The candidate said that he strongly opposes President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan which, according to Wallace, would provide $1,600 below the official federal poverty level.

Wallace termed the seniority system "obsolete" and charged that "it is standing in the way of sound representative government."

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

The Lexington-Blue Grass Army Depot employees with a goal of $34,000 for the 1972 fund for the United Way of the Blue Grass contributed over $50,000. Pictured above is the team that directed the campaign and the president of the United Way of the Blue Grass. From left to right: Col. Goodell, Albert Paschal, chairman, Imogene Westfall, secretary-treasurer, Donald Scott, co-chairman, J. Ronald Scrivner, co-chairman, and John Swift, president of United Way of the Blue Grass. This marks the 12th year that Miss Westfall has served as secretary-treasurer for the Depot.

Edgar A. Wallace says poverty major issue in special election

Poverty was singled out as the major issue in the upcoming special Congressional election by Edgar A. Wallace, an independent candidate on the Dec. 4 ballot. Wallace also discussed the need for reform of the Congressional seniority system and called for an end to U.S. military support for the Thai government in Thailand.

Wallace called for a change in national priorities as fundamental to dealing with the problem of poverty. He urged major cuts in U.S. defense spending to make possible funds to provide jobs, housing, improved education and a better standard of living for Americans.

Wallace said that if elected to Congress he would work for an adequate health care program "as a right, not a privilege," and a tax on tobacco imports to help local small farmers earn an adequate income.

The candidate said that he strongly opposes President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan which, according to Wallace, would provide $1,600 below the official federal poverty level.

Wallace termed the seniority system "obsolete" and charged that "it is standing in the way of sound representative government."

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

Public Auction

Sat. Dec. 18, at 10:30 A.M.

Located in Arnold Heights.

For the Estate of the late Clinton Dayton.

Property will be shown by Agent. Look for Sign.

Paul Dayton, Administrator

Earl Hamm Auctioneer Carlisle, Ky. Office Phone 289-5720 Home Phone 289-5320 Lester Green, Clerk Robert Geary, Cashier

Edgar A. Wallace says poverty major issue in special election

Poverty was singled out as the major issue in the upcoming special Congressional election by Edgar A. Wallace, an independent candidate on the Dec. 4 ballot. Wallace also discussed the need for reform of the Congressional seniority system and called for an end to U.S. military support for the Thai government in Thailand.

Wallace called for a change in national priorities as fundamental to dealing with the problem of poverty. He urged major cuts in U.S. defense spending to make possible funds to provide jobs, housing, improved education and a better standard of living for Americans.

Wallace said that if elected to Congress he would work for an adequate health care program "as a right, not a privilege," and a tax on tobacco imports to help local small farmers earn an adequate income.

The candidate said that he strongly opposes President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan which, according to Wallace, would provide $1,600 below the official federal poverty level.

Wallace termed the seniority system "obsolete" and charged that "it is standing in the way of sound representative government."

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

My Neighbors

THE CARLISLE (KY.) MERCURY, THURS., DEC. 2, 1971-5