of the "hustle and bustle", but I do wish everyone who reads or even hears of the "Nursing Home News" a Merry Christmas!

At one of our banks I just told someone you may be "crazy" before the 25th comes, and before I forget it, on your shopping list please don't forget to "tell the Man upstairs", you know who he is, and that is why we have Christmas.

My car, "Shank's Pony", model 1966 runs better now, but my secretary is my little friend, Kay Conley. She has the same kind of a car as I have, except hers is a much later model and travels much faster. Maybe you are wondering where I get the news... it's from Tom, Dick and Harry and how long does it take to write the news, well that's a 64 hundred dollar plus question.

Mr. Frederick says he doesn't know anything and can't get out to learn anything. I can tell him one thing which he already knows, his daughter, Nancy Shaw's big smile helps many people.

I hope you all had a good Thanksgiving. I was invited to my daughter's for the holidays. Caught a ride with my next door neighbor to the bus station where I got on the bus and it was such a blast. The bus driver said he hadn't been on that particular road for 20 or more years.

My daughter met me in a big purple car, didn't feel out of place when I got in for my dress, which I bought a couple of years before on sale, was purple. I must go on with the story. She took me to their home. I went to bed before the rest of the family. Believe it or not, I slept in the garage. As I was trying to sleep, I could hear someone talking. They were saying, "You never did get that garage out". I could hear people around it seems as if they were making a trap. I just hoped it wasn't to catch me in.

I dozed off a little, by that time I heard someone say, "I'm going to get up now". I got out of the garage as soon as I could, and believe it or not, a "gritzy bear" played an electric organ while I tried to eat.

Don't quit here. Read on. The garage in which I sleep, in my 17-year-old grandson's room. He wants to be a diesel engineer. The table next to the bed was full of all kinds of cars. The fellow who I heard talking about the trap is my 15-year-old grandson, who says he did want to be an oceanographer, but has changed his mind, and now wants to be a diver. When I last saw him, he and his boyfriend were going down the hill looking for rabbits. The "gritzy bear" is my son-in-law, who looks like he should belong to the whistler crew! It's a changing world as you already know.

Let's go on with the Nursing Home News. Rev. Sugg and Rev. Rice had church of the weekly worship service, Nov. 29. There were 17 present. Several old hymns were sung by the residents. Bro. Sugg played the piano while the two sang old hymns. Bro. Sugg read part of John 14 and talked about the 7th verse which tells us about "peace".

Mertie Jones attended church services at the Headquarters Church one Sunday recently. Inflation has become so bad that it hit the price of feathers. Even down is up. The auto is a passing thing. Ask any hitchhiker.

If anyone says you are an "out-ty" as a fruit cake, they may not know the price of pecans this year. My door bell rang one night, wasn't too late, and before I could unlock the door, could see the salesman's smile. It was my friend Raymond Thompson with his wares. I know Raymond for he had worked for me and he helps to
