Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

I never see a pansy with its lovely face, I never see a garden with its beauty and its grace, But what I think of friendship, With its power to give a lift, And always I'm reminded That a friend is God's own gift!

While in Louisville it was nice to talk over the phone to Freda Feeback Baldwin who along with her husband, Dan teaches in Jefferson County schools. She wanted to know about her old Sycamore neighbors, Miss Effie Anderson and Miss Cordia Bell. Mrs. A.T. Gardner was one of her teachers. Johnny Feeback is some kind of a cousin of hers. She hopes to come back to our 45th school class reunion. She asked about so many Carlisle folks; said she had quit taking the Mercury because she didn't know about anyone she read about. She hadn't heard about the nursing home news, but was real interested in it. She has read some of it by now. Oh yes! she asked if Frances Hughes still went out to the home each week to make the "girls" look pretty, and if Frances Kash Boyce's mother, Mrs. Lula Kash, was still at the home. She is still #fterested in her little home town and the people in it.

Mrs. Hollis Dalzell has gone back to live at her home on Locust Street.

Betty and Everett Higgins of Fleming County were up to see Everett's sister, Mrs. Mae Moreland.

Harvey Ellison said he had been wishing and wishing for pickled pig's feet on biscuit, but when he got some, "they" wouldn't let him have it, but he ate some anyway.

Nellie Gaunce doesn't look so much like Mayme now, for she hasn't her bangs; said she had been so busy that she hadn't had time to have them trimmed and just combed them back.

Luther Peters has gone back to live at the rooming house on Broadway.

Uncle Tom Jackson said he thought he bought his shoes at the corner store where Sexton's used to be; thought he paid around $2.85 for them, but couldn't remember the name of the "fellow" that kept the store.

Frances Bretz was home from Midway over the weekend to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ratliff. Lizzie had been up to Mt. Sterling to shop.

Helen and Clay Myers celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Jan. 10 by going to Paris and having dinner in the evening.

When Tiny Earlwyine was asked if she knew any news she said she didn't know anything only on herself and she couldn't tell that.

Margaret Bromagen's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Munzy of Hamilton, Ohio visited with her for a few days; hadn't seen them since last June.

When Mrs. Claudia Wells was asked how she was doing and what could be done for her she replied that about all that could be done was to build a fire. This was Tuesday, the windy day. Uncle Tom said he believed some one had let it go out!

Mrs. Ellen Kenney really loves Blanch and Stanley, but she said sometimes they wouldn't listen at what she has to say; said many times youngins just wouldn't pay attention to what their parents tried to tell 'em!

Tony Dotson said his niece and several others had dropped in. Hinton Caswell has been coming about every other day to talk to him.

Roy Snapp spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice King at Lake Carnico.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harper of Elkhart, Ind. visited Mrs. Harper's father, Orville Howard on Sunday.

Mrs. Omer Berry was sporting a new permanent and hair cut, one of Frances Hughes' specials.

When Uncle Tom Jackson was asked what he liked best to eat, he said anything. When told he couldn't eat just anything, he said, with a grin, "could if you got cornered up!"

Ona Conyers, her son Harold and family from Paris, and sister Catherine Barlow took a trip Sunday and went up to Morehead.

As has been stated before, Herman Conyers has not been out for several weeks. However, he hasn't been lonesome. He has his scrap book which helps him recall memories of by-gone days. There are some ads from an old Mercury (no date) in his scrapbook. They read like this: John F. Norwell--Attorney at law; J.M. Chism--Attorney at law; Dr. N.H. McNew--Physician and Surgeon, office Adair Brewing building, southwest of the courthouse; Ross and Kennedy--Attorneys at law; W.H. Howe--Hardware and Groceries, Queensware, Drugs, Boots and Shoes--Country Produce; Dr. G.W. Adair--Surgeon Dentist; Dr. H.C. Burroughs--Physician and Surgeon; St. Cloud Hotel, A.J. Banta and M.A. Glenn, proprietors.

George Sosby said his three daughters had been to see him one day recently.

At this writing Mrs. Gertrude Woodall, Mrs. Eliza Ockerman, Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, Pud Goodwin, and Mrs. Willela Gardner are in the local hospital.

Mrs. Omer Berry was real glad to see her two little great nephews, Karen and Jamey Anderson. The older folks welcome the little ones.

While in Louisville it was real fun to visit Story's House of Wonder. One could find everything from a rusty nail to a stagecoach! It was nice to talk to Mr. Story too. He is a native of Fleming County. He's the fellow who celebrates Christmas twice each year; the Sunday before the fourth of July, and the first Sunday in December. He has a live Santa there, live burro, and treats for the children on each celebration. Last Christmas he had 280 children to come; said he had about 2000 pictures of the different occasions. He also stated that his burro had been to Frankfort but was thrown out of the House of Representatives!

GIVING

God gives us joy that we may give; He gives us joy that we may share; Sometimes he gives us loads to lift, That we may learn to bear. For life is gladder when we give, And love is sweeter when we share. And heavy loads rest lightly too, When we have learned to bear.

Lyman V. Ginger, professional educator and nationally known lecturer on school topics, filed February 1 for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction in the Democratic primaries. A lift-long Democrat, he has devoted his entire life to the field of education and public instruction, teaching and as administrator in the public schools before coming to the University of Kentucky as director of the University school, chairman of the Division of Instruction in the College of Education, and Director of Elementary and Secondary Student Teaching program.

President Nixon Lauds Farm Productivity

President Nixon recently praised American farmers for providing this county's people the best food in the world at a lower percentage of family income that is provided for any other country in the world.

He said, the Nation owes American agriculture a very great debt.

He cited the fact that the area of the American economy that has had the greatest growth in productivity is American agriculture, and said this has not been adequately reflected in agricultural income.

This report on the President singling out American agriculture for high praise was supplied by Homer V. Yonts, State Executive Director of the Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Office.

In his remarks, President Nixon referred to the new Commission on Productivity, with a membership of top leaders representing American industry, labor, the academic community, and agriculture, saying that "a very significant point was made, not only in the first meeting, but in the second and third. On every occasion, it was this: That that area of American economy that has had the greatest growth in productivity and that has the highest productivity per man hour, any way you want to rate it, is American agriculture."
