Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

As for old age, embrace and love it. It abounds with pleasure if you know how to use it. The gradually declining years are among the sweetest in a man's life, and I maintain that even when they have reached the extreme limit, they have the pleasure still.--Seneca

My mother, Mrs. Ida Smith, departed this life Feb. 10, 1970. On Feb. 14, 1894 she married my father, Roy H. Smith, who passed away Oct. 10, 1932. On Feb. 14, 1954 before starting out to teach early one morning, I scratched out this little poem. I meant every word and still do.

"'Twas on this day sixty years ago, That you married your best beau, You were a faithful wife, And remained true all his life. I can't say all I'd like to say. Couldn't be told all in one day. We've lived together almost forty-eight years, And shared many joys and tears. You, I just couldn't repay, If you lived for always."

Mrs. Edgar Freeland said she had a glass of jelly in her fruit closet at home which had the date on it, but couldn't remember. This is wild plum jelly which the late Mrs. Ella Smith made and brought to "Miss Willie's" mother, the late Mrs. Fannie Kincart, who died Sept. 1954. The late Rainey Smith, husband of Mrs. Smith, picked the plums off of his farm near Headquarters.

Ardelia Thompson can really make good and pretty Valentine cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Wells of Paris visited Margaret's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Woodall on Sunday.

When we pointed to Johnny Glass and asked Uncle Tom Jackson if he knew anything good of Johnny, after stating we didn't, his reply was; "Judge not that ye be not judged, for with what judgement you judge you shall be judged."

J.P. Barbee said he didn't know any news; but his son Avery of Cowan had been to see him, and if he knew anything he kept it to himself.

It was nice to talk to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller of Millersburg who read the news and wanted to know if their friend "Ikie" (Lawrence) Price was still at the home; said Captain Reece who used to teach at M.M.I. always asked about his friend, "Ikie." Said he visited him not long ago, Mr. Price is very pleasant, but doesn't talk too much. Captain Reece now lives at Mayslick.

Ora Smith who lives at Lexington, came to Carlisle recently and visited his sister, Mrs. Ethel Booth. He said he'd like to see his friend, Mrs. Willie Kincart Freeland; said he used to go to Stoney Creek to Sunday School and Church with her and her two sisters when they were all young.

Marion Spellman, radio and t.v. star, telephoned Mrs. Mae Berry to watch and listen at a certain time over t.v., for she was singing the song, "I'm Singing My Way To Glory." Mrs. Berry composed the song. She listened with pride.

Mrs. Ellen Kenny said her son, Stanley and wife, Blanch had worked hard and now they were living it up and she didn't blame them.

Some little girls from the Assembly of God Church decorated little paper plates with hearts and scripture verses, and passed them out to the residents. Some said they offered to pay the little girls, but they wouldn't take anything.

Mrs. Mae Moreland had a most beautiful flower arrangement on her table. It was given to her by Betty and Everette Higgins and their children and families.

It was nice to receive a letter and a crisp five dollar bill from a former Carlisle girl who wanted her name withheld from the paper, but wanted nice fruit, candy or cake purchased for some of her home friends and neighbors, who are at the home.

Although the roads were thick with snow, and winds were going at a high gate, Elmer Dampier and Jimmy Hall were out from the Carlisle Christian Church to serve communion to their members and friends. Two come very Sunday and bring church literature too.

Mrs. Cora Gaunce said her good friend Joe Frank Conley had visited her but he was such a "quiet man." She always says it means so much to have someone to come in and speak. Many of the patients have their eyes closed but are not asleep. They want your visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcome Royce were around to see Mrs. Lula Kash on Sunday.

Mrs. June Blanta of Cynthiana was at the home Sunday to visit her aunt, Mrs. Mae Moreland. "Mike" Mae's sister, Della Pender said someone of Mrs. Moreland's family tried to visit her every day.

At this writing, Mrs. Maggie Hammonds is the only resident in the hospital.

The old folks have been wondering why some church or group hasn't come out to conduct a religious service. What has become of the Ministerial Association?

The Valentine favors were made by Home Economic classes of Nicholas County High School.

The Lincoln Birthday favors were made by the Saltwell Missionary Society.

The Washington Birthday favors were made by Tene Eads.
