

Imaginative Way

Editor Donn Dodd, of the Clearmore (Okla.) Daily Progress recently expressed his congratulations to Superior Court Judge Frank A. Tomassello of Carlisle, Mass. for the imaginative way in which he handled the case of a 17-year-old high school girl convicted for burning the state flag during a protest demonstration.

After being sentenced to six months in jail and fined $50 the girl appeared in Judge Tomassello's court following her reversal of the conviction and dismissal of the case. Following her plea, the judge proceeded to question her: "Do I understand that you are sorry for what you have done?" "Yes, your honor," the girl replied.

Turning toward the American flag in his courtroom, he asked: "Would you take that flag and walk with it to Harvard Square?" "Yes, was the reply. Flanked by her attorney, the district attorney, and the court officers, she carried the flag along the two-

An organization to boost the proposed Falmouth Dam on the Licking River was started last week. Incorporators are Warren J. Shores, Ralph Perry, Fred Green, Colin, Keith Fisher, Alexander, Robert, Fred Green, Jerry and Kenneth T. Margueta. The new county rock quarry located on the Carlisle-Millersburg road is now in its second year of operation and working smoothly. Much new equipment has been purchased and is being used to give the people of Nicholas County one of the best quarries in the state.

Herbert Duncan, 19, Nicholas county T-4-A member was selected "Northern Kentucky District Farmer," Friday, June 8, at Harbingsburg at the F.F.A.'s 21st annual convention. Also Fred Burnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burnam, was one of 195 Derby winners receiving a state FFA Kentucky Farmers degree.

Editor Dodd concludes, "This was justice in a manner that could well serve as a model for the sending her to jail or permitting her to remain in the state flag files a little more proudly because of her." "He then continued her case for one year, indicating it would be dismissed at the end of that time if she avoids further trouble."

VAPOURS

I have never in my desk drawer, just a reminder of course, "Don't use Alemtic fitting for grease gun." Now the fitting is needed in order to get grease into a bearing on a 1250 Multi, but there seems to be more than one way to do it. I have found one that works better than any other I have tried. There are days when one feels like he's part of a 3-ring circus. Today is one of those days. The telephone which is right next to my seat has blasted me into outer space twice this morning before opening time, namely 8:30. It's not that I'm not here earlier, but some of the hats I wear call for intense concentration. I'm a tank and, as only on occasion will I answer that instrument. I'm a tank and, as only on occasion will I answer that instrument.

In the May 28 issue I had an article about one Robert Shattow of Michigan agriculture who was a pleasure. In it, the article, I said that I hoped one of these boys would have more of his work and additionally I would like to see him at Farmville or Nashville. Well, I sure was way off in the town, his address is Farmington. Any way we think the Silver Buckle Press" does exceedingly well and that at a later date space will permit reproducing some of his work.

THE NO WAY

Well, friends like I have, who needs enemies? The other night a bunch of wild newspapermen and photographers as a sort of gang-up party for one of the clan. When they found out I don't play poker with friends, I was invited to play. Worst of all, they called me a four-flusher. Poker is a game you don't ordinarily mention in a family newspaper. Friends and women; folks know on it. Poker, of course, is an invention of the devil. But, that is a harmless, expense amusement.

Top dog poker hands is a royal flush, which starts with an ace and goes down to a ten, in the same suit, and is practically worthless. Nobody ever calls you a royal flush because they know your eyeballs think like most bad gamblers. It is a matter of the furniture, you get to have it. A straight flush is more useful and easier on the bladder, and recommended for amateurs to hold.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Carlisle Mercury: It is so nice to receive the newspaper each week, like a letter from home. Our Rice family always too. Sincerely, Royal O. Metcalf, Mary Oak, Mich.

In a steaks high poker game, you can be called a four-flusher

Young poker players are educated with a thing called a royal flush. The royal flush consists of the ten, jack, queen, king and ace of the same suit. These two do more to educate our youth than any other thing. There are two to more to educate our youth than any other thing. There are two to more to educate our youth than any other thing.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't get in a 20-year snooze nowadays because he'd develop lung cancer from air pollution. An IRS man would demand to know why one takes a big game but doesn't have the stuff to back it up, or pleads ignorance of the game's everyone will sweeten the pot for
