My Father's way may twist and turn, my heart may stray and ache, but my soul I'm glad I know, He makes no mistake.

Falmer Barber (J.P.) is now residing in personal care, walks to his meals and sometimes stops to converse with his old friend and neighbor, Miss Mitchell. "Miss Minnie" really puts out a good advice, she says if you can't say a good word about others, it's best to say nothing.

Mary Lois Campbell, Mrs. Cordia Hamilton and Mrs. Lida Mae Wade have been making their regular bi-monthly visits to the home.

"Cockle" Gill was visited one day by Miss Lucinda Burns and her daughter, Clarine Seaman of Lexington.

Warner Lowe is a new resident at the home. His son, Henry Grant Lowe and wife of Danville, and Mrs. and Mrs. Herman Letts of Harrison County all came to see that they had heard this before. There are others in the home who remember the incident, "Uncle" Charley and "Aunt" Lettie Wesley, an old Negro couple, lived in Jackson. They were close neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell. "Aunt" Lettie had been sick for sometime and "Uncle" Charley came and said, "Miss Esie, Lettie is gone."

Mrs. Rowena Collins came from Williamson, Ohio to visit Mrs. Ellen Kenoy, Mrs. Kenoy says she used to carry Rowena's "youngster" around. She was so glad to see Rowena.

Wednesday some of the members of the Christian Church Central Council were around to visit. The members were Mrs. Luther Thompson, Miss Emma Dixon, Mrs. Francis Hughes and Mrs. Elizabeth Neal.

Barbara Griffin says she's making plans for a Hawaiian dinner party for the residents on June 25. She is also said she had a picture show in the gymnasium every two weeks. Her guests were:

Wednesday night about seven "old hands" from Glenview were hurrying away, going to Mt. Pleasant to prayer meeting. Some of the Richies were waiting for him.

Mr. Ockerman says she's feeling better now and she was glad to see her daughters, Edith. It's hard to keep up with Vada Polley, she and Esther were Friday night to her home at Portsmouth, Ohio and stayed until Tuesday. She must be about the youngest resident of the home. She has new pictures of her grandchildren in her room.

The Otte and took their Uncle Landan Stewart around eight-seventy.

Sunday Bonnie Cummins was around passing out her good eggs, fresh strawberries and wild cherry cream. The lucky ones were Miss "Cockle", Miss Cordia and Mrs. Mae Berry.

Shirley McDonald is a new helper and she's a good worker, too.

Tony Boston says his roommate, "Sam" Earlywine doesn't have much to say, just "how are you and spits" all day long.

Mrs. Esie Dalzell said her daughter, Helen Otte, had returned from the Paris hospital; sold her farm, and was moving into Paris soon.

At this writing there are no residents in the hospital.

Mrs. W.R. Anderson and family of Huntington, West Va., visited her sister-in-law, Miss Effie Anderson.

When nurse Meritt Jones was complimented for her kindness, consideration for the patients, visitors and fellow workers, she said, "I'm like Pop-Eye, I am what I am and I do what I can."

Mrs. Esie Dalzell had an interesting story to tell Wednesday. I had heard this before. # Commissioner Hill Top Lodge To Hold Open House

Open house of Hill Top Lodge, a new nursing and convalescing home in Owingsville, will be held Sunday, June 20, from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to tour this ultra-modern facility, one of the finest in Eastern Kentucky, on that day.

Closely resembling a small hospital, Hill Top Lodge has 17 semi-private rooms and two private rooms. Each room has restroom facilities and an outside window. There is a large recreation and dining room at the front of the building, along with the office for the home administrator, Mrs. Mae Baber, Winchester, who has more than 10 years in this field, will be the administrator.

An all stainless steel kitchen adjoins the dining room, however, bed patients will be served in the dining room. A majority of the cuisine in Kentucky has held or will hold some type of special program in recognition of dairying, with local chambers of agriculture and civic clubs giving their support.

The head nurse's desk overlooks the hallway on each wing of the building, and she has instant contact with each room through an intercom system. Mrs. Bob Thomason, Mt. Sterling, RN with more than 20 years' experience, will be head nurse. All rooms and restrooms have emergency signal systems, so that aid can be summoned quickly when needed.

Each of the semi-private rooms has two hospital-type beds with built-in, clothing chests and toilet facilities. Drapes throughout the home are fireproof. Infant, everything has been done to make the home as fireproof as possible. It has fire alarm and hallway doors that automatically close in the event of fire.

The building is fully air-conditioned and heated automatically, according to the temperature described. An emergency power generating system is built in to take over in case of a public power failure.

For those patients requiring treatment, special treatment rooms are available. Patients are admitted at a rear entrance where they can be taken directly to their rooms. Two physicians, Dr. Robert L. Suttles and Dr. Robin A. Byrd, Owingsville, will call at the home and other physicians may also treat patients here. Ambulance service is available and the home has made emergency arrangements with St. Clair Hospital in Morehead when hospital care is necessary; however, a patient may also choose any hospital and ambulance service will be provided.

Oxygen and intravenous feeding is available in each room.

At least three general licensed practical nurses will be employed at Hill Top Lodge. These are Mrs. Carroll Hughes, Frenchburg; Miss Glenna Rose, Mt. Sterling; and Mrs. Regina Goodpastor, Owingsville. There will also be other professional related nurses, and aides, for around-the-clock care of patients. A physical therapist may be employed later.

Mrs. Opal Eaton, Owingsville, will be housekeeper, and Mrs. Bowling, Mt. Sterling, maintenance engineer. Head cooks are

Farm & Home

County extension Agents
Estil J. Noffsinger,
Sara Suwano, Mrs. Margie Wilson

Even though the blight caused some damage in the county last year, and the fungus is viable in the crop residue on the soil surface, this does not mean that the crop blight will be severe in 1971. The weather will probably have more to do with spreading the infection than any other factor, as winds will bring the blight northward. However, all who are concerned with this problem and are watching closely to see if it hits this year, if any unusual plants show up or blight symptoms develop, farmers are asked to notify the Extension Office.

It is well known that Area Farm Management Specialist lists some POINTS YOU SHOULD CONSIDER FOR FUTURE TOBACCO PRODUCTION:

1. Grow your allotted pounds on more acreage at this time. We do not know what the most desirable yield per acre would be, but some growers would be between 2500 and 3000 pounds.
2. Grow tobacco with less nitrogen attention to every detail. To get the last pound use some of this management and labor on other crops.
3. Labor cost and other cost can now be reduced, specific items where reduction can probably be made are rearing, using M130 twice, picking up, falling leaves, other time consuming but return details.
4. You have three years to balance out the pounds you are allowed to sell. The pressure should now be off. Grow good tobacco especially good quality, but think of tobacco in context of the total farm business—not just tobacco.
5. Tobacco income is now more difficult than ever, the only gain you can make is in what little increase you might get in price per pound. Therefore any improvement in the income position for your farm business will come from other crops or other crops and livestock.

Penn State conducted an experiment with a rotation of one year corn, one year soy and two years of hay at pH levels of 5.5 and 6.8 over a 28 year period, the gross income at the higher pH (6.8) was $850 per acre more than at the lower level. The only difference was due to limiting. Our farmers are using more time each year but are not using enough. Remember an application of lime lasts for several years.
