Nursing Home News

Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see;
That mercy to others show,
That mercy show to me.—Alexander Pope

"Aint Cora" Gaunce says the ones with the most brains don't always do the most.

Mrs. Rachael Norton (Carson) is working part time at the home.

Mrs. Mae Berry and Mrs. Pelfry watched the Nixon wedding on color television.

Mr. and Mrs. William Letcher and daughter of Clarksville, Ind., visited Elmer Frederick Saturday.

That Miss "Cootsie" Gill does have more company from Northern Kentucky and greater Cincinnati, Saturday Ann Studer and children, Dean and Kenny and Delilah Chrisman all came from Ft. Thomas, and Ruth Ann Chrisman and children, Larry and Randy came from Cincinnati. They must have come in a station wagon or truck!

Mrs. Stella Watkins has gone to her eternal home.

Ira Payne is a new resident at the home, and says if he didn't have a home, he'd stay right there the rest of his days.

Mrs. Claudia Wells is now walking to the dining room for meals; says there is just one thing wrong though, she has to be more particular now!

Wilbur and Georgia Clark were around one day to visit friends.

Mrs. Ann Clark said she didn't know any news; said she couldn't get any by just sitting.

Warner Lowe said he had company Sunday, His son, Henry Grant and wife of Danville visited him. Said they had been to see their son graduate from Transylvania College. Mr. Lowe also said he really enjoyed the delicious pie, and with a smile, said he wouldn't care if the whole dinner had been pie!

That Serelda Sosby has been walking without the help of even a cane. She can go up and down steps now. She went to her daughter's in Bourbon County on Sunday, but before she left, Della Dye visited her and they had a nice chat.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen of Bourbon County spent the day Sunday with Helen's mother, Mrs. Essie Dalzelle.

Charles Browning is a new resident, who hails from Robertson County, His son, Gene, wife and children came from Dayton, Ohio to see that he was well situated. The big twist of tobacco on his table was a good indication that he is enrolling in the "Spit & Chew Club".

George Sosby says that a good pan cake might be a help to him, "Red" Purcell is again living at the home.

Dr. Evans Brown conducted the weekly worship service Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Jet Pitman and Sue and Hugh Wilson were kind enough to come along and help us with the singing. There was a good attendance, 24 came. Dr. Brown read from Psalm 23 and Rev. 3. He explained to us that only we can open the door of our hearts to God. He also reminded us of the picture of Hoffmann's "Christ Knocking at the Door".

Mrs. Maude Hamilton stands in well with her nieces and nephews and great nieces and great nephews (by marriage), John Hamilton and wife and Theras Austin came to see her Sunday. Theras supplied "Miss" Maude with enough chewing gum to do for a while.

The Flag Day favors were furnished by the Saltwell Church Youth Class.

Mrs. Pearl Craig has had another promotion. She now has a front room and can watch the people come and go. Her son, Guy and wife from Robertson County visited her Tuesday and told us that "Miss Pearl's" granddaughter, Esther Mae Kidwell was married recently in the Florence Methodist Church. Esther Mae is her daughter, Goldie's daughter.

We all agree with Mrs. Claudia Wells,- Nothing can make you sick quicker than shoes that hurt our feet, She said they made us hurt all over.

Mrs. Mae Wells said her niece, Lolly Caswell and daughter came and took her for a ride, and as always she stopped on the way to get a "Dilly Bar".

Warner Lowe said his roommate, Ira Payne, would be hard to beat. He also said his son, Henry Grant Lowe, had been to see him and brought his mother, "Miss" Mary Alma. Said she was a wonderful woman to "stand up" under such strain.

Stanley Galbraith was around passing out beautiful roses and his good wishes.

At this writing no one is in the hospital.

Herman Conyers has a new job feeding the birds, which he has taken over since Roy Snapp left.

Tony says his roommate, "Sam" Earlywine is a good scout; tends to his own business and bothers no one.

Jack Colville is a new resident who hails from Moorefield. He used to be in the home of Mrs. Lucille Corns. His niece, Dorothy Saunders, came from Maysville to visit him.

Ira Payne will be 93 his next birthday, but doesn't seem to have forgotten a thing. Said he has had three good wives. To the first union, two children were born, one died at five months of age, and the other one was 15 months old when Mrs. Payne died. The doctors said the baby wouldn't live, but her grandmother took her and kept her, and now she weighs 180 pounds and lives in Idaho!

To the second union, two children were born, one is now living in Henryville, Ind, and the other is deceased. Mr. Payne said he and his present wife had been married, I believe, about 25 years. She was the mother of two children by a former marriage, but they were deceased. When we thought Mr. Payne had finished his biography, he told us he had three grandchildren, one great-grandchild and one great-great-grandchild, whom he is looking forward to seeing when he comes from California. He said no one liked "youngins" any better than he. He went on to say that he did believe that Rachael Booth was the best he ever saw; said for six years she stayed with him and Mrs. Payne, off and on, while her daddy and mother worked on the farm. You readers who know Mr. Payne, know he will probably have more to tell in another issue.

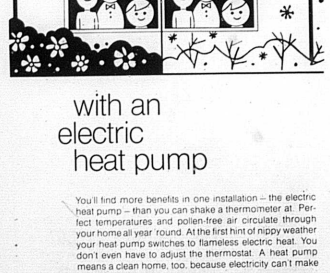
Spread the cheer throughout the year



with an electric heat pump

You'll find more benefits in one installation — the electric heat pump — than you can shake a thermometer at. Perfect temperatures and pollen-free air circulate through your home all year round. At the first hint of nippy weather your heat pump switches to flameless electric heat. You don't even have to adjust the thermostat. A heat pump means a clean home, too, because electricity can't make soot or grime.
