Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

Since I like to cook and enjoy good food the little extras all seem worthwhile to me. However I do realize there are a lot of people who just can't get excited over a new recipe or planning a dinner. If you are in this category perhaps the recipes this week will appeal to you or remind you to use them if you have served them before.

MEAT CASSEROLE

This recipe is to serve four. If your family is larger, use number of chops necessary and increase other ingredients proportionately.

4 medium thick pork chops
6 tablespoons raw rice
1 bouillon cube, dissolved in 1 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 large onion
2 ripe tomatoes or 1 No. 303 can whole tomatoes, drained
green pepper, cut in rings
salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons of fat

Brown chops in the fat in a skillet. Put rice in bottom of greased casserole. Put the chops on the rice and top each one with slices of onion, tomato and green pepper, seasoning as you go. Add marjoram and thyme to bouillon and pour over all to cover.

If you have used canned tomatoes measure the juice to make 1 cup, adding water if necessary and add bouillon to that. If 1 cup does not cover contents of casserole, add enought water to do so.

Cover and cook at 325 degrees for approximately 2 hours.

I have used this idea for many one-dish meals. Use round steak cut into serving pieces, flour and brown in enough margarine to keep from sticking. Season well to your liking. Remove to casserole and add potatoes, carrots, onions and a No. 2 1/2 can of tomatoes if you are serving more than four. Taste for seasoning. Cover and cook 2 to 3 hours. Serve with tossed salad or fruit salad. You may use your choice of vegetables with the pork chops, too.

STUFFED STEAK

1 round steak, about 1/2 inch thick
3 medium onions
1 1/2 cups minced suet
2 cups stale bread crumbs
1 egg
1 teaspoon sage
1/4 teaspoon fresh ground pepper
1 can sliced mushrooms, drained
hot water and mushroom juice

Cut steak into two pieces half it crosswise not lengthwise)

Chop onions fine, add minced suet, bread crumbs, mushrooms, egg and seasoning. Mix well. Add hot liquid to make moist enough to spread evenly over steak. Roll each piece of steak and use skewer or tie securely. Sear quickly in frying pan in hot margarine. Place in casserole and add 1/2 cup hot liquid. Cover and cook at 325 degrees for approximately 1 1/2 to 2 hours. When done place on hot platter, remove skewer or string. Thicken gravy and serve.

BAKED HAM SLICES

This is so simple and easy its ridiculous and just goes to show you don't have to spend a lot of time to have something good. Joanie W. Conley told me about this and it has been one of my favorite dishes.

Place two center cut slices of ham in a casserole. Open a No. 303 can of fruit cocktail and pour over ham. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I'm hoping to get a part-time job after school this fall. Is it true there's a form I can fill out to stop taxes from being taken out of my pay?

A) Yes, you may avoid having Federal income tax withheld from your pay if certain conditions are met and you give your employer a Form W-4E, Social Security taxes will continue to be withheld, however.

To avoid Federal income tax withholding you must have had no tax liability last year and expect none this year. Under the new tax law, you can earn up to $1,725 before you will owe any tax.

If you meet those conditions, ask your employer for a Form W-4E. It will authorize him to stop Federal income tax withholding on your wages.

Q) Are you allowed any credit or deduction for foreign income taxes paid while working overseas?

A) Yes, you may either list the foreign income taxes paid with your other tax deductions or take a credit for such taxes paid. For details, obtain a free copy of Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for U. S. Citizens and Resident Aliens, by sending a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q) I just got a letter from the local IRS office asking me to bring in my records on deductions. Can the fellow I got to prepare my return come with me?

A) Yes, you may have the person who prepared your return come with you for the audit interview. Remember, however, that you are responsible for the accuracy of all items on the return.

Cancelled checks, receipts and similar records are most helpful in establishing the nature, date and amount of the expense claimed. Taxpayers who keep adequate records have little trouble when their return is examined.

Q) After my father died, my sister and I began supporting our mother. Can we both claim her as our dependent?

A) No, the dependency exemption for your mother cannot be claimed by both you and your sister. However, if either of you provided more than one-half your mother's total support and the other dependency tests are met, then that person can claim the exemption. Also, when two or more persons contribute more than half of the total support of a dependent, one of them who individually contributes more than 10% of it may claim the exemption if the other dependency tests are met. However, each of the other persons must file a written statement that he will not claim the exemption for that year.

Q) I sold some trees on property I own to a lumber company. How do I handle this on my tax return?

A) Such a sale is usually reported as a capital gain or loss. For details on how to handle this on your tax return, send a post card to your IRS district director and ask for a free copy of Publication 544, Sales and Exchanges of Assets.

The Department of Agriculture also has a publication on this subject. It is Handbook No. 274, "The Timber Owner and his Federal Income Tax." It is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402, for 35¢ a copy.

New Bank Holidays

Complying with the Federal Uniform Holiday Act and a similar one endorsed by the state legislature, the Kentucky Department of Banking and Securities recently released the banking holidays to be observed throughout the commonwealth.

Providing for the annual observance of certain legal public holidays on Mondays, the law was passed by the Kentucky legislature on March 16, 1970, without the signature of Governor Nunn.

Banking and Securities Commissioner E. G. Adams noted; "When,ever optional, the choice of closing day in the case of certain minor holidays is discretionary with the bank's management and does not require prior approval by this department."

However, Adams recommended that banks give adequate public notice of their particular closing dates.

Educational Benefits For Families

President Nixon has signed into law new education benefits for wives and children of prisoners of war, and for servicemen who have served 181 days of active duty rather than two years as was previously required. The new benefits became effective Dec. 24, 1970, according to Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson.

The reduction in the active duty requirement to 181 days also applies to the eligibility of servicemen for GI loan guaranty benefits, Johnson said. This broadened eligibility makes it possible for men and women to use their GI Bill benefits sooner while still in military servie, Johnson explained.

Under the new law, the wives and children of those members of the Armed Forces on active duty who have been listed for more than 90 days as missing in action, captured, "or forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power," are eligible for educational benefits.

For apprenticeship and on-the-job training courses under the GI Bill, servicemen are required to take 120 hours of training per month to receive full training allowance, and a lesser number of hours result in a proportionate reduction in the allowance. Full-time training, Johnson explained, contemplates a work week of at least 30 hours unless collective bargaining has established a lesser standard for a work week.

How to visit Grandma without going over the river and through the woods.

Simple. Dial a Lovin' Phone call direct. It's as inviting as homemade apple pie.

First dial "1", then the area code, (if different from your own), then the number.

Dialing long distance direct is faster and easier than going over the river and through the woods. In fact, it's even faster and easier than going through the operator.

And the rates are low every night and all weekend long.

So enjoy your visit. What else that costs so little gives you so much pleasure?

Fradulent Use Of Phone Credit Increasing

Fradulent use of telephone credit cards is an increasing phenomena in many parts of the United States, according to C.A. Harris, local South Central Bell Manager, telephone companies across the nation are well prepared to combat the illegal use of credit devices.

"Some people think the telephone company handles so many calls that a few won't be missed," he said. "Such attempts to defraud the telephone company on long distance calls have increased tremendously in the past two years as the telephone industry increased its long distance calling facilities. However, the point that many people fail to understand," said Harris, "is that the companies have both the ability and the willingness to identify those persons who attempt to defraud the company through such schemes."

Although some people try to cheat by giving a random false credit number or false number to the operator, certain others use well-known numbers which have been passed around among friends and have found wide usage. When such instances occur, these numbers are posted with operators throughout the country.

Recently, nine students from Kentucky Wesleyan and Brescia College in Owensboro, were each fined $203.50 after pleading guilty to a charge of fradulent use of a credit device.

The nine were arrested for charging long distance telephone calls to a credit card number which supposedly belonged to actor Paul Newman. Newman does not have a credit card, and the number used was actually non-existant.

Kentucky law makes such a violation punishable by a maximum penalty of $500 and/or one year in jail. Recent changes in the present statute make the offense a felony if more than $100 is defrauded. The maximum punishment for the felony is a $3,000 fine and/or a five year prison sentence.

"Most people realize they are doing something wrong when they try fraud," pointed out Harris, "but they think they, won't be caught. They don't realize telephone companies investigate unpaid calls and gather evidence against persons who commit fraud."

There are several centralized ticket investigation (CTI) offices which investigate unpaid calls in the South Central Bell territory, Harris explained. These offices find out which unpaid calls charged to false numbers are honest mistakes and which are attempted fraud.

When a CIT office discovers that a caller has given a fradulent number to an operator, it turns the case over to the telephone security department. The security department gathers necessary evidence which may be used in the prosecution of the offender. The security department works with local state and federal law enforcement authorities in connection with the fraudulent use of telephone service.
