America is not a mere body of traders; it is a body of free men. Our greatness is built upon our freedom--is moral, not material.

We have a great ador to gain; but we have a great passion for the rights of man.--Woodrow Wilson

As we walked into the day room there sat Tony Dotson in his wheel chair, dressed up, and reared back like he had "old corn to sell". He had had a promotion; was dressed in snow white shirt and dress pants; had put away his day pajamas.

Ruby Letcher had a few days off and took off to see her new grandson in Jacksonville, N.C.

Roy Barbee of Mason County and Avery of Fleming County, came to see their father, J.B. Said folks in their counties had been watering their tobacco beds because of lack of rain.

Someone had said that George Earlywine's nickname was "Hanegy", but some of his relatives said his real nickname is "Sam."

We are glad to know that Lizzie Ratliff is out of the hospital, much improved. She was at the Methodist revival one night and expects to soon be slinging hash again.

George Sosby has returned from the hospital. Several of his relatives around in the county came to see him, and his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Story of Lexington visited also.

Mrs. Clarence Kash had some interesting pictures of her family in her window. One good looking man musthave been her son, "Sag" of Florida, and a picture of several kodaks; Frances and her grandchildren. Sagster's picture surely looked like his father, the late "young doc" Kash.

Norma Harney of Lexington accompanied by her father, Ruben Cleaver, was around Sunday to see their wife and mother, Mrs. Grace Cleaver.

Serelda Sosby's friends, Irene Helton, Dulcene Stone and her two small children again walked from town Sunday to visit her.

Mrs. Pelfrey was all smiles Sunday for her son and granddaughter of Portsmouth, Ohio came to see her, and brought a box of home papers and magazines.

Mrs. Clarence Bobb of Covington came Saturday along with her sister, Hallie Griffin and they visited Miss "Cookie" Gill, Tony, Mrs. Kenny, Mrs. Eva Blount, and maybe other friends.

The Otte brothers were around Sunday and took their uncle, Landen Stewart along for a drive. Landen took his chewing tobacco with him; said he couldn't do without it.

Herman Conyers has really been going places and doing things the past week. He attended the layman's revival at the Carlisle Methodist Church four nights, and one day he and Barbara Griffin motored down to see his new great-granddaughter, Erin Elizabeth Mathes.

Mrs. Essie Dalzelle had a pretty planter with vines and etc in it on her table, but she couldn't think who sent it from the greenhouse; said she thought her granddaughter, Patsy Clay, sent it from Cincinnati.

A baby-sitter is a teenager who comes in to act like an adult while the adults go out to act like teenagers.

Elmer Frederick plans to go to the local hospital in a few days for minor surgery. He will be 90 on Aug. 1. He said his father lived to be 104, and cleaned out a fence row at that age; went in the house, layed down and passed away.

Mrs. Marjorie Bailey really had the company Sunday. They came from Cynthiana and Lexington; Mrs. Dale Taylor, her sister and nephew, Mike Taylor; daughter Thada Bailey; Martha Crawford and Pinkye McBride. They brought her goodies, newspapers and literature.

Marjorie Brayfield of Lexington came to see her aunt, Miss Cordie Bell. Marjorie had been sick and hadn't been able to come for a while, but is better now.

Mrs. Veda Pelfrey had a beautiful pink hydrangea on her table; said it was from her daughter, Esther. Someone of the family had given her a big magnifying glass.

Mrs. Sosby's daughter, husband, seven grandchildren, grandson-in-law, and only great-grandchild, 15-months-old, Lisa Mitchell of Bourbon County came to see her Sunday.

We haven't had much news from Mrs. Stella Watkins lately, but she's still popular as far as her children and friends are concerned. Lois made her regular bi-monthly visit from Ludlow. The beautiful flower arrangement was from Leona of Georgia. The photo, pretty card and candy were from Virgie and Albert of Florida.

Ardella Thompson's grandmother had surgery in a Lexington hospital, but is much improved.

John Barrett was in our local hospital with a broken leg. May still be there, but we hope not. This was a tractor accident. He and his three grandchildren from Indiana were plowing John's garden.

Alma Waugh Dixon of Lexington sent a pretty card addressed to Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Berry and others. She said she had read about them in the news, and wanted Mrs. Mae to know that she had heard her song, "I'm Singing My Way to Glory" in a church in Illinois.

Rev. Melvin Hunt, minister of the Henryville Methodist Church, said he would soon have his 94th birthday and was beginning to feel his age a little too.

Help us, Lord, to avoid the sin of racism--whether it be yellow, black, red or white. Teach us to see a man as a person, a woman as a person, a child as a person. May we never become misguided and miss the freeway to truly abundant living because we refuse to listen to the directions that come from one whose culture, color, or class may be unlike our own.--George Washington Carver

'Sesame Street' To Be On Saturdays

"Sesame Street," internationally acclaimed children's television program, is now appearing Saturday mornings on the Kentucky Educational Television network.

As of May 1, the street that has taught and entertained millions of children began its Saturday morning five-hour appearance on the Kentucky Educational Television's 13 stations.

"Sesame Street's" Saturday appearance on KET is the first time the network has carried Saturday programming. The show is expected to be carried on the network for 13 weeks.

The five-hour Saturday program, running from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m., E.T., is a replay of the week's "Sesame Street' one-hour shows. The Saturday schedule works like this: Monday's program will run from 8-9, Tuesday's program from 9-10, and on through the five shows.

Because of the overwhelming success of "Sesame Street" and the frequent requests for placing the program on the air during the weekend, KET has expanded its television week.

Mrs. Donna Turner, director of programming, referred to the Saturday "Sesame" as a pilot. She said KET will be especially interested in seeing "what the recreation is."

Two Awarded Honors At MSU

Dudley Hawkey of New Madison, Ohio, and Don Butler, Mays Lick, received the major awards at Morehead State University's 1971 Academic Honors Day.

Hawkey, a senior and outgoing student body president, accepted the President's Cup, MSU's highest recognition for student leadership. Dr. Adron Doran made the presentation, only the third such award in his 17-years as president.

Butler, a graduate student, was presented the Open Forum Citizenship Award for superior performances in all areas of college life.

He also received scholarship and outstanding student awards from Sigma Delta, health, physical education and recreation honorary.

Upper 3 Percent Honored At UK

Forty-eight University of Kentucky students from the Bluegrass area of the Commonwealth were honored at Awards Night 1971 presented April 4 by the University of Kentucky Student Center Board.

The students were honored for being in the upper three per cent of their respective colleges.

Students from local areas are; Roger Dean Shepherd, sophomore physics and/or astronomy major, Millersburg; Steve Lewis Cross, freshman chemical engineering major, Route 5, Paris; James H. Hays III, senior electrical engineering major, Route 1, Carlisle; Elaine Gay Schandig, sophomore home economics major, Route 3, Carlisle; Jimmy Clark Wilson, senior civil engineering major, Route 2, Paris.

France is only four-fifths as large as Texas, but it supports one-fourth as many people as the entire United States, the National Geographic Society says.

The Political Fat Cats are a little nervous these days.

They have good reason to be. Wendell Ford is coming on strong. Every day it is becoming more and more evident that he'll be Kentucky's next governor. And that means that he'll be following through on his pledge to rid Kentucky of the cheap politics and favoritism that has cost Kentucky taxpayers millions.

Wendell Ford is a young man, an energetic man. A man who has the courage to break with the political past. He led the fight to remove the sales tax from medicine. He has pledged to examine Kentucky tax laws and take the load off the people. He has looked the strip mine operators in the eye and said that when he becomes governor he will strengthen and enforce strip mine laws. He has pledged an anti-pollution and environment committee that is comprised of average citizens—not industrialists and polluters who have an axe to grind.

Isn't it time the people had a Governor? Wendell Ford . . . a strong voice, a clear head.

A FIGHTER FOR PEOPLE.
