

12—THE CARLISLE (KY.) Sen. Cook's bill would shorten daylight time

Senator Marlow Cook announced last week he had reached an agreement on Oct. 25 with opponents of his bill to shorten the period of daylight saving time.

Senator Norris Cotton (N.H.) and Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) and John C. Pastore (R. Ill.) through a parliamentary tactic, blocked the bill being considered in the Senate even though it had been reported favorably by the Commerce Committee and had been placed on the Senate calendar of business.

Senator Cook said, "I have made agreements with all those that had any reservation about the bill. We are going to debate the time bill some time in January, 1972."

The Senator again expressed his concern for school children affected by daylight saving time by having to go to school in the dark hours. He said he thought he would be successful in getting the bill through the Senate this year.

Training session
held by LVCAP

A four-day training session was held Oct. 25, through Oct. 29 in the assembly room of the new Owingsville Library for members of the Policy Advisory Committee of the Emergency Food and Medical Services Program. The EFMS program is funded by U.S.D.A. and sponsored by the Licking Valley Community Action Program, Inc.

The EFMS program relates to commodities, food stamps, school lunch, school breakfast, meals on wheels and medical programs that are connected directly to starvation, hunger and malnutrition.

All eight counties of LVCAP were represented. Those attending from Nicholas County were F.A.M.S. members: Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mrs. Lucille Williams, Mrs. Jewell Russell and Mrs. Catherine Burdow. Also attending were Mrs. Lois S. Allison and Mrs. Bernice McClanahan.

1972 feed grain program opens many choices

Details of the feed grain programs for 1972 were announced in mid-October by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The 1972 wheat program had been announced by USDA in mid-July. Essentially the 1972 set-aside programs expand on the policy of leaving to farmers the determination of what "mix" of crops to plant on their farms. At the same time the programs are designed to increase farm income, help farmers get maximum return on investment, and reduce excess carryover supplies, Mr. Wagner said.

For feed grains, the 1972 program raises the qualifying set-aside to 25 percent of the base acreage and offers farmers two new options for additional voluntary set-aside. It also raises the feed grain set-aside payment included in the 1972 Feed Grain Program as corn, grain sorghum and barley.

A wider choice in making their 1972 plans is offered to farmers with feed grain bases or wheat allotments since they may sign up for program participation and plant soybeans and grain sorghum, barley or wheat, or singly or in any combination. Wheat may be planted on farm base or allotment history.

As in 1971, set-aside wheat is put on limits on crop acreages. On feed grain crop participating in the program, loans will be available on all production, with national average loan levels of $1.08 per bushel for No. 2 corn, $1.79 per hundredweight for soybeans, and $0.85 cents per bushel for barley.

The loan level for soybeans will continue at $2.25 per bushel for oats at 54 cents per bushel, and for rye at 80 cents per bushel. All soybean, oats and rye production for 1972 will be guaranteed under the feed grain set-aside program for 1972. Mr. Wagner cited provisions as follows:

For corn—farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 percent of their farm's corn base, for which they will earn payments of 80 cents a bushel on the established farm yield times the acreage set-aside.

At sign-up, a farmer may also, if he chooses, agree to set aside up to 10 percent more of his corn base, for which he will receive payment of 52 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.

To assure that sufficient land is taken out of production, Secretary Clifford M. Hardin is asking farmers, also at sign-up, to offer to set aside an additional 5 or 10 percent, at the 52-cent-a-bushel rate. If the regular set-aside is less than 38 million acres the Secretary of Agriculture will announce by mid-March whether one or both of these offers will be accepted.

For grain sorghum—The details are the same as for corn, except that the base will be 76 cents a bushel, and the payment rate will be 49 cents a bushel for the 10 percent additional voluntary diversion and for the 5 or 10 percent offer, if accepted.

For barley—Farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 percent of their corn base, for which they will earn payments of 64 cents a bushel on the established farm yield times acreage set-aside. At sign-up a farmer may agree, if he chooses, to set aside up to 20 percent more of his barley base, for which he will receive payment of 42 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.

Farmers have many choices to make in the 1972 Set-Aside Programs, emphasized Harvey Wagner, director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

First of all, he said, is the underscore it on their calendars right now.

Detailing the soon as official detailed program information is received in the County ASCS Office, we will get it out to farmers via mail, meetings, and all news channels. Phone calls, visits and letters of inquiry from farmers will be welcome.

Regional planning program, statewide

Kentucky's Regional Planning Program became statewide reality on Thursday evening, Oct. 28, 1971, with the formation of the Bluegrass Area Development District.

The organizational meeting of the Bluegrass ADD, county judges, mayors and lay leaders from seventeen Central Kentucky counties formally adopted the Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws of the multi-county organization. Formed as a non-profit organization under the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the Bluegrass Area Development District will become the framework for joint Federal, state, and local planned development efforts in Anderson, Bourbon, Boyle, Clark, Elliott, Fayette, Franklin, Garrard, Madison, Mercer, Nicholas, Powell, Scott, and Woodford counties.

Representing Nicholas County on the Bluegrass Area Development District Board of Directors are: Floyd Clark, County Judge; William Flower, Mayor of Carlisle; Russell Hamilton, Citizen member.

Joseph M. Gray, Administrator of the Kentucky Program Development Office, the State Planning Agency, commended the group for their demonstrated leadership and willingness to work together for the improvement of their area of the Commonwealth. Gray traced the history of the Kentucky Area Development Districts, and pointed out to the group that with the formation of the Bluegrass Area Development District, Kentucky's multi-county districts would be completely established. Gray stated, "The milestone we observe today has required the continued support of leaders, such as you, from across the Commonwealth. Because of your efforts, Kentucky now has an effective framework for planned development. Future Kentuckians can and will benefit from your action."

The district's sixty-seven member Board of Directors elected Judge Robert Stephens, County Judge of Fayette County, as its first chairman. Other officers elected were: Judge B. L. Brandenburg of Elliott County, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Donald Evans of Georgetown, Secretary; and Mayor Melvin Hampton of Cynthiana, Treasurer. The ADD's Executive Board was also elected. The Board is comprised of seventeen members, with each county being represented on the Board. Members of the Executive Board include: Judge Stephens, Fayette County; Judge Brandenburg, Elliott County; Mrs. Donald Evans, Scott County; Mayor Hampton, Harrison County; Mayor William Flower, Nicholas County; Kenneth Hopkins, Anderson County; Mayor Charles Cary, Mercer County; Mayor Billy Moss, Garrard County; Mrs. Jim Gaines, Woodford County; James King, Powell County; Marshall McCann, Clark County; Mayor C. C. Hensley, Madison County; J. M. Alverston, Jr., Bourbon County; Mayor Roy Arnold, Boyle County; Charles Pennington, Franklin County; Mayor's Shelby Combs, Jessamine County; and Lowell Atwood, Lincoln County.

In other business, the group named a committee to discuss the selection of staff for the newly organized Bluegrass Area Development District.
