

The Carlisle Mercury

THE MERCURY
289-
2464

ASC election details released

Full details are now available to Nicholas County farmers on the upcoming election of ASC community committees by close of business Oct. 27. Chairman of the Nicholas County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, ASC community committees elections this year will be held Dec. 1. The ballot farmers will use to elect three regular members and two alternates to ASC committees will be mailed out about Nov. 19. A special effort is being made to make sure every eligible voter in the County receives a ballot. "We would like farmers to 'voice their choice' for good committee candidates who will effectively serve all the farmers in their community without regard to race, color, creed, sex, or national origin," Mr. Wagener said.

ASC community committees elections this year will be held Dec. 1. The ballot farmers will use to elect three regular members and two alternates to ASC committees will be mailed out about Nov. 19. A special effort is being made to make sure every eligible voter in the County receives a ballot. "We would like farmers to 'voice their choice' for good committee candidates who will effectively serve all the farmers in their community without regard to race, color, creed, sex, or national origin," Mr. Wagener said.

School Boards advised to improve public relations, taxpayer part of team KSBA head Detrick says

"School boards must find a way to work more closely with all the people. When the taxpayer is part of a team, looking at the needs of our schools and possible solutions, he appreciates the need for action," according to Scott C. Detrick, president of the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA). Detrick, a member of the Louisville Board of Education, was speaking to 120 school board members and administrators attending the annual dinner meeting of KSBA's Central Kentucky Region at the Holiday Inn North in Lexington Wednesday evening (Oct. 26).

Nicholas County School Superintendent D. P. Paraley and the five school board members attended the meeting. The board members are H. S. Willis, Ray Wagener, Billy Ray Hunter, William Dampier, and Howard Livingston. School-community relations should be a year-round project, Detrick advised, and the public should be constantly informed of the problems as well as the virtues of their public schools. He recommended the use of citizens advisory councils to improve communications between school boards and the public.

Also discussed at the meeting were school finance, vocational and special education, year-round schools, public kindergarten, school personnel relations and school legislation to be considered by the 1972 Kentucky General Assembly. KSBA Vice President Robert E. Allen, a member of the Newport school board, warned the school officials that a proposed state law granting collective bargaining privileges to teachers "would remove control of the schools from the public's elected representatives—school boards—and turn it over to teacher organizations, who are not answerable to our citizens."

KSBA Executive Director Maurice D. Bennett reviewed the state association's legislative program for 1972 and compared it to the programs of the Kentucky Forum for Education and the Joint Legislative Committee on Education, two coalitions of state education and civic organizations, including KSBA. The association's legislative proposals ask that the percentage of the state's total personal income that is spent for elementary and secondary schools be increased to at least the average percentage spent by the other states. Bennett noted that this would still not enable Kentucky to equal national averages in per pupil expenditures, teacher salaries, etc., because "the average income of the people of Kentucky is not equal to the average income of the people of the 50 states."

But he said he felt "Kentuckians are able—and should be willing—to make at least the 'national average effort' for their children and youth." Herbert D. Liebman, a member of the Franklin County Board of Education, was elected chairman of KSBA's Central Kentucky Region for 1972. He is presently serving as regional vice chairman, and will assume the chairmanship in January.

Local girls are invited to enter Miss Kentucky U. S. A. Pageant

The Miss Kentucky U.S.A. Pageant will be held on Jan. 15, 1972, Paducah Filigian Auditorium, Paducah. The Ramada Inn will be the host hotel. The winner will represent Kentucky in the National Miss U.S.A. Pageant, which is held in California in 1972 and will receive a scholarship and other prizes. Entrants must be 18 years of age but not more than 26 years of age by May, 1972. No talent is required.

Contestants will be judged on poise, personality, intelligence, charm and beauty of face and figure. Potential contestants are requested to write or telephone the executive director, Mrs. J. W. Shaffer, Suite 1404, 215 Piedmont Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30311, or the Paducah Jaycee, P.O. Box 178, Paducah, Ky. 42001.

Miss Patricia Barnstable of Louisville is the current Miss Kentucky U.S.A. and was fourth runner-up to Miss U.S.A. this year.

Legion supper Saturday The American Legion and Auxiliary will sponsor a vegetable soup and oyster soup supper, Saturday, Oct. 30, 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend and help support the club. A small fee will be charged.

County are: Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP), Wheat and Feed Grants Program, Wool Incentive Program and Burroughs Tobacco Payout Program. A farm owner, tenant, or absentee-proprietor, 18 years old or older, is eligible to vote if he can participate in any ASCS program administered in the community where his farm is located. If he is not of legal voting age, he may vote in the ASC election if he supervises and conducts the farming operation on an entire farm. If he is a wife, he may vote if her name is listed on the Farm Deed or if she is listed in the Tenant Contract.

Mr. Wagener said that any farmer who has not received a ballot by Nov. 24 should apply for it at the County Office. A list of known eligible voters in Nicholas County is available for inspection at the county ASCS Office, East Main Street.

AWARD The Nicholas County Soil Conservation District was the Area winner of the Goodway award program. This area is composed of 20 counties in Central Kentucky. A plaque was presented to Chairman Edgar Allen Darrell of the Nicholas County Soil Conservation District during the 28th annual convention of Soil Conservation Districts of Kentucky held at Kentucky Dam Village State Park, Gilbertsville, by H. Jones.

Gates, Grimes attend meeting

Mrs. Lois Gates, ART and Mrs. Frances Grimes attended the Kentucky Medical Record Association Regional meeting Oct. 7 and 8 at Cumberland Falls State Park. The main topic was Work Simplification with no ideas on how to handle the rapidly increasing paper work loads in the medical field. Mrs. Linda Platt was unable to attend due to illness. Mrs. Gates served as the Johnson-Mather Nursing Home and Nicholas County Hospital as Supervisor.

Jaycee's annual fund raising party at Army November 13

The Carlisle Jaycees at their last meeting set the date for the annual Turkey Party and Christmas Parade. The Turkey Party, under the chairmanship of Gary Hurst, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 13, at the Army. Christmas Parade chairman Tom Metcalfe announced that this year's parade, Thursday, Dec. 2. This year's parade theme will be "Christmas International" and area high school bands and local church and civic organizations are being contacted to participate.

Among other business was a pledge of 1¢ per member to the East Pakistan Refugee Relief Fund, this project being chaired by the club's newest member, Jaswant Goobar, native of India who is teaching at the local high school. A report was made on the progress of the new Jaycee club in Millerburg being started through the efforts of the Carlisle Jaycees. The Millerburg Jaycees have 16 members and have elected officers, with several projects already planned.

The community surveys are all in and the results are being tabulated and will be announced in 1972. It was voted to start a program to deal with local street corrections, and Bill Hopkins was appointed chairman of the committee. Work was made on the new Governmental Affairs project by charging it to coordinate Jaycee coverage of City Council meetings. Bob Hanson will cover Board of Education meetings. Dr. Allen Hopkins will cover Fiscal Court meetings, and Gayle Kelly in charge of Jaycee publicity.

External vice-president Jim Hall announced plans for collection of the balance of the unpaid horse taxes about accounts. Little League Football chairman Bill Donovan announced plans for the participation in the program; that the Blue Jets are currently 3-1 and enjoying a very successful season, and announced the schedule for the remainder of the season. Bob Hanson gave a presentation on the new Mose and Dave Williams of the Lexington club. Shattered all house change in cash registers and some cigarette vending machines. A major recreational complex in Nicholas County,

According to S.R. Barlow, publicity chairman for the Nicholas County Tobacco Festival, the Festival, planned for Nov. 4 will be one of the best ever. Several changes have been made in the program. There will be no class for tips. The best crop and best handled crop will only need to have the four grades including Flings, Lugs, Bright Leaf and Red Leaf. All Nicholas County growers including 4-H club members and FFA members are urged to exhibit local prizes of $200 will be presented to winners. Door prizes will also be donated by local business people and given to the lucky winners during the night program.

The program will be televised during the afternoon. A youth judging contest will be held at 2 o'clock. The Adams family, from Mason County, winners of a recent talent contest in this area, will entertain during the night program. The Festival is sponsored by interested tobacco growers, and by tobacco warehouses and local business people. Festival programs will be available in business places, ASCS Office, Extension Office or from any of the festival committee members.

Rev. Kamlage elected to represent area priests

The Rev. Herman B. Kamlage, Administrator of the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe, has been elected to represent the Blue Grass area priests of the Diocese of Covington on the Diocesan Priest's Council for the next three years. This council serves as an advisory board to Bishop Richard H. Ackerman in matters pertaining to the priesthood and priestly administration. Father Kamlage replaces the Rev. David H. Zimmerman, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Frankfort, past president of the council. Father Kamlage was elected unanimously from among the 35 priests of the area comprising Bourbon, Clark, Fayette, Franklin, Harrison, Jessamine, Nicholas, Scott and Woodford counties. In addition to his administrative and council positions, Father Kamlage is also president of the Nicholas County Ministerial Association, president of the church sponsored Carlisle Nicholas County Housing Commission which sponsors the Veterans Hill Apartments, and is secretary-treasurer of the newly formed Housing Authority of the City of Carlisle.

Jaycee to provide vote transportation

The Carlisle Jaycees, as part of their "Get Out The Vote" campaign will provide transportation to the polls on Nov. 2. Anyone needing transportation is urged to call David Zachary (289-2734), Bill Hopkins (289-2491) or Jack Conley (289-3162).

Pricks off Treaty precautions given by Health Department

As Halloween approaches, adults may find this old Scottish prayer useful. But perhaps those most in need of protection on trick-or-treat night will be the ghouls and ghouettes themselves. To help make your child and other youngsters safe on their ghouly-getting expeditions, the Nicholas County Health Department suggests the following precautions: In outfitting your child, see that his mask does not interfere with his vision. Don't let him wear sunglasses, for they reduce his ability to see at night. Give him a light-colored costume or a dark one with reflective tape or paint on it so that drivers can see him. Be sure his costume fits well enough so that he will not trip on it or catch on a tree limb or fence. If his costume is not already flameproof, make sure it is by dipping it into a solution of warm water (three quarts), borax (½ cup), and borax (one and three eighths). Don't let him carry any sharp or flame-ill items, but do try to provide him with a flashlight for poorly lighted areas. Instruct your child to watch out for items over which he might trip; to stop, look and listen before crossing streets; not to take short cuts through yards or alleys; to stay in or near his own neighborhood; not to eat and unappetizing food until you have checked them. If your child is small, an adult or older child should accompany him. If you remain at home, turn porch and yard lights on so visitors

ing beasts can see better. Put toys, tools and miscellaneous yard clutter away to prevent tripping accidents. If you drive on trick-or-treat night, watch out for children darting into your path. Drive more slowly than usual so you can stop quickly if necessary. If you observe those precautions, your little ghoulie should have a safe Halloween.

About one-sixth get government social security

How large a segment of the population in Nicholas County derives all or part of its income from the Federal, state or local government? As in other parts of the country, the proportion of local residents receiving income from such sources is large. According to computations made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization that reports the fiscal aspects of government, about 72.8 million people in the United States—more than a third of the nation's population—are getting income from public treasuries. This covers only those who are receiving private income support. Not included are private institutions and individuals who are being aided by such special purpose programs as farm support, scholarships, job training and other assistance. The largest single category of Nicholas County residents whose support comes from government, Continued on page 16 to the lucky winners during the night program. The program will be televised during the afternoon. A youth judging contest will be held at 2 o'clock. The Adams family, from Mason County, winners of a recent talent contest in this area, will entertain during the night program. The Festival is sponsored by interested tobacco growers, and by tobacco warehouses and local business people. Festival programs will be available in business places, ASCS Office, Extension Office or from any of the festival committee members.

The Rev. Herman B. Kamlage, Administrator of the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe, has been elected to represent the Blue Grass area priests of the Diocese of Covington on the Diocesan Priest's Council for the next three years. This council serves as an advisory board to Bishop Richard H. Ackerman in matters pertaining to the priesthood and priestly administration.

Association, president of the church sponsored Carlisle Nicholas County Housing Commission which sponsors the Veterans Hill Apartments, and is secretary-treasurer of the newly formed Housing Authority of the City of Carlisle.

Jaycee to provide vote transportation

The Carlisle Jaycees, as part of their "Get Out The Vote" campaign will provide transportation to the polls on Nov. 2. Anyone needing transportation is urged to call David Zachary (289-2734), Bill Hopkins (289-2491) or Jack Conley (289-3162).

Pricks off Treaty precautions given by Health Department

As Halloween approaches, adults may find this old Scottish prayer useful. But perhaps those most in need of protection on trick-or-treat night will be the ghouls and ghouettes themselves. To help make your child and other youngsters safe on their ghouly-getting expeditions, the Nicholas County Health Department suggests the following precautions: In outfitting your child, see that his mask does not interfere with his vision. Don't let him wear sunglasses, for they reduce his ability to see at night. Give him a light-colored costume or a dark one with reflective tape or paint on it so that drivers can see him. Be sure his costume fits well enough so that he will not trip on it or catch on a tree limb or fence. If his costume is not already flameproof, make sure it is by dipping it into a solution of warm water (three quarts), borax (½ cup), and borax (one and three eighths). Don't let him carry any sharp or flame-ill items, but do try to provide him with a flashlight for poorly lighted areas. Instruct your child to watch out for items over which he might trip; to stop, look and listen before crossing streets; not to take short cuts through yards or alleys; to stay in or near his own neighborhood; not to eat and unappetizing food until you have checked them. If your child is small, an adult or older child should accompany him. If you remain at home, turn porch and yard lights on so visitors

ing beasts can see better. Put toys, tools and miscellaneous yard clutter away to prevent tripping accidents. If you drive on trick-or-treat night, watch out for children darting into your path. Drive more slowly than usual so you can stop quickly if necessary. If you observe those precautions, your little ghoulie should have a safe Halloween.

About one-sixth get government social security

How large a segment of the population in Nicholas County derives all or part of its income from the Federal, state or local government? As in other parts of the country, the proportion of local residents receiving income from such sources is large. According to computations made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization that reports the fiscal aspects of government, about 72.8 million people in the United States—more than a third of the nation's population—are getting income from public treasuries. This covers only those who are receiving private income support. Not included are private institutions and individuals who are being aided by such special purpose programs as farm support, scholarships, job training and other assistance. The largest single category of Nicholas County residents whose support comes from government, Continued on page 16

28

100

28