Gov. Nunn names 'Outstanding Older Citizen'

Gov. Louie B. Nunn named state finalist Commissioner Albert Christen Kentucky's outstanding older citizen for 1971 at a meeting of Kentucky's delegates to the November White House Conference on Aging.

Recognizing Christen as "one who has made major contributions to the state and is continuing to do so," Governor Nunn granted Christen for his concern with the aged as well as youth, economic and domestic affairs, and for demonstrating "the finest moral character and highest personal integrity." Selected as the state's outstanding senior citizen, Christen is Kentucky's nominee for the Outstanding Older Citizen award.

'No Hunting' period set

No period of 17 days, the first 17 of November, has been declared a "no hunting" period for either protected or unprotected wildlife, with two exceptions, Arnold Mitchell, commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, reminded today.

The exceptions—the five-day gun deer season which opens Nov. 13 and extends through Nov. 17, and the first three days of the state-wide goose hunting season which opens Nov. 15. During these designated periods deer and geese may be hunted in their respective seasons, Mitchell pointed out, but no other wildlife may be hunted.

Reason for this, Mitchell said, is to help conservation officers to eliminate the pre-season rabbit, quail, squirrel and grouse hunting. The legal seasons open in November which is the 18th this year. The no hunting ban is a continuation of a policy set several years ago. By outlawing hunting for all species except those designated, the law enforces the idea that a good case when a person is apprehended in the field or on the streams with a hunting rifle or shotgun in his possession.

Prior to the invoking of this regulation, illegal hunters had posed as crow or grouse hunters in the few days before the legal season opening and unless they actually had game in their possession, they could make their pleas stick in the courts. This eliminates the loophole, Mitchell said, in alerting hunters to stay out of the fields on the first 17 days of November.
