venue and Finance and other agencies of state government in the middle of a fiscal year has the administrative ability, responsibility and authority to present a revenue and budget proposal that can produce the removal of the sales tax on food for home consumption, and the imposition of a severance tax on minerals." He theorized, "This kind of detailed administrative research and budget work must have already been prepared by Gov. Nunn's administration for his candidate, Mr. Emberton. But if not, Mr. Emberton is purposely misleading the public in a desperate attempt to be elected." The Lt. Gov. cited a collapse of the Republican economic game plan which has resulted in price and wage freezes. "It appears that the poor and the workman are going to have to bear the cost of the recovery, just as they have been forced to

Sen. Palmer, Rep. Hinkle Named To Ford-Carroll Committee

Two members of the Kentucky General Assembly who represent Nicholas County have been named to the statewide Ford-Carroll committee for Ford-Carroll. It was announced last week by Walter Deo Huddleston, Democratic campaign chairman.

The two are Sen. Wilson Palmer, Cynthiana, and Rep. Brooks Hinkle, Paris. Co-chairmen of the committee are Rep. William G. Kenyon and Sen. William L. Sullivan, Henderson.

MSU Horse Show

Owingsville is the ring announcer, and ringmasters are Roger Wilson and Bill Pierce of MSU, Mrs. Adron Doyan is the organizer, and Dr. William Holbrook of West Liberty is the veterinarian. A total of $1,450 in prize money will be presented, including a $50 cash prize for the walking horse championship, MSU President and Mrs. Adron Doyan will present the championship trophy.

Trophies from the show will be used for scholarships. All riders in Class I, for riders under six with adults leading the ponies, will receive trophies, and there is no entry fee for this class. Trophies will be awarded to the winners of the other 13 classes, and the top four entries in those classes will receive cash prizes. Some fifth place entries will receive ribbons, while others will receive cash.

For further information about the show, contact the MSU Ag Club, Box 1304, MSU, Morehead, Ky. 40351 or call 606/783-3306. The Owensboro Democrat said in 1968 he advised Nunn to exempt food and medicine from his sales tax. Nunn, Ford added, was joined by Emberton in opposition to any exemption. He thought against his position in 1968, Ford recalled, "and we removed the sales tax from farm machinery. I fought against his position in 1970, and we took the sales tax off medicine and intra-family car transfers." Ford noted that in this election year Emberton, with Nunn's blessing, has come around to his 1968 position. He said the session should be brief, but it was time to show good faith offer to the people rather than making campaign promises as he recalled Nunn did in 1967 and subsequently performed in a different manner.

Survey Says County Has a Sturdy Market

The final figures for the past year's show that, for Nicholas County, it was neither the best of times nor the worst, in terms of business activity.

Although the year was not conducive to record-breaking, what was the recession, inflation and unemployment to contend with, the local market was stronger than most. Personal incomes and consumer buying in the area, compared with corresponding figures from other communities, were good.

The findings are contained in a new, copyrighted study released by Sales Management, the marketing publication, entitled "Survey of Buying Power."

For the Nicholas County population as a whole, it shows, incomes were at a high level in the year. The total amount available to local residents for discretionary spending, after payment of their taxes, came to $14,686,000, as against the previous year's $12,876,000.

What this represented for the individual family, was determined by dividing the total income by the number of households. The average was $4,675, an increase over the prior $4,438.

The rise 5.7 percent, was more than in the rest of the State of Kentucky, 2.1 percent. What did local residents do with their bigger incomes? To a considerable extent, inflation took care of that matter.

That was the involuntary part. Voluntarily, consumers in the area, as those elsewhere, were more restrained than usual in their spending. They put the surplus into savings.

However, they were in the market place in sufficient strength to make it a good year for retail merchants.

As a result, local stores accounted for gross sales of $5,861,000, as against the previous year's $5,727,000.

The survey rates each community on the amount of money actually spent in its retail stores as compared with the estimated amount, based upon several factors, that might have been spent. It is called the "index of buying power."

The index rating for Nicholas County is .0022, indicating that it is capable of producing the percentage of the nation's retail business.

Because it accounted for less than that last year, .0016 percent, the determination is that some of the local business potential has not yet been realized.

help launch the new product. Additional promotion will be conducted during October, which is National Cheese Month. The initial product is being packaged by the Ouday Company in Harrodsburg. The one-pound packages are recognized by the colorful and distinctive label which notes that the product is "made in Kentucky."

While much more publicity will be given this product in the upcoming weeks, we of the Department of Agriculture are highly pleased that this Kentucky labeled product is now on the market. We also appreciate the cooperation in the ADA and the cheese industry, which has enabled us to launch this project.

While Kentucky ranks fifth nationally in cheese production, we are first among the South Central States. 72% of the nation's cheese supply is produced in the states of Wisconsin, Missouri, Minnesota, Iowa and Kentucky.

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture has been working for a number of years with the American Dairy Association of Kentucky and cheese manufacturers in an attempt to get a Kentucky labeled cheese label which enables us to note for its fine cheese. The Department of Agriculture regularly receives inquiries on where Kentucky cheese might be purchased.

Through the cooperation of a Frankfort supermarket a "kick-off" promotion was held recently. Mary Lois Keplinger, Kentucky Dairy Products, was on hand to
