County homemakers meet

The Morehead Homemakers met Sept. 2 at the home of Mrs. C. Gertrude Vice, with Mrs. J. Angus Glenn as co-hostess.

Mrs. Adron Doran, as KFWC head, honored at Center

The opening this month of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington is of special significance to Mrs. Adron Doran, the First Lady of Morehead State University.

Two seats in the Center's concert hall were financed with funds raised by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs while Mrs. Doran was the group's state president from 1962-1964.

Each of the seats is marked with a plaque saluting Mrs. Doran and the more than 250 members clubs of the KFWC who helped raise the money.

This certainly is a gratifying occasion for all of the club women in Kentucky who worked so diligently to demonstrate their deep interest in cultural activities.

"I know that all who participated in our project are proud today of their labor on behalf of the arts, Mrs. Doran said.

The KFWC raised more than $100,000 for various charitable causes during Mrs. Doran's two-year term.

A clear coat of dull varnish over an antique finish will protect the old look. If extra protection is needed on pieces such as tables, apply several coats of varnish, sanding lightly in between with fine sandpaper.

One of the greatest advantages in antiquing painted surfaces, Miss Bartlett said, is that if the homemaker doesn't succeed in achieving the desired effect with the first coat, she can try again. The entire piece can be washed with turpentine before it has dried and another coat applied with a slightly different formula.

Lesson on contour toupes. These are the things, when done properly, that make homemade clothes look professional.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Lida Mae Wade, president; Mrs. W.C. Irvin, vice president; and membership chairman, Mrs. Frank Henry, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Wilmer Halcomb, publicity chairman.

The club will meet again Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. W.J. Clark, with Mrs. Pauline Clark as co-hostess, on Oct. 7.

Mrs. D. P. Paraley was hostess to the Parks Homemakers Sept. 7 at her home on the Carpenter Road. Devotional was given by Mrs. Horace Bell, the president. Mrs. Francis Wasson presided.

A reading, "Cutting the Apron Strings" was presented by Mrs. Wasson. Due to the absence of the leader the lesson, "Culture Touches" was discussed by those present.

The club is to make Christmas favors for the hospital and nursing home.

There were six members present. Miss Sandra Sinton attended as a visitor. The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at the home of Mrs. Wasson.

Carlisle West Homemakers met Sept. 9. Mrs. Frank Henry was hostess and Mrs. Albert Henry, co-hostess. The secretary read the minutes. There were 14 members present and two new members reported. Mrs. H.A. Dancy and Mrs. Oliver Vice. A very interesting poem was read by Mrs. W.C. Irvin. Mrs. Crimes Kaywood gave a few hints on how to care for antiques. During the meeting, Mrs. Lida Mae Wade, president, asked the members if anyone was interested in attending the Ice Festival at Cincinnati, Ohio.
