Kay's Kitchen

— — By Kay Fisher

School may have started for your children, but that does not necessarily mean a return to longer cooking time for you. Not that I am trying to out-guess the weather, I gave that up long ago, but there will be, I hope, many more summer-like days. On cool days in July I made vegetable soup so I am going to be ready to make and serve cool salads in September.

The following salads can be a major part of a meal, or even a meal when served with hot breads and a dessert.

VEGETABLE SALAD

Make a marinade of:
3/4 cup vinegar
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup cold water (you may want more or less depending on how tart you like your salad)
6 tablespoons salad oil
Blend thoroughly and add the following:
1 can peas, drained
1 jar pimentoes, (I use canned pieces)
1 large cucumber, thinly sliced
4 or 5 ribs of celery cut into bite size pieces
1 large can cut green beans, drained
1 large sweet onion, sliced and separated into rings
1 large green pepper, cut into thin strips.

Marinate overnight in refrigerator before serving. Serve in serving dishes or on lettuce. Use slotted spoon to serve. You may add more vegetables to the marinade as the vegetables are used. You might like to experiment and try other vegetables.

GARDEN SALAD

2 packages of cream cheese
1 onion, grated
1 can condensed tomato soup
2 packages gelatin
1 cup mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups celery, finely cut
1 medium green pepper finely diced
5 small carrots, grated
dash of salt

Melt cheese in double boiler with tomato soup; add gelatin and cool. Add mayonnaise, vegetables and salt. Put in molds and refrigerate.

MOLDED CREAMED CHICKEN SALAD

1 1/2 teaspoons gelatin soaked in 2 tablespoons strained lemon juice, then dissolve in 1/4 cup boiling water. When cool add 1/2 cup mayonnaise. Fold in 1/2 cup cream, whipped. Put this in refrigerator until thick and then add 4 cups diced chicken and 1 cup finely diced celery and 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

Taste for salt and you might like to add a dash of worchestershire sauce. Add a bit of chopped parsley for color. Fill molds and refrigerate until set. Serve on crisp bib lettuce and garnish with sliced hard cooked eggs and sliced ripe olives.

Serve with hot cheese biscuits, and you will have a delightful lunch.

GERMAN POTATO SALAD

8 medium potatoes boiled in their skins
1 stalk celery
2 hard cooked eggs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 onion diced
6 slices breakfast bacon, cooked crisp (use drippings)

Boil potatoes, peel, dice; add diced celery, sliced hard boiled eggs, onion, and parsley.

Beat 2 eggs and add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 tablespoon salt, 1/2 tablespoon pepper and 1/4 tablespoon dry mustard. Mix well. Pour mixture slowly into warm bacon fat, stir until mixture thickens. You may have to heat bacon fat to make mixture thicken. Pour over potato mixture and mix well. Add crisp bacon, broken into small pieces. Let marinate several hours before serving. It is better if served at room temperature.

PINEAPPLE DELIGHT

1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
1 package lime gelatin
1 pint cottage cheese
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 cup cream, whipped
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, or 1 doz. chopped maraschino cherries
1 cup pecans chopped

Strain pineapple and add enough water to make 1 cup. Heat and dissolve the gelatin in the hot juice. Cool. Fold in the cottage cheese, mayonnaise, whipped cream, add the pineapple, pecans and the green peppers or cherries, whichever you prefer. The cherries naturally make a sweeter salad. I think most men would prefer the green pepper.

Put in large greased mold or individual molds, about eight.

TWO LAYER SALAD

Bottom layer: Melt 1 No. 2 can cranberry sauce. Add 1/2 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup chopped pecans.

1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in 1/2 cup cold water. Pour into 8x10 pan and let congeal.

Top layer: 1 cup hot chicken broth, 2/3 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups diced chicken, 1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in 1/2 cup cold water. When cold, pour over bottom layer and congeal. Make the day before using.

One of the highlights in the current production of Paul Green's outdoor historical drama "Wilderness Road" at Berea, Ky., is the square dance scene, celebrating in traditional Appalachian fashion the homecoming of John Freeman. Taking the stage are the leads of the play, Derlece McKeeman as Elsie Sims and Phil Lanier as John Freeman. Providing authentic, period music in this highly praised musical play of the Civil War are Lewis (fiddle), Donna (guitar) and Dewey (banjo) Lamb. Behind them are guitarists Robert Tincher and David Thacker. Performances for the 1972 season will continue through Sept. 4, with presentations nightly, Tuesday through Sunday, at 8:30 p.m. in the company's Indian Fort Theatre, Berea, Ky. Tickets and information may be obtained by writing "Wilderness Road," CPO Box 2355, Berea, Ky. 40403 or by telephoning (606) 986-9403.
