Just been cleared this year. This has to be done periodically. Applicants are required to take tests and meet the standard of requirements under the categories in which they seek a job. Salaries of the permit officers range from $6,996 a year to $8,940.

The test had for requirements of the job (a high school diploma). Most jobs of this type, like the aides under Nunn, are not required to pass the time clock. Some may be operating a business of their own which doesn't require their full-time.

The Task Force for Economy and Efficiency in State Government that made a study for Gov. Nunn recommended lightening the merit system and to increase the pay in most lower categories to encourage people to make a career in state government.

There are many career employees who have been career employees for years, particularly engineers and professional personnel in Finance, Revenue, Health, Education and Public Safety.

When professional jobs come open it is usually because private industry has lured them away from the state. Many times when the husband joins private industry this means his wife and family follow, creating two vacancies instead of one.

However you look at patronage or state jobs, the Ford administration has just changed the name of aides in the Highway Department to permit officers.

Q. My landlord automatically raised my rent 2.5 percent last March. He says he can automatically raise rent another 2.5 percent in January. Is this true?

A. No. A landlord must wait until 12 months have elapsed since the last automatic 2.5 percent increase before raising rent another 2.5 percent. In your case, he will have to wait until March before making the automatic increase. However, in the case of a tenant on a month-to-month lease, a landlord may pass on increases in state and local real estate taxes, fees, levies, charges for municipal services and a portion of capital improvement costs as they occur. In the case of a longer lease, the landlord must generally wait until the lease expires before raising rent to reflect these items.

For more information, see "RHS Publication S-309, 'Rent Guidelines.'"

A. Yes. The Internal Revenue Service has begun changing the rent overcharges in units housing railroad retirees, as well as those rented by social security recipients.
