SANTA LETTERS

Dear Santa Claus,
I am writing this for my sister, Veda. She is five years old, and I am seven years old.
She wants a Barbie doll and clothes, and a Barbie doll suitcase.
From
Veda Vaughn

Dear Santa Claus,
We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
I am seven years old. Would you bring a Big Jim, a camping set and a motorcycle. And also I want a hunting set and a Big Black Jim.
From
Vincent Vaughn

Dear Santa,
My name is John Dustin Watkins and I'm five months old.
I have really tried to be a good boy since this is my very first Christmas.
I know my Mom, Daddy, and all my relatives and friends will give me all the toys and clothes I could ever need, so what I really want for Christmas is for you to take my toys to all the boys and girls who won't have a Merry Christmas this year.
Love,
John Dustin Watkins
P.S. Be sure to bring my cousin Lea a toy. He's been a real good boy.

Dear Santa,
My name is Leslie Thomas Hardin, and I am 14 months old. I'm really looking forward to Christmas this year.
My Mommie and Daddy have talked about you a lot and I've really been trying to be a good boy.
Would you please bring me a Donald Duck that I can ride and some clothes (that's Mom's idea).
Please don't forget all the boys and girls who aren't as lucky as I am.
Most of all don't forget my best pal and cousin, John Dustin, and my cousin Allen.
I'll leave some cake and milk for you under our tree.
Bundles of love,
Les Hardin

Letters to Santa

Dear Santa,
I am a little boy seven years old. I haven't been too good but I am hoping you will come to see me anyway. I would like a Mickey Mouse watch, a pool table, and a football game and anything else you would like to bring me. See you at Xmas.
Your boy,
Robert Hopkins

Dear "HO-HO",
My name is Gretchen and I am 2 years old. I have tried very hard to be a good little girl, however I find it quite difficult sometimes. Perhaps it's just this phase I'm going through. Please bring me a baby doll and a buggy and fill my stocking which I will hang over the fireplace. Would you mind leaving a table, some chairs and dishes for me at "Ga-Ga's" and a Fisher-Price School-house at Ma's. In exchange for the toys I am going to give you my "boo-boo" to give to some little boy or girl, I feel I am getting too big to use it anymore. Please remember my cousins and neighbors, my friends at Sunday School and my new little friend, Michelle, her brothers and baby sister.
Love,
Gretchen Judge

Dear Santa,
I am a little boy ten years old. Please bring me a racing track and some clothes.
Try to bring my little sister, Stephanie, the things she wants.
We will leave you something to eat under the tree.
Your little boy,
Steven Douglas Hamilton

Dear Santa,
My name is Stephen Wayne Hatton and I am five years old.
I would like for you to bring me an electric train and a dump truck.
I have been a good boy and I will be in bed when you come.
Merry Christmas, Santa
Stephen Hatton

Dear Santa,
We have tried to be good, but as you know it isn't easy for an eight year old and a three year old.
My name is Leatha Ring and I want a Barbie doll for Christmas and some clothes for myself. My little brother, Darrin wants a wheel barrow and anything else you want to bring him. We'll leave you something under the tree. Don't forget all the boys in Vietnam.
We love you.
Leatha and Darrin Ring

Dear Santa Claus,
My name is Gina Sibert. My brother's name is Johnny Sibert. I am five years old and Johnny is four years old. Our Mommy is writing this letter for us. We have tried to be good but sometimes we forget.
If you think we have been good enough I would like to have a Baby Dear One, some clothes for her, a buggy and a stroller, a Snow White kitchen, a Mickey Mouse radio, and a cash register. Johnny wants a Fischer-Price Airport, a Fat Track and cars, a Putt-Putt railroad, a Screamin Deamon and a gun, and anything else you think we deserve.
Please don't forget all of the other children, especially my Aunt Donna. She wanted to write you a letter but thought she was too old. We will leave you some cake and coffee under the tree. We will leave Rudolph and the other reindeer some hay on the roof. Thank you for what you brought us last year. We love you Santa Claus.
Love,
Gina and Johnny Sibert

Dear Santa,
Please come and see me on Christmas. I want you to bring me a baby doll. I am 5 years old.
My brothers and sisters and I have been good. Please bring them something too.

MORE OFF-BEAT CHRISTMAS GIFTS

In recent columns we offered tips on where to buy unusual gifts — from museums that sell by mail, from city and country auctions and antique shops. With Christmas fast approaching, here are further suggestions for that different gift that will surprise and gladden someone on December 25th.

Visit the specialty stores and boutiques that handle items from foreign lands — off-beat sculpture and pottery, rugs and jewelry, clothing and accessories that you don't normally see in your local department store. Let your imagination roam — how do you know Aunt Mary won't be delighted with a hand-painted scarf from India, or a string of temple bells, a bright poncho from Ireland?

Christmas gifts don't have to follow the usual pattern of ties and socks, gloves and pocketbooks. How about checking the gourmet food section of your supermarket or department store? Who wouldn't like a tin of English biscuits, a can of exotic tea, or a jar of unusual jam? Think about a gift of Down East saltwater taffy, smoked oysters, pickled mushrooms, even caviar. There are several mail-order houses that will ship you very attractive baskets of unusual or out-of-season fruits.

You can get a fascinating catalogue of handicraft items made in foreign countries by writing to SERRV, Church World Service Center, Box 188, New Windsor, Md. 21776. SERRV stands for Sales Exchange for Refugee Rehabilitation Vocations, and they offer exciting gifts ranging from south-of-the-border spice baskets to beautiful mother-of-pearl jewelry from the Near East.

Ever think about commissioning a painting to be made of a favorite nephew or niece? Newspapers and magazines carry ads of artists who do portraits, some from photographs. The cost is often surprisingly modest, and you'll have to agree that such a gift is unusual.

Try wandering around a good hardware store for off-beat gifts for the man of the house. Almost any do-it-yourselfer would appreciate a matched set of wrenches or drills, a really fine saw. For different Christmas gifts, think off-beat.

FASHION 'N FABRICS
By FANNIE GLEESON

GETTING CUSTOM FIT IN MENSWEAR

When you sew for a man probably your main motivation is creating a garment that will win compliments for you and for him. The family budget benefits, too. The one thing you want to avoid is that "loving hands at home" look, that will negate your time and effort.

Getting a tailored, custom-made look means getting off to the right start with correct measurements, right pattern size, necessary pattern adjustments, suitable fabric, clean sewing machine, adequate tools and a resolution to take your time in pressing and turning to get clean, crisp edges.

Sound like womenswear sewing? The principles are exactly the same. There's no reason to have a hang-up about menswear.

What about the right size pattern? For shirt or jacket, select the pattern that comes closest to the man's chest measurement. It is easier to adjust the pattern, in order to make the neckband fit, than to make major adjustments in the chest area.

When the size of the neckband needs to be increased, cut the pattern pieces of the collar and neckband down the center. Place over plain paper. Spread the required distance, pin to the paper and trim the insert. In order to allow for this additional length in the neckband, slightly lower the edges of corresponding pieces that will be joined to the neckband.

The pattern illustrated is recommended for knits, but woven fabric may also be used. One of its beauties is its simple lines. It can be varied for a whole wardrobe of different looks depending upon the fabric. A chamois color suede-like fabric would be elegant for the jacket in the company of plaid slacks in subdued colors.

When using a knit fabric, be sure that it has a hard finish suitable for menswear. Launder the fabric before cutting. This takes care of any possible shrinkage. It also removes the excess solution that is used at the mill to finish the fabric. When the sewing machine skips stitches, it is sometimes due to the drag placed on the needle by the fabric finish, rather than the fault of the machine.

Use a ballpoint sewing machine needle and polyester and cotton thread. This type of thread has some "give" to it, which you need for sewing knits. Be sure your scissors are sharp, so that they will cut a straight edge and not "chew" the fabric. Also, be prepared with a pressing cloth, preferably one that is see-through, such as organdy. This saves you from lifting and looking.

There are various products available today that also help to give that final professional look to menswear, such as no-roll waistbanding and all-bias polyester fleece. The latter is used in dresser-type jackets than the one illustrated, when the shoulder sleeve may need to be lifted and padded a bit. This new polyester fleece also has a great many uses in your own wardrobe.

HANDY HI-LITER: Write for "Nonwoven Guidelines to Shaping," a free information sheet which tells how to use all-bias polyester fleece for the inner construction that makes the difference in outer appearance. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Fannie Gleeson, in care of this newspaper.

'73 Space Duster.

The Space Duster.
Surprising what goes into it.

When you fold down the rear seat, look what you can haul. Things like long skis. Or all the equipment for a weekend hunting trip. Or all the things you need to go on a picnic. □ For an economy car, the new Plymouth Space Duster with the optional fold-down rear seat gives you more room than you expect. And with an optional sliding sun roof, you can open it even more. To let something tall project through the roof. Or just to let in the sun or the stars. □ You get a lot more out of the new 1973 Plymouth Space Duster, because we put a lot more into it.
