

Bluejackets win two games; lose to Fleming County Friday

By Rob Lane

The Nicholas County Bluejackets had a much better week in basketball last week when they defeated Millersburg Military Institute and Mayfield St. Patrick. But their luck ran out when they were losing last to Fleming County.

In Tuesday's 61-53 victory over M.M.I., the Jackets led through the game. The first half was nip and tuck and Nicholas led in the second half only and led the third quarter 43-38, still only a slim lead.

Doug Fryman was the leading scorer racking up 15 points. As is often characteristic of Fryman, he netted 13 of these points during the second half. Fryman and Owen Barnes led with 10 rebounds each.

It was the same old story as far as shooting percentages. Nicholas County hit 20 of 27 field goals for 45 percent and nine of 26 free throws for 34 percent.

Friday night the Jackets came from behind to beat St. Patrick 72-68. In the first quarter action, and by halftime the gap was closed, and the Jackets were leading 30-33. There was still a three point lead for St. Patrick during the third quarter. Nicholas netted more baskets and won by four points.

Rex Boyd was in the limelight at the St. Patrick game. He stayed at the foul line all night and got 24 rebounds. He was also high point man.

Try as they might Nicholas County couldn't get together to win a lead on Fleming County last Saturday and the Panthers were home losing last to Fleming County.

The Jackets held the score close to the first quarter. Nicholas led the Panthers only a five point lead, and then Fleming County improved. The Jackets have averaged Nicholas County's offense is improving. The Jackets have averaged only 51 points this season but these three games have had higher scores.

Tomorrow night the Jackets travel to Lewis County for basketball action.

Something to do in February

February is that slow period of the year when time seems to get stuck on the "backbone of days creep by, and although spring is really quite near, it seems, oh so very far away.

There are, however, many things an impatient gardener can do to pass off the time, profitably. First, one can study seed catalogs, make his or her list of plants to order, and, as some seed companies give a discount for early ordering, save some money.

Darrell Apps, Extension specialist in Home Ornamentals, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, also has some other practical suggestions for the gardener and home owner.

February, he says, is a good time to build some planter boxes for the patio. If this is done, he advises that the wood be coated with a wood preservative such as copper naphthenate. Never use these preservatives may kill the plants.

This month, according to Apps, is also a good time to make sure cuttings of Colons, Geraniums, Vinca Vase, Ivesia, St. Joseph's Coat, and other plants for growing outdoors. A rooting chamber for this job can be made from an eight inch clay pot filled with moistened perlite and covered with so very far away.

Late February is a good time to plant deciduous trees, shrubs, and needle evergreens. Before starting out to transplant these trees, Dr. Apps suggests that the planter secure and sturdy "Tree Trunk" 343, at the local county Extension agent's office.

Bare spots on an established lawn can be reseeded in February when late spring frosts will work the seed into the ground. Kentucky Bluegrass is recommended for this reseeded. The job of reseeded new lawns, especially on slanting areas, should wait until early April.

February usually has some warm days. When these occur, he outside. When these occur,

MCC program approved by state board

At its meeting on Jan. 27, the Kentucky Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration granted approval for initiation of the Associate Degree Nursing Program at Mayville Community College.

This approval by the State Board authorizing the program is the result of over a year's effort on the part of the faculty and staff of Mayville Community College, Director James Shivers, and Catherine Malone, program chairperson, all of whom contributed to the development of the various reports and proposals and no part of the Licking Valley College Development Corporation which has been actively working to fund the program.

A most significant factor of the Board's action is the approval of the requested class size of 40 students for the Fall, 1972 semester. Other institutions have had class size cut, increasing the per student cost of the program. The full class limit authorized for MCC indicates the effectiveness of MCC's proposal.

Effort is continuing to develop working relationships with hospitals and clinical facilities in this five county region to provide laboratory training for nursing students. Candidates are being in-

Veterans' questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—I am a veteran with an ordinary life National Service Life Insurance policy. May I surrender it for paid up insurance and still draw dividends?

A—Yes, but your dividends will be smaller.

Q—I am 100 percent disabled because of service-connected injuries and wonder if the Veterans Administration will grant me a disability I suffered after leaving the service?

A—Yes. Veterans permanently and totally disabled from service-connected causes can be treated at VA outpatient clinics for non-service-connected disabilities. They should apply for treatment at the nearest VA office.

Q—Several years ago I elected to receive benefits from the pension law when I exceeded the $1,000 annual income limitation, resulting in termination of benefits under the old pension law. Now that income limitations under the new law have been increased, can I go back to drawing pension under the old law?

A—No. Once a pensioner has chosen benefits under the new law, he cannot go back to the old law.
