As I begin to write this I'm reminded of what I heard the late Mrs. Boone Hagler say many years ago. It was the beginning of a new year and someone asked her (she made New Year's resolutions) she said her only one was to live better than she had lived the year before.

Under Herman Conyers has so much good "horse sense". He even has horses in the room. There is a picture of two horses right over her bed which is a Christmas present from his grand-daughter, and a mare and colt in his window from the late Cecil children, Merzie Jones' grand-children.

Mrs. Fanny Owens Beatty is a new resident. Mrs. Lisa Ockerman can still smile; says she loves everybody. The Parks Homemakers make the pretty favors for New Year. They were little booklets with angels on the front and Bible verses on the inside.

Mrs. Ellen Kenney said if she could work she'd be the happiest person in the world. Mertie Jones said she was trying to get a little Valentine in her house and then she wanted to start doing some spring sewing.

It was nice to receive a card from Rosetta Holmberg of Carlsle, Ill. Said to tell Aunt Cora she'd love to see her and to kiss her as she was not able to travel so far.

The Charles Crump family from Lexington came to visit Mrs. Lila Graves Sunday. Fanny Ritchie said Inge-Scott was so hard to see in the last few months, Stephanie King, was visiting her and she hadn't seen them for a while.

There were three shy little boys in town when asked who they had come to see, one said "Papa", his name was John T. White. The boys belong to John White Jr., the man who tries hard to see that Nicholas County and other counties are clean and safe.

Sergeant Scott, a 1950 graduate of Carlsle High School, has attended Furman University, Greenville, S.C., and Southern Illinois University.

His wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Fred Hartley, 41 Freese Road, Jacksonville, Fla.

If you are looking for advice away from football. At this writing, Uncle Praddie Stevenson and John T. White are in the hospital.

Harold Letson Jr. of Carlsle, center, is congratulated by his wife Pat and Morehead State University's resident Adrom Dymon after receiving his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the US Army. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Letson Sr. of Carlsle, Route 2.
