Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

The great fad of cooking and eating outside naturally does not appeal to everyone. There may be many reasons. Entertaining or just doing something a little different can be done with ease during the summer, whether it be inside or out. The main idea is to keep things simple. Serve dishes that can be made ahead of serving time and heated later. Use chafing dishes and heat trays. Of course salads are wonderful for summer entertaining. You will find more and more men enjoying salads served with hot breads. They too are watching their weight!

CRABMEAT-ARTICHOKE SALAD

Line salad bowl or individual salad dishes with Bib lettuce, add quartered tomatoes (peeled please) on outer edge of bowl, then hard boiled eggs, quartered. Use canned artichokes cut into bite size pieces; work toward the center. Place mound of crabmeat in center; top with buttered crisp croutons and serve with your favorite dressing. This salad is good served with hot corn muffins. Try this for a different texture and taste treat.

CORN MUFFINS

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup yellow corn meal
1 beaten egg
1 cup cream style corn
3/4 cup milk (may need a bit more)
2 tablespoons cooking oil

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt; stir in cornmeal. Blend egg, corn, milk and cooking oil. Add to dry ingredients; stir just till moistened. Do not beat. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in hot oven at 425 degrees for about 30 minutes.

Serve ground beef patties on hot buttered noodles; a tossed salad made of crisp greens, tomatoes, thinly sliced carrots, sliced green onions and diced celery. Serve with your favorite dressing.

For the meat patties use ground round beef. One pound will make four generous patties. Remember the more you handle the meat the more compact it will be, so handle it as little and as lightly as possible. Add 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper, 1 small garlic minced, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon crushed oregano, 1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce. Be gentle too when you make into patties.

Dot with margarine and broil, turning only once. Cook three to five minutes for each side. Broil about three inches from heat.

Cook noodles according to package directions. When done pour into colander and rinse with boiling water. Return to cooking pan and add more salt and 1/2 stick of margarine; stirring gently until margarine is melted. Pour noodles onto meat platter and top with meat patties. Top each pattie with about two teaspoons of grated Parmesan cheese and cover with sliced stuffed olives.

Don't forget bread sticks or hot French bread.

CHICKEN WITH PECANS

4 tablespoons margarine
3 chicken bouillon cubes
1/3 cup flour
2 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups cubed cooked chicken
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

In medium saucepan melt margarine; add bouillon cubes and crush with back of spoon. Stir in flour and more salt if needed. Add milk and lemon juice. Cook and stir over medium heat till mixture thickens and boils. Stir in chicken, celery, all but 2 tablespoons of the pecans, and pimiento. Return to boiling. Transfer to serving dish. Garnish with remaining pecans. Serve over toast or waffles. You may use frozen waffles toasted.

Broiled peaches go well with this.

BROILED PEACHES

One can, large size, cling peaches. Use halves drained. Arrange peaches on broiler, cut side up; dot each one with butter. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg and cinnamon. Broil 5 to 7 inches from heat, about 4 to 5 minutes or until they begin to brown.

Next week look for Parfaits and Ice-box desserts. Easy to make and are made the day before, or early the day of serving.

By Mrs. Walter Shepherd

On June 28 the Head Start children and 54 parents visited the Louisville Zoo. On July 5, the parents again came to be with the children on a trip to Blue Licks State Park. The parents make waste baskets.

On July 7, the parents visited Berea College campus and were taken on a guided tour to the Student Craft Industries and the Appalachian Museum, where Carolyn Tolson of Nicholas county, was the narrator.
