 the detrimental effect that the use of DDT could have on the marketing of all tobacco. Any producer who is considering using DDT or TDE on his tobacco this year, should have in mind that he will be asked to certify, before a marketing card is issued, that the DDT was used on the tobacco. This is a false certification concerning the use of these materials is a violation of Federal Law and is punishable by imprisonment and/or fine.

It's spring cleaning time and that includes cleaning a winter's worth of grimy old family car—not just for appearance sake; salt and mud picked up from wintry roads can do permanent damage to your car's finish and seriously affect its resale value. Before you begin washing and polishing, assemble your equipment. Besides your car wash and car polish you will need a large sponge, several soft cloths, a pail, a stiff brush or scrubber, and window cleaner, and chamois. If you get everything together before you start, you'll save time-consuming trips to the house.

Wheat program nears deadline

Farmers who are signed in the 1972 wheat program should contact the local ASOS office as soon as possible. Harry Wagner, Chairman of the Nicholas County ASOS committee, said today. The visit is to let of land use acreage for wheat. This must be made before June 1 for farmers to draw full payment and to comply with the 1972 program. The Chairman stated that only five more days remain during the period for farmers to let the office know their acreage of wheat. The local office will be closed Monday, May 29, to observe Memorial Day. Farmers should visit their office even if they have not wheat on the farm this crop year. More details can be obtained at your local ASOS office.

Business returns to new address

Louisville-Kentucky businessmen and corporations will soon begin mailing their Federal returns to Memphis of the Internal Revenue Service Center, Memphis, Tenn. 38110, instead of the Cincinnati Service Center where they formerly mailed. Victor L. Dath, District Director for Kentucky, announced this.

The changeover of business and special taxes will complete transfer to Memphis of all Federal tax returns from Kentucky. Dath said. "The Memphis Service Center began operations last January, 1971, and received Federal income tax returns filed by Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia residents. The Service Center has resulted in more efficient operations and quicker, more responsive service to taxpayers in those states."

According to Dath, Memphis processing of the special land business Federal tax returns filed by Kentucky residents will be phased in on the following schedule: Starting June 1—U.S. special taxes on liquor and sales taxes; U.S. estate, gift and inheritance taxes; Federal use taxes on highway motor vehicles; and application for occupational (wage) stamps. Starting July 1—all business returns, including quarterly and annual Federal income taxes on corporations, small business corporations, partnerships and fiduciaries; excise taxes; and all employment and annual returns for social security, railroad retirement and income tax withholding.

SHELBYVILLE, settled in 1779 by Squire Boone, a younger brother of Daniel, scene hill, one of Kentucky's oldest buildings, built in the 1790's, houses a picturesque inn and a gallery featuring a large collection of rare antiques. Today known by Squire Boone in 1795 may be read at the SHELBY COUNTY Courthouse. Continue on U.S. 60/460 to...
FRANKFORT, the setting for one of the most beautiful capitol buildings in the country. KENTUCKY'S FORMAL GARDENS dominates the west lawn of the Capitol annex. Inside the Capitol, Kentucky's greatest son, Abraham Lincoln, Murals depict the adventures of Daniel Boone. Guided tours Mon.-Fri., 8:30-5:30. Sat. Sun., 9-4:30. Visit the BLUE STATE HOUSE, the Museum of the KENTUCKY HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
DANVILLE, Kentuckians met here to discuss the hot issue of alcohol. After nine conventions, the State Constitution was framed in April, 1792. On June 1, Kentucky was admitted to the Union and three days later the state capital was moved to Lexington. Frankfort was chosen as the permanent site in December. Today CONSTITUTION SQUARE, with green lawns and graceful sycamores, contains the first post office, and reproductions of the log courthouse, the first Presbyterian Church, and the first jail west of the Alleghenies. Also preserved in the middle of modern Danville, is the DR. EPHRAIM McDOWELL MEMORIAL on South 2nd Street and the two-story, clapboard home of Dr. McDowell, who in 1809, performed a major operation which influenced modern surgery.
THE SHAG BARKLEY STATE SHRINE, burial place of Kentucky's first governor, is six miles south of U.S. 127. Twenty miles southeast of Danville, near Crab Orchard, just off U.S. 150, is the WILLIAM WHITLEY HOUSE STATE SHRINE, the first brick house west of the Alleghenies, now completely restored and refurbished. It was built by Colonel Whitley soon after 1787 and was called "Sportsman's Hill" because of its proximity to Kentucky's first race course. Open daily, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 9, 1972 to Danville. For more information, contact the Danville Chamber of Commerce.
PERYVILLE, Turn north on Mchellville Pike to PERRYVILLE. ATTELFIELD STATE SHRINE, scene of the fierce battle in Kentucky's annals. On October 8, 1862, about 22,000 Union soldiers under General Buell moved down 16,000 Confederate under General Bragg out of Kentucky. Neither side won a clear victory. The battle was fought with cannon and memorials. There is a picnic area, shelterhouse, and a museum with a diorama of the battle. Return to Peryville and continue west on U.S. 150.
SPRINGFIELD, Five miles north on Route 528 in LINCOLN HOMESTEAD STATE PARK, open daily except Mon., May Sept. There are picnic facilities, three early buildings, and an 18-hole golf course. Returning to Springfield, go west on U.S. 150 to...
