

Girl Scouts to have new promise and laws

Girl Scouts in the Wilderness Road Council, which includes Nicholas county...

NARC leads double life

By Leonard Kimball Special Writer

On the street, no one would look at him twice. His hair is long, he swings to the sound of "rock" and, from one day to the next, his wardrobe may shift from faded blue jeans...

The new statement of the law reads: "I am in my best. To be honest, I'd be far, I'd be really, when I am needed. To be cheerful, to be friendly and courteous."

The old statement of law reads: "A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted. A Girl Scout is loyal. A Girl Scout's duty is to be cheerful and to help others."

In another major move, Mrs. Kingsolver reported, delegates to the national convention next year will be 18 and older and to be members of the national council.

OPENING NOVEMBER 15 The Fower Box Florist 226 Old Lair Road Cynthia R. Ky. Phone 234-6272

Transparent Plastic Easy-On 39c Easy To Install Or Outside Inside Plastic with adhesive backing 17 1/2" x 36" Sheet

STORM WINDOW KIT Home Hardware Black & Decker

S&T PRICE $19.99 7 1/4" circular saw - on optional value...

Reid & Vice Builders Supply 101 South Broadway Phone 289-5279

By Leonard Kimball Special Writer

Dr. Asbury speaks at historical lecture

Dr. Edlie Asbury was the speaker in the 21st annual lecture of the Wilderness Road Society...

Conservation news

Water for farm use is a problem for most farmers and rural residents in Nicholas county. At times we have too much and at other times we have too little water.

Herbert C. Duncan on the Wheatstone Road saved his water need by the use of a cistern. He will use gravity flow to electrically heated water tanks for his livestock.

Other farmers have installed cisterns that can develop a set of plans for a cistern needed to fill cisterns. The Soil Conservation Service gave him technical help on figuring total livestock water need and size of cistern required to supply that need.

Alma Atkinson, Administratrix of Ethel W. Atkinson Estate, Nola M. Fulkner, Executrix of William McFarland estate...

Harry first learned of the Covington incident in a rather unusual way. The tip came from two Lexington, Ky. law enforcement officers who were driving around a road in Eastern Kentucky...

Harry told the youths that he was interested in making a drug connection, but wanted to buy large quantities. The boys took him to a place where they would put him in touch with someone who could sell him anything he wanted.

Later, Harry and two other agents went to Covington where, over a three-month period, they made a number of buys from users generally throughout that area.

One of the buyers identified by Harry during the investigation was a man who had been described as "extremely professional."

Packaging also plays an important part in the profit motive. That's particularly true among a growing number of Kentucky users who have begun to express a preference for mealcake over LSD.

"Actually, what many of them get is the 'pig' to which the pusher adds a little chocolate powder so, he can pass it off as mealcake."

Harry also described another packaging stunt which is currently causing some alarm in drug enforcement circles. According to the agents' contacts, some pushers in the state are now packaging their LSD with strychnine with LSD.

The idea is to make the user think that he is getting a new and better drug, one which gives him one rush almost immediately and

Dr. Asbury speaks at historical lecture

Dr. Edlie Asbury was the speaker in the 21st annual lecture of the Wilderness Road Society...

Conservation news

Water for farm use is a problem for most farmers and rural residents in Nicholas county. At times we have too much and at other times we have too little water.

Herbert C. Duncan on the Wheatstone Road saved his water need by the use of a cistern. He will use gravity flow to electrically heated water tanks for his livestock.

Other farmers have installed cisterns that can develop a set of plans for a cistern needed to fill cisterns. The Soil Conservation Service gave him technical help on figuring total livestock water need and size of cistern required to supply that need.

Alma Atkinson, Administratrix of Ethel W. Atkinson Estate, Nola M. Fulkner, Executrix of William McFarland estate...

Harry first learned of the Covington incident in a rather unusual way. The tip came from two Lexington, Ky. law enforcement officers who were driving around a road in Eastern Kentucky...

Harry told the youths that he was interested in making a drug connection, but wanted to buy large quantities. The boys took him to a place where they would put him in touch with someone who could sell him anything he wanted.

Later, Harry and two other agents went to Covington where, over a three-month period, they made a number of buys from users generally throughout that area.

One of the buyers identified by Harry during the investigation was a man who had been described as "extremely professional."

Packaging also plays an important part in the profit motive. That's particularly true among a growing number of Kentucky users who have begun to express a preference for mealcake over LSD.

"Actually, what many of them get is the 'pig' to which the pusher adds a little chocolate powder so, he can pass it off as mealcake."

Harry also described another packaging stunt which is currently causing some alarm in drug enforcement circles. According to the agents' contacts, some pushers in the state are now packaging their LSD with strychnine with LSD.

The idea is to make the user think that he is getting a new and better drug, one which gives him one rush almost immediately and

LET US KILL YOUR HOGS and BEEF CATTLE Be per lb. dressed weight on hog includes killing, curing, freezing and rendering Beef Killing 6 Days A Week $7.00 For Killing $8 per lb cutting, wrapping and freezing NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY PHONE 606-845-1011 Fleming's Grocery Co. KURT LAMMERISH, NEW OWNER Flemingsburg, Kentucky

Large advertisement for Kroger grocery store featuring a 'DISCOUNT' theme. It lists numerous products such as flour, sugar, oil, meat, and produce with their respective prices and discounts. Includes a 'Meat Prices' section and a 'Plus Top Value Stamps' note.