Carlisle Manufacturing shows public its wares

You've heard of opening a "leg of malle", trailing off the old "bucket of bolts" — but here's a real rare enough bucket of bolts. Or maybe it would be better to call them tiny screws manufactured by Carlisle Manufacturing Company of Carlisle. In order to bring them into view a telephone lens was used from five feet at 1/22 for clarity which it is hoped will be reproduced in The Mercury.—Mercury picture

Some of the many small parts made by the Carlisle Manufacturing Company located on Elm Street at Market, were on display Sunday afternoon, Dec. 3, at their open house. The parts are used in the manufacture of business machines and home appliances. The company produces some 30 different parts on an ongoing basis.—Mercury picture

$294,885 expended by VA in Nicholas county

The Veterans Administration expended $294,885 in Federal funds for Kentucky veterans during the past fiscal year. A tabulation released today by the VA says this is an increase of $22 million over fiscal year 1971. Nicholas county received $294,885 during the year. J.C. Hatfield, Director of the VA Regional Office in Louisville, said over $20 million has been paid directly to Kentucky's 401,000 veterans. Veterans with disabilities resulting from service are awarded compensation regardless of any other income they may have. Those totally disabled from causes other than active duty and who have limited incomes are awarded pensions.

State-wide compensation and pension costs amount to $114,890,271, of which $123,538 went to Nicholas county veterans. Educational costs of the VA in the state amounted to $21,242,258. These re-adjustment and vocational rehabilitation expenditures amounted to $9,758 in this county. Insurance and indemnities were paid to Kentucky veterans in the amount of $12,448,192 with this county's veterans receiving $3,608. The VA made direct loans of $1,300,743 to Kentucky veterans for purchasing homes. Of this, Nicholas county received $3,000.

Christmas cards

In order that your local Christmas cards be delivered as quickly as possible, John Anderson, local postmaster, has asked that all cards, local, including rural routes, be bound or tied together. Also that all out-of-town cards be tied separately.

Reynolds, Vaughn represent local co-op at Virginia meeting

Sam Reynolds of Carlisle represented Southern States Cooperative's members in the Carlisle area at the association's 49th annual stockholders meeting held in Richmond, Va., Nov. 14-15. Also attending the session was Franklin Bell Vaughn Jr., manager of S.S. Carlisle Cooperative, local Southern States retail outlet. They heard General Manager W.T. Steele Jr., report to the 1500 delegates, guests and employees who attended the session that the cooperative's total volume for the fiscal year, ended last June 30, hit $152,590,000, an increase of about $4,273,000 over the previous year. Steele told the group that net savings for the cooperative reached $4,566,000, about $765,000 under last year's figure — after deducting federal and state taxes. Savings were also enough to pay dividends on all stock and a 1.3% patronage refund. In addition, slightly over $70,000 was added to reserves. The report revealed that feed volume showed a 1.3% decrease — down about 6,000 tons from last year — to a total of 478,654 tons. Fertilizer volume hit $11,000 tons, just under last year's $15,500 tons. Seed volume stood at $7,700,000, an all-time high, and 12.1% over the previous year. Petroleum showed a total volume of 102,000,000 gallons, an increase of 10,000,000 gallons. Egg marketing showed an increase of 7.3% in dollar volume and 21.6% in cases handled over last year. The volume of Southern States Grain Marketing was just under that of last year — showing $500,000 bushels handled as compared to 503,000 bushels in 1970-71. ### Jackets drop second to MMI

The Nicholas County Bluejackets took in the chin for the second game in a row since whipping Tolleboro in the season opener. Bourbon County clubbed the Jackets 7-0, Tuesday night and MMI utilized a marked advantage in height and experience, handing the Jackets a 61-48 setback Friday. The Jackets gave MMI all they wanted for about one quarter. Then it became obvious that the Cadet height advantage, coupled with a 2-3 zone defense that proved virtually impenetrable, was more than the Jackets could handle. It was apparent that a year of playing experience was very valuable to the Cadets, who started the same five ball players in last year's 50-25 loss to Nicholas County. MMI ruled the defensive backboards and used a smooth offense which resulted in some easy buckets early in the game, although in spurts they were deadly outside. The Jacket front line had a difficult time of keeping Mitt from penetrating underneath but managed to hit the open shots and Gerald Hatton's dazzling.

Silhouetted against the gray sky Moody was a workman for Asplund who contracts with Kentucky Utilities Company to trim limbs from trees overhanging their electric lines. The Mercury photographer was particularly interested in the man with his chains saw because many limbs of this class overhang the Mercury's building. In the winter when sleet made this giant elm's limbs touch the ground, things were just a bit uncomfortable.—Mercury picture
