Feminine flagman

Donna Gulley, Sharpsburg senior at Morehead State University, spent the summer as a traffic flagman for a highway construction company. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunaway of Sharpsburg.

A second look

MOREHEAD -- Motorists kept returning for a second look this summer when they realized the traffic flagman was an attractive young lady.

Donna Gulley, Sharpsburg senior at Morehead State University, spent the summer flagging cars for a road construction company on Interstate 75, south of Richmond.

A 5-foot, 4-inch brunette, Miss Gulley's interest in being a flagman began the previous summer.

"I was working in the company's office when I read some papers that said the company did not discriminate in hiring workers," she said,

"I decided I wanted to spend my next vacation working outside with a construction crew," she added, "It gave me a chance to get a suntan and earn money to return to school."

She spent 10 weeks working nine to 10 hours daily. Her "work uniform" included a construction metal helmet, a brightly-colored vest and a red flag.

"Working in the rain was the worst part," Miss Gulley said, "Sometimes this happened before we had completed a job, so I would just tuck my hair under my hard hat and keep on flagging."

She carried her transistor radio with her "to make things run a little smoother." "As long as I had my radio with me for company, I could do almost anything, she said.

The female flagger attracted more attention than the average flagman.

"One afternoon I became suspicious after watching the same car pass me several times," she said. "Finally, the car stopped where I was flagging."

"One of the nicely dressed gentlemen asked, 'Are you or aren't you?' I removed my hat and assured them that I am really a girl."

"Everyone was nice to me," she said. "A state policeman even brought me cold drinks on the hot days."

"It was one of my most enjoyable summers," she said. "I plan on working as a flagman again next year."

552,999 persons attend Kentucky State Fair

A record 552,999 people attended the 1972 Kentucky State Fair at Louisville, it has been announced by State Fair president Wyndall Smith.

The attendance topped the previous record of 548,938 set last year, making this the fourth straight year for an attendance increase, said Smith.

The outside gate admission record was one of several new marks set. A new high in entries for Beef and Dairy Cattle, and a 20 per cent increase in the Horse Show entries also highlighted this year's record breaking fair.

Highs established in stadium and coliseum special events attendance and gross receipts were also contributing factors to the new attendance record, said Smith. These increases were due to a larger and more varied selection of special attractions.

Wheat allotment notices mailed

Notices of 1973 Wheat Allotments and an official explanation of the 1973 Wheat set aside program have been mailed to producers in Nicholas County according to Harvey Wagoner, Chairman, Nicholas County ASC Committee.

All participants will set aside an acreage equal to 86 percent of their farm domestic allotment. They will earn Wheat payments based on their domestic allotment, and will be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loans on Wheat grown on participating farms.

"The big point to make at this time is that a Wheat grower in the 1973 Wheat Program can maintain required set aside and conserving base acreages with no limit on his Wheat acreage. Producers should check with the County ASCS Office for full details," the ASC Chairman said.

Mr. Wagoner also pointed out several other important items which producers should keep in mind:

1. 1973 is the year when a farmer, who did not plant a program crop during the past two seasons, can lose his entire allotment for failure to plant, or report crops, in the third successive year.

2. Soybeans for beans, Corn, Grain Sorghum and Barley will be eligible for substitution for Wheat to receive Conservation practices. Mr. Wagoner suggested that any farmer who plans to enter early practices in the fall contact their local ASCS Office.

This year special attention is being paid to seeding practices and pollution abatement practices include practices to control animal wastes, sod waterways, and the seeding of problem areas.

Provisions are also made where some farmers can qualify for an 80% of the average county cost share rate. This rate would apply to all practices in the County. Information about this high rate can be obtained at your ASCS Office. (Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, creed, national origin or sex.)

Mexican priest who worked here dies in accident

On Aug. 25, Rev. Noel Delgado of the Archdiocese of Chihuahua, Chih., Mexico, died in an automobile accident near Monterrey, N. L. Mexico. With him in the car were also two priests who had just been ordained eight days before and who also died.

Rev. Noel Delgado had worked in Carlisle in July and August 1967 and in Flemingsburg, in August, 1968. People of Nicholas, Bath and Fleming Counties will remember the rather musical groups of students who accompanied him.

In the fall of 1968 he was sent to Rome, Italy for higher studies and during the Easter vacation of 1969, he traveled extensively in Northern Italy, Yugoslavia and Switzerland accompanied by Rev. Edwin H. Trimbur, former pastor of the Catholic Churches of Carlisle and Flemingsburg, now stationed at Sts. Peter and Paul, Church, 900 S. W. 26th Road, Miami, Fla.

Since 1970 Rev. Delgado had been in charge of the team training program for the newly ordained priests, who were assigned to work with him for two years. He also constructed and directed a house of studies for the priests already ordained who are required to spend six weeks of study to update their theology after the Second Vatican Council.

Parks Homemakers

The Parks Homemakers Club met Sept. 7 at the home of Mrs. Francis Wasson. Seven members, one visitor and Mrs. Margie Wilson answered roll call with something pretaining to vacation. Miss Ernesteen Eads gave the devotional, an article on pollution was given by Mrs. Sherman Hollar. A most informative lesson on clothing guidepost for '72 and '73 was given by Mrs. Wasson and Mrs. Wilson.

Club members drew names for "Secret Pals" for the year.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Floyd Clark. Anyone interested in becoming a member of Parks Club, please contact Mrs. Francis Wasson, president, phone 289-2449.

Cruiser bids to be studied; First National Bank gets parking lot permission

City Council held its regular monthly meeting Monday night in the City Building. Bids were opened from three dealers for the purchase of a new police cruiser. Since several bids were submitted by each dealer, copies of the bids will be distributed to Councilmen for study before a decision will be made on the purchase.

Emerson Baker of the First National Bank asked Council for permission for the bank to demolish the old Johnson-Mathers Hospital on Elm Street to be used for an employee parking lot. Council granted his request.

Mayor Bill Power announced that Columbia Gas had sent a letter to the City asking it not to accept anymore gas customers because of the present gas shortage. A notice will be published requesting that City residents conserve on gas consumption as much possible.

ASC funds available

Harvey Wagoner, chairman, ASC Committee, stated today that a limited amount of funds was still available to farmers for cost sharing on REAP conservation practices. Mr. Wagoner suggested that any farmer who plans to enter early practices in the fall contact their local ASCS Office.

This year special attention is being paid to seeding practices and pollution abatement practices include practices to control animal wastes, sod waterways, and the seeding of problem areas.

Provisions are also made where some farmers can qualify for an 80% of the average county cost share rate. This rate would apply to all practices in the County. Information about this high rate can be obtained at your ASCS Office. the influence that it should on the nation's foreign policy.

"They have allowed the presidents to move us into difficult situations such as Vietnam, contrary to what the Constitution says a the Congress ought to do, I will support, when elected, any and all efforts at exercising the control they are supposed to have over where and when troops will be committed abroad."

In his third of four county campaign visits Tuesday, Huddleston told a Nelson County crowd that his GOP opponent "should be apologizing to the working men and women and all Kentuckians for imposing on them the highest sales tax without exemption in the nation and more than doubling their car license tax after promising not to."

He said Mr. Nunn continuously demonstrates his lack of respect for the people of Kentucky and lashes out at positions that are not involved in this U. S. Senate race.

Jackets drop third

snap from center and was brought down on his own 35.

Morgan County took over with two minutes left and scored on the first play with a 37 yard pass to Jeff Brown from quarterback Hank Allen. The kick for the extra point was no good.

Morgan County lined up to kick off and pulled a fast one by recovering their on-side kick on the Nicholas County forty. Nicholas County held the Raiders for three downs, but on fourth and ten Allen went to the air and hit Mervil Fraley for a 35 yard touchdown pass. Allen hit Jeff Brown on a short pass for the extra point and Morgan County had scored twice in three minutes as the half ended with the Raiders on top 14-0.

The Jackets failed to pick up any momentum in the second half and Morgan County began to threaten a rout. Morgan County drove to the Jacket 35 on a strong drive consisting of short runs and an over-the-middle pass for 15 yards to Steve O'Connor. The Jackets stopped this drive temporarily as a host of Bluejacket defenders recovered a Raider fumble on the 30.

The Jackets were unable to move however, and their fourth down punt was blocked and recovered in the end zone by Morgan County for a touchdown, the run for the extra point was good, giving Morgan County its twenty-second point of the night.

The Bluejackets mustered up somewhat of a drive on their next possession but Greg Wings shut off any new hopes with an interception which he returned five yards back to the Jacket 40, Morgan County fumbled the ball on the next play and the Jackets had a first and 10 on their own 35.

The Jackets couldn't get anything going and on fourth down decided to go for broke. Joe Wilson was tackled in the backfield before he could get off his desperation pass.

Morgan County took possession and went to work immediately. Raymond Compton broke up a sure touchdown with a fine defensive effort but Nicholas County was penalized 15 yards on the play for defensive holding. Halfback Jeff Johnson swept right end on the next play for a twenty yard score, which Rice broke up the pass for the extra point and Morgan led 28-0.

Nicholas County chose to play out the rest of the game with its younger players, Morgan County, who upped their record to 4-1, made it look easy against the Bluejackets, Hopefully this was just an off night for the Bluejackets, who just couldn't do anything right.

Next week the Jackets travel all the way to Boone County to tangle with the powerful Conner Cougars.
