Free courses for senior citizens

Are you a senior citizen who would like to enroll in free college courses at Morehead State University?

Kentucky residents may register for MSU courses under the William M. Caudill Senior Citizens Fellowship Program which provides a waiver of fees for all Kentuckians 65 and older.

Interested persons should contact Mrs. Priscilla Gotsick at MSU's Institute on the Aging before Sept. 10. The telephone numbers are 606-784-9229 or 783-3111.

Program participants do not have to go through a formal registration. Enrollment coordination is made through the Institute on the Aging.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay R. Pollan
Note planetary ruler of your birth symbol
FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, AUG. 27, 1973

★ If your birthday occurs this week . . .

. . . you appreciate peace and quiet. While slow to anger, you can be furious when your patience has come thinly worn. You are a positive thinker—the kind of person who gets things done and expects others to fulfill their obligations and keep their promises. You'll have important dealings with Capricorn.

Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Pluto

Right throughout the week you'll find yourself delightfully in demand socially. Friends will look you up, take you out, call you to join them at popular and fashionable places. If needed, you can obtain assistance now. Folks are cooperative and reward you.

Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 Venus

Emphasis is on practicality and advantages which result from goodwill and connections which have been built up in the past. Be aware. Perceive hidden meanings and motives. Completion of a significant transaction is indicated. Avoid clashes with headstrong people. Give a little.

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury

You will find it possible to exert considerable influence because of the trust and friendship others have for you. If consulted on a policy level, take the long-range view. Be mindful of those in need. You gain through a timely move or change. Better stay clear of sensitive persons.

Cancer June 21 - July 22 Moon

The week brings an invitation or opportunity to spend the day away from home. Accept graciously, if you are in the mood. New contacts are beneficial. Another Cancer person helps you get going. Good news comes via the mail or a visitor. Ignore those who try to downgrade you.

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun

Your mind takes on a patient, systematic attitude this week. Study can be a profitable, leisure-time activity. Your management of business activities improves significantly. Be independent, original. Lead rather than follow. You possess fine talents. Don't hesitate to show them off.

© 1973 McNaught Syndicate.

Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Mercury

There's pleasing prospect that you'll either have friends visiting you, or that you'll be able to stay with them a few days. Don't be too independent. Curtalk. No time to be selfish or too negative. Be positive sex is friendly and responsive, especially those born under the Leo sign.

Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Venus

Your mental activity assumes a fast pace, and minor changes in your life will occur. Intellectual pursuits are highly favored. Judgment and intuition are on the brain. You can now be at the right place at the right time. You're able to separate fact from illusion. Review this and respond accordingly.

Scorpio Oct. 23 - Nov. 21

Your stars lay special emphasis on secrecy and discretion. It's decidedly unwise to avoid publicizing your plans and the arrangements you're making. Finish projects left incomplete. Important allies are here in your behalf behind the scenes. Chance of realizing hopes indicated.

Sagittarius Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 Jupiter

This week you've got to use the subtle rather than the brash approach. You must wangle invitations. Ask brash approach. You must wangle invitations. Ask questions, and dress up things in an appealing way to others. Listen to sound advice before making moves. Be somewhat conservative and don't spend foolishly. Reject the superficial.

Capricorn Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 Saturn

Whether health is good, bad or indifferent, this is a good time for having a check-up with your doctor, your dentist, your occultist. You'll see to your own affairs if you neglect yourself. Get your messages across through advertising or promotion.

Aquarius Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 Uranus

Your stars indicate a week of achievement and progress, but you must straighten out your ideas and crystalize a clear picture of what you want to achieve. The key is to be productive. Be willing to take a chance on your abilities. Don't give in to fear and doubt. Have faith. Be confident.

Pisces Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 Neptune

The key is to not worry unduly if progress appears to be slow in developing new relationships—Yet, have confidence that new associations will blossom. The stars distinctly favor romance and they will twinkle brightly during this period. Forget the nightmares of the past. Go ahead, confidently.

Endowment fund insures scholarships locally

The Permanent Endowment Fund administered by the Licking Valley College Development Corporation aids worthy scholarships to Maysville Community College for area residents who wish to continue their education beyond the high school level. The Fund is operated by the Bank of Maysville under a trust agreement with the Licking Valley College Development Corporation. The income from this fund will provide nine scholarships for the 1973-74 academic year.

The Permanent Endowment Fund has now reached a total of $38,602.14. This money is never spent, but is invested continually with the interest on the investment providing scholarship funds. Any excess interest continues in the scholarship fund or returns to the Permanent Endowment Fund, where it earns new interest. When the Permanent Endowment Fund reaches a total of from $400,000 to $500,000, interest earned will be adequate to insure a college education for anyone from this area who needs financial assistance to go to a college or university.

It takes the interest from approximately $7,000 to provide one tuition scholarship to the Maysville Community College. Recently, Mrs. R.K. Chambers provided in her will for $25,000 to be added to the Permanent Endowment Fund. The $25,000 left by Mrs. Chambers will produce sufficient income to provide three to four scholarships per year from now on. In the next one thousand years, Mrs. Chambers' generous bequest will pay for 300 to 400 college education years for students from this area.

Frequently a community resident will contribute money to the Permanent Endowment Fund in the name of a deceased relative or friend, in lieu of sending flowers to the funeral. A card is sent in acknowledgement of this gracious act. The fund offers five scholarships for the 1973-74 academic year is now under way. You may wish to talk to your personal lawyer or financial adviser, treasurer of the Licking Valley College Development Corporation, about ways you can contribute to this fund.

Members of the Board of Directors of the Licking Valley College Development Corporation are as follows: Frank Jones, president (Mason county), William G. Wallin, vice president (Bracken county), Mrs. Ike Van Meter, vice president (Mason county), Mrs. Ed Greifenkamp, secretary (Mason county), Robert L. Zweigart, treasurer (Mason county), Art Taylor (Fleming county), Marvin Carroll (Fleming county), William G. Love (Lewis county), and William F. Aiken (Mason county).

Knott Co. Jaycees sponsor music festival

The Knott County Jaycees announce that several well known local bands will be appearing at the big 2nd Annual Southeast Mountain Music Festival to be held on Sunday, Sept. 2 and Monday, Sept. 3 at Hindman.

In addition to the local bands, Nashville recording artist, Johnny Dollar, will appear for three shows on Monday, Sept. 3. Mr. Dollar and his group will be judging the contest.

The Southeast Mountain Music Festival was organized by the Knott County Jaycees to publicize and maintain an active interest in the rich musical tradition so common to the Southeast Mountain Region.

Reed graduates

SAN ANGELO, Tex.—Airman Roger W. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Reed of Route 1, Carlisle, has graduated at Goodfellow AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force communications analysis specialist course.

The airman was trained to operate communications systems and analyze procedures necessary to determine the effectiveness of communications-security measures. He is being assigned to Iraklion Air Station, Crete, for duty with a unit of the U.S. Air Force Security Service.

A 1969 gradate of Bourbon County High School, he attended the University of Kentucky.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

It would not seem right to let the peach season go by without giving you several new and different recipes. They may not be new to you, but some of them are to me and will be to others. If you missed the earlier Georgia Freestone peaches you will enjoy the Michigan peaches even more. They are a larger, sweeter and lighter in color peach. Of course just a fresh peach eaten by hand or peeled and sliced with sugar and cream is hard to beat but sometimes you want something special and when you make it into a dessert or pie the fruit will go farther.

GLAZED OPEN PEACH PIE
1 unbaked pie shell
1 cup white sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
8 to 10 peaches, peeled
Take 2 tablespoons cornstarch and ¼ cup sugar and spread over pie shell. Add peeled and sliced peaches. Combine the rest of the sugar and cornstarch and sprinkle over the top. Dot with butter and sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake 400 degrees for 40-50 minutes, or until crust is lightly browned.

FROZEN PEACH PIE
4 cups fresh peaches, peeled and sliced
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1½ cups macaroon crumbs (about 30 cookies)
1 cup whipping cream
Place cookies between two sheets of wax paper and crush with rolling pin. Line a 9 inch pie pan, sides and bottom with cookies, reserving ½ cup for topping.
Whip cream. Peel and pit peaches. Cut into chunks and mash, use potato masher. Stir in sugar and almond extract; mix well. Combine with whipped cream. Pour into crumb lined pan. Sprinkle top with remaining crumbs. Cover pie with foil and freeze. Remove from freezer about 20 minutes before serving.

PEACH CHIFFON PIE
1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¼ cup sugar
1½ cups finely cut peaches
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon almond extract
3 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
1 - 9 inch pie shell
Soften gelatin in cold water and set aside. Combine slightly beaten egg yolks, ¼ cup sugar, peaches, salt, and lemon juice in top of double boiler. Cook until mixture is slightly thickened and coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin. Cool until mixture begins to set. Add almond extract.
Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually adding ¼ cup sugar. Fold egg whites into peach mixture. Spoon into baked pie shell and chill until firm.

FRESH PEACH BETTY
8 medium size peaches, peeled
1 cup soft bread crumbs
½ cup sugar, you may need a bit more depending on your taste
1 tablespoon flour
salt
2 tablespoons margarine
Peel and slice peaches; place half in a 1 quart baking dish. Combine bread crumbs, sugar, flour, and salt. Top peaches with half of the bread crumb mixture. Dot with 1 tablespoon margarine. Repeat with the remaining ingredients. Bake at 375 degrees about 40 minutes or until crumbs are golden and peaches are tender. Serve with a scoop of ice cream on top.

You will notice the use of almond extract in many peach recipes. It is a natural. If you have ever broken the pit of a peach you will notice the small kernel inside. This has a definite almond taste and is sometimes crushed and used in peach recipes.

The use of lemon juice in peach recipes is to keep the fruit from turning dark. I always do everything else first and get my peaches at the very last to keep them from turning.

If you want to do something spectacular with peaches try FLAMED FLAMBEE. Select perfect fruit, using 1 peach for each serving. For about 8 servings, boil together 2 cups water, 1 cup sugar, dash of salt. Drop fruit into boiling mixture and cook until tender. It will not take very long. Remove from syrup with slotted spoon, and drain. While still warm and at the table, serve 1 peach per serving, sprinkle with a bit of sugar, and pour over each peach 2 or more tablespoons kirsch. Light the liquor and let burn down.

Clerical personnel needed by state

FRANKFORT—The Kentucky Department of Personnel is seeking skilled clerical workers for work for state government in the Frankfort area. The recruitment effort is directed toward stenographers, typists, and key punch operators, with one to three years experience.

The positions are covered by the state merit system, and offer fringe benefits in addition to salaries ranging from $308 to $360 per month. Employees receive paid 10 and a half holidays, 12 sick and 12 annual leave days per year, life and health insurance, retirement program, and optional membership in a credit union.

Competitive processes, including skills test, determine the applicants' employability. Testing and interviews are conducted Monday through Friday. Persons wishing to apply may be processed in a single day may do so by reporting to Room 230 in the Capitol Annex between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Applicants will be interviewed to determine the position level for which they may be tested. Performance tests may be taken at local employment offices or area vocational schools.

Anyone holding a General Equivalency Diploma may apply by bringing a Kentucky diploma or final test scores when making application. Approximate experience may substitute for the required education.

Bardstown's Spalding Museum contains historical data

In the golden, grandiose age of Southern opulence, wealthy planters lived about for the finest education for their sons, and often these scions found themselves students at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky.

The oldest Catholic college in Kentucky, St. Joseph's was founded in 1819 by Bishop Benedict J. Flaget. It produced alumni who became governors, poets, bishops and cabinet members. Now one of the college's stately brick buildings houses Spalding Hall Civic Center, which is a museum complex devoted to items dealing with Bardstown and Kentucky from those early years to the present, plus a gallery and a restaurant with a courtyard cafe.

Spalding Hall was built in 1819, a year after the church next door building was destroyed by fire, and named for the Rev. Martin J. Spalding. At various times Spalding Hall has been a Civil War hospital, an orphanage and a boy's preparatory school. The buildings that housed the college are located on Fifth Street in back of St. Joseph's Cathedral, one of the first Catholic cathedrals in America.

Open weekdays, except for the noon hour, and on Sundays from 1:30 to 5 p.m., the museum has guided tours that begin with a taped historical background story of the Bardstown area. Admission is 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children, and group rates are available.

Displays are arranged in chronological order beginning with Indian relics, moccasins and a "long jacket". A model of John Fitch's steamboat and many of his papers are on display. Fitch, a Bardstown resident, had a workable steamboat model many years before Robert Fulton's famous steamboat race.

A typical headmaster's living quarters of the early 1800's is furnished with a walnut sleigh bed that came through Cumberland Gap with early Kentucky settlers. Other furnishings are in keeping with the period.

Other displays tell the story of the Trappist monks at the Abbey of Our Lady of Gethsemani, near Bardstown, said to be the first monastery of the Order of Cistercians of the Strict Observance to be established in the new world. The monks live in silence in the cedar covered monastery hills.

From the monastery came one of the museum's most prized items—a gold-embroidered stole, worn by Pope John XXIII in his coronation ceremonies. The stole was a gift from the Pope
