Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

We hear more and more about Crepes and immediately think of them as being very difficult to make. And they are if you go back to some French cook books or try to make them as a fancy dessert. After all, they are only very thin, glorified pancakes! You may serve them with many fillings as a main course for a meal.

While away this summer this recipe was given to me and it is delicious. The first time around it took a bit of doing and I thought too much trouble. However, the next time it was much easier. Just like everything, the first time is always the hardest. I'll give you the whole thing including the recipe for CREPE BATTER, though you can use your own pancake recipe. The crepe recipe is a bit better.

CREPE BATTER

3 eggs, beaten
1½ cups milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt

Combine eggs, milk and margarine; beat well. Sift together flour and salt. Gradually add flour to egg mixture. Beat until smooth. Chill at least two hours.

Heat greased six-inch skillet until a drop of watter sizzles. Place 2 tablespoons of batter in skillet; rotate so batter covers bottom completely. When brown, turn to brown other side. Repeat to make each crepe. This will make about 16.

LEMONY-SALMON CREPES

1 can salmon, boned and flaked
½ cup half and half
½ cup chopped parsley
1½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Combine ingredients in saucepan. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes. Place about 2 tablespoons filling in each crepe. Roll up and place in oven-proof dish. Cover. Heat in oven at 325 degrees, for 15 minutes. Serve topped with sauce.

SAUCE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk
½ cup half and half
½ cup Swiss cheese
½ cup Parmesan cheese
1 egg yolk, beaten

Melt margarine in saucepan; blend in flour and salt. Add milk and half and half. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add cheeses; heat until melted. Stir ½ cup hot cheese mixture into egg yolk. Return to saucepan. Cook 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Pour 1 cup sauce over crepes just before serving. Serve additional sauce with crepes. Makes about 2½ cups.

All this makes an impressive and good company meal that is not too expensive. Something all of us must think about today.

Here is another company dinner dish. In spite of higher prices chicken still remains one of the less expensive foods.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH GRAPES

1 roasting chicken, about 4 pounds
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon ground ginger

GRAPE SAUCE

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup dry white wine
1 cup chicken broth
2 cups seedless white grapes
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup orange juice
salt and pepper to taste

Prepare chicken for roasting. Rub cavity with ½ combined dry seasonings. Stuff with Grape Stuffing. Rub outside of chicken with half the softened butter; sprinkle with remaining seasoning. Put the remaining butter in a roasting pan with roasting rack. Place chicken breast down. Roast 425 degrees for 30 minutes. Turn bird; reduce heat to 325 degrees. Baste until tender; legs should move easily in sockets. Remove chicken to warm platter. Place roasting pan on top of stove, remove rack. Stir in wine; simmer several minutes while stirring bits of scrapings from the bottom of pan. Add broth; simmer 5 minutes longer. Pour this sauce into a saucepan and stir in grapes. Mix flour with orange juice; add to sauce, simmer until thickened. Season with salt and pepper. Keep sauce warm and serve over chicken.

GRAPE STUFFING

Melt ¼ cup butter in skillet. Saute 3 tablespoons minced onion until tender. Stir in 2 cups breadcrumbs, ½ cup chicken broth, 1½ teaspoons poultry seasoning, salt and pepper, and 1 cup seedless grapes. Fresh or canned. Blend well.

Garnish platter of chicken with small bunches of grapes.

Make chicken broth by boiling giblets in water until tender. Season with salt and pepper.

Miss Ann House attends medical record workshop

Ann House, Medical Record Technician, Bourbon County Hospital, Paris, participated in a workshop for medical record administrators, technicians, and other practitioners, sponsored by the Kentucky Medical Record Association, Aug. 22-24, at the Springs Motel in Lexington.

Miss House is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff House of Moorefield.

The three-day workshop featured medical specialists and medical record administrators from the University of Kentucky College of Medicine, Eastern Kentucky University School for Medical Record Technicians, and other major hospital facilities and agencies within the state.

Topics covered a wide range of medical record department functions, including medical record standards, content and analysis, as well as statistical and legal processes.

The workshop furthered the Kentucky Medical Record Association's philosophy on continuing education: "Systematic learning experiences designed to enlarge the knowledge and skills of medical record personnel."

Special Labor Day traffic efforts set

Gov. Wendell Ford, in a Labor Day message to the people of Kentucky, says, "It is my sincere hope that this Labor Day will be a bright one for all. The backbone of this country is its laboring force, and this special day has been set aside as a reminder that the fruits of industry are products of labor as well as capital."

Labor Day, the first Monday in September and traditionally the end of the summer vacation season, is not always bright for every Kentuckian.

The long weekend draws thousands of people onto Kentucky's highways and results in large number of deaths and injuries in traffic accidents.

Last year 16 people were killed on Kentucky's highways. In an effort to reduce this death rate, the Kentucky State Police plan to increase their activities during the long weekend. They will provide a maximum patrol effort during the three-day holiday period in which every available man will be on duty. Efforts will be concentrated in areas where there have been large numbers of accidents in the past.

To help stranded motorists on the state's parkway and interstate systems, the Department of Transportation will supply emergency patrol vehicles equipped with two-way radios, supplies of gasoline and water, tire changing tools, and first aid equipment.

Bureau of Highway personnel will man the pick-up trucks during the peak travel periods which fall between 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 31 and Monday, Sept. 3.

Each truck will patrol 60 miles of highway and will be able to cover that distance in about an hour.

Jacobs reunion held

The annual Jacobs family reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 19, at the Blue Licks State Park. A basket lunch was served at noon.

Fifty guests were present. It was agreed they would meet at the same place next year.

The annual fall Fashion Revue, sponsored by the Nicholas County Homemakers, was held Thursday night, Aug. 23 at Nicholas County Elementary School. Fashions from Lowenthal's of Lexington were modeled by local women. Pictured are Miss Sue Wilson, Mrs. David Zachary and Miss Cheryl Lowe. Mrs. Edgar Scott was mistress of ceremonies.—Mercury photo

Girl Scout leaders needed in county

A drive to increase the number of Girl Scout volunteer leaders in Nicholas county and the other 56 counties of the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council will get under way Sept. 4.

Goal of the drive—part of a nationwide Girl Scout effort—will be to find and train enough adult volunteers so that every girl six through 17 who wants to become a Scout will be able to do so.

The campaign is being headed by Mrs. Mary E. Birenbaum, Lexington, and will be coordinated on a local level by leaders in each of the Council's 57 counties.

"We are going to try to contact—through telephone calls, advertising, posters and news stories such as this—every potential leader in each county," Mrs. Birenbaum stated, "but anyone we miss should call or write the Council office."

The drive, she noted, is particularly significant at this time since the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. recently lowered the membership age from 7 to 6, making a great number of first-graders eligible to wear the Brownie uniform.

Mrs. Birenbaum said that adults (a leader and assistant) for only one troop would meet the Scouting needs of 25 girls. "You can see how quickly the number of girls will grow as the number of additional volunteers grow," ! !

Plans for the recruitment drive call for a quick follow-up, interview and placement of volunteers on the local level, Mrs. Birenbaum said.

Miss Johnson runner-up in R.E.C.C. pageant

Susan Johnston, 20, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Lester Johnston, of Maysville, Route 4, "Miss Fleming-Mason RECC of 1973", was first runner-up in the Miss Kentucky RECC Beauty Pageant held last Wednesday at the Kentucky State Fair.

Miss Johnston was edged out of first place by Sandy Kay Smith, of Princeton, "Miss Henderson-Union RECC."

Second runner-up in the contest was Debbie Bogle, of Hustonville, "Miss Inter-County RECC".

Lynn Marie Tussey, Cynthiana, "Miss Harrison County RECC", was selected as Miss Cordiality, by the 20 other girls, competing in the contest.

As first runner-up, Susan received a $300 scholarship, a bouquet of yellow roses and the coveted silver trophy and sash.

If for any reason the winner of the contest cannot compete in the National contest to be held in San Francisco in February, Susan will represent Kentucky in the National Pageant.

Susan graduated from Maysville Community College this year, where she was a member of Student Government, the Fine Arts Board, and starred in the college's production of the musical "Oklahoma". Her special talents are singing and speech and her hobbies are refinishing furniture and decoupage. She plans to use her scholarship at the University of Houston where she will study Optometry.

Target area meet scheduled Aug. 31

The monthly Target Area Meeting will be held at the Nicholas County Community Center on Archdeacon Avenue Friday, Aug. 31, at 2 p.m.

Terrell Ross, Deputy Director of Licking Valley Community Action Program will be the guest speaker.

Roberta Prather, Community Worker, urges everyone of the low income bracket to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served and games played.
