Starting teacher salary range released by Parsley

Starting salaries for the 1973-74 school year in Nicholas county for teachers with bachelor's degrees (Rank III) range from $6,000 to $12,000, according to figures recently released by Superintendent D.P. Parsley.

A teacher in Rank III with no experience would receive the minimum salary. A teacher with experience would receive $150 per year for experience through 10 years to the maximum. The majority of Nicholas county teachers fall into the Rank III category.

Teachers coming into Nicholas county to teach for the first time may transfer up to five years of experience from another teaching district.

Rank II, a master's degree teacher, would qualify in the salary range of $6,570 to $8,310 depending on his experience. A Rank I teacher, a master's

Food, cars rank high in local spending

NEW YORK—Residents of Nicholas county were in the marketplace in greater force in the past year, according to a report on local retail store activity, just released.

With most local families enjoying bigger incomes than in the previous year, they were in a position to spend more and they did so.

They were far less cautious in that respect than they had been in 1971, when they kept their spending under tight control and put a record amount of money into savings.

The facts and figures, with a breakdown of their outlays for automobiles, food, clothing, furniture and other goods and services, are from a new consumer markets survey conducted by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It gives comparable data for every section of the country.

In Nicholas county, 11 of 100 stores selling food and automotive equipment captured a large part of the consumer dollar. Between the two of them, they attracted 55 percent of all local retail business.

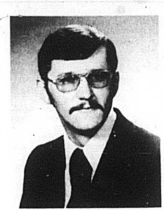

Their combined share, elsewhere in the United States was 41 percent, and in the State of Kentucky, 44 percent.

The amount spent for food alone, in local supermarkets, totalled $1,120,000.

City can go food stamp program alone

Bill Woods, Food Stamp Field Representative, Kentucky State Office, said the City Council meeting, July 9, that his knowledge, the city of Carlisle could not receive food stamps unless the entire county went on the food stamp program. Since that time, Rick Crawford of Frankfort has contacted Mayor William Power and has confirmed the fact that the city may go on the food stamp program without the consent of the fiscal court.

Fielstad to appear Sunday at Church

Norm Fielstad will be at the Carlisle Christian Church during the morning services on Sunday, July 22, under the auspices of the Gospel Broadcasting Mission. He has developed a unique approach to sharing the work of GDM through the use of his guitar and "Harry", a loveable little baseball player with a wooden head. Norm has been traveling in behalf of GDM since June 1972.

Norm was born and raised on a dairy farm near DeSoto, Wis. He was very active in high school, lettering in basketball and track, taking a lead part in musicals, and served as vice-president of his senior class and president of his senior class. To help further his education Norm received a scholarship grant and decided to attend La Crosse State University. He worked in logging and at various other odd jobs to get himself through college.

One of the highlights of Norm's college experience was being on the debate team. He was on a team of four that took first place in the nation in a debate-discussion topic of ways and means of controlling air pollution. Now he is more interested in soulful playing. Norm graduated from La Crosse State University with a double major in speech and history. Not only is he a good speaker, but he plays a guitar and sings well, writing much of his own music.

Neighborhood Youth Camp operation in Nicholas

William Perkins, executive director of Linking Valley C.A.P., Inc., reports that for the seventh year the Linking Valley C.A.P., Inc. has funding for a Neighborhood Youth Corps Program.

The program was slated for termination, but through a court decision, funds were appropriated this year. The Linking Valley area, Bath, Bracken, Fleming, Mason, Menifee, Montgomery, Nicholas and Robertson counties, received $41,668. With this money 117 students, meeting O.E.O. (Office of Economic Opportunity) poverty guidelines, will be placed to work in public agencies.

Over $1,000 of the monies will go to pay enrollee's wages. Each student will work 20 hours each week for eight weeks and receive $1.95 per hour.

The program is to encourage students to stay in school, teach good working habits and provide extra help for public agencies in the county.

Any student interested in the O.E.O. guidelines or needing additional information may contact Roberta Frasier, Outreach Worker at Nicholas County Community Center, Archdale Avenue.

The Center is open five days a week from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Dove season Sept. 1-Oct. 31

FRANKFORT—The 1973 dove hunting season will open Sept. 1 and run through Oct. 31, with the second portion of the split season from Dec. 1 through Dec. 3, according to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The law has had for the opening season will be 12 doves, with a possession limit of 24 birds. After two or more doves of hunting, possession limits apply to transporting doves but do not permit an excess of doves to be transported.

Shooting hours for doves are from 12 o'clock noon to one-half hour before sunset, prevailing time. Regulations also prohibit shooting with any shotgun capable of holding more than three shells, or shooting over a baited field, which is defined as any field where corn, wheat, salt or any other feed is present as the result of other than normal agricultural planting and harvesting procedures.

Food stamp regulations amended

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced an amendment to food stamp program regulations which would require that the income of certain individuals be averaged over a 12-month period in determining eligibility for participation in the food stamp program.

This amendment applies to those individuals, such as teachers, who are under a contract which is renewable each year or longer. The income from contracted employment, even though the contract includes predetermined non-work (vacation) periods, will be averaged over 12 months. If the average income exceeds the food stamp maximum income levels, the household will be ineligible to participate in the program, even during the non-work period.

Representative Carl Perkins of Kentucky urged all high school graduates who need financial assistance in order to continue their education to check and see if they are eligible for Basic Educational Opportunity Grants.

The Seventh District Congressman said interested graduates should go to the nearest college state employment office or county agricultural extension office, and ask for an "Application for

Methers Fund application dates

Mrs. Lovell Hollar will be in the Courthouse on the following dates to accept Methers Educational Fund applications: Aug. 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Not everyone will be eligible under this program, but I know that it can help many of our young people learn a skill or a profession," Representative Perkins said.

He said the form has all of the information needed, and applicants should not delay securing one so that an eligibility determination can be made.
