Nursing Home news by Virginia Smith Donovan

In the afternoon we drove out to Mae Shannon Booth's to see her antiques. She's Herman Shannon's daughter. I had visited there so many times. Alma and I always had such good times together. I saw the stump of the tree that Alma and Hild climbed up tel hide to keep from washing the diamer dishes. They climbed down at tive of clock and the dinner dishes were there waiting for them.

Mae gave me an old fashioned picture of a family group.

Not only because we're obligated to. But because we want to.

We take electricity to everyone in our service area, wherever it's needed.

No matter how far we must go. Regardless of how small your need for electric power may be. We call it "Area Coverage".

And that's the way we like it. Providing low-cost electric power to every farm, home, business, industry, and institution we serve. And as you grow, we'll grow with you.
