MAGIEWORD by JULIE QUART

HOW TO PLAY: Start with the list of words below and anagrams. You'll find these words in all directions—horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backward, and forward. Circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle then write it off. Circle the letter with which the word used but will have a visible should it also form part of another word. Find the bag words! When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They're spelled out in your MAGEWORD.

Nursing Home News

By Mrs. Virginia S. Donovan
When happiness seems to be no where around, remember... it's waiting, just to be found.
I had a very pleasant surprise one day. A friend, Mrs. Frances Lewis of Louisville, who had been in my Sunday School Class came to see me. She didn't get to stay but a few minutes as she was attending a Homemakers workshop at the 441 Camp and had come here on her lunch hour.
Mrs. Mae Berry has so many pretty nieces, Sunday, Lucille Fealack, Lolly Caswell, Margaret Osborne and Miss Catherine Wells came.
I had never heard all of this question, "All things come to those who wait," but Herman Coyers said that included poverty and old age.
Mrs. Iva Payne said she had read the Bible through 12 times.
Margaret Wells said she had always heard that a lot of living to make a life.
Margaret Wells has some very nice boys and Virginia Wells has some nice grandsons. We have seen two of them, Jackie, 11, and Mike, 12. I think Jackie would make a nice friend for my grandsons.
Elizabeth Miller and her daughter, Gladys Hurst, of Pinella, Fla. visited the home recently. Tony Dolan and Mr. Miller married sisters, Billa and Laura Bell Ogden. Said they kept up with the news from reading the "Mercury" Nursing Home News. My namesake, Mrs. Frons Mann Shalkin, was a first cousin to the Ogden girls. I remember I visited her in Paris and she and I visited the Millers when Gladys was just a few days old.
We all like to reminisce. Elmer Frederick's daughter, Nancy Shaw, and I were talking about when children used to make daisy and clover chains.
Jean Rawlings and her niece, Erin Thompson, stopped to see me when they came to see their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Frances Elizabeth Hickey. They are nice folks. I want to keep them as close friends.
I'm now rooming with Mrs. Iva Payne. I do believe that she and Clarice Hardin were the first ones to meet Noah and his wife at the ark. They know everyone and his grandpa! They were both born in Bath county.
Mrs. Mertie Jones was around one day and stopped to say "hello."
I have received so many nice letters and cards from so many since I have been writing the news and I want to say again I appreciate every one of them. Most everyday there is a surprise in the mail.
Mr. and Mrs. Mathias of Nicholasville visited their cousin, Mrs. Margaret Bradley, Sunday.
I'm visiting the Booth family recently. Rachel had a house guest who is the granddaughter of Mrs. Gertrude Vio. Mrs. Vio is in my Sunday School Class.
The last letter I had from my sister-in-law, Mrs. S.S. Smith, said my brother was improving slowly and was now in the Brothers Home in Greenville, Ohio.
July 4 was rather quiet around here. Barbara did quite a lot of decorating. She painted flags for the doors. John Martin had a birthday on that day. We sang "Happy Birthday" to him. His pretty daughter, Judy Kay, came with him. No wonder he's proud of her.
I called my step-daughter, Ann Donovan Rogers, early July 4 and I wished her a happy birthday. I remember when her mother brought her to school the first day at Taylor's Creek School. She was a shy little girl but knew more than she told.
I believe Franklin Dean Bell's birthday is July 4. He lives in Lexington one, and was also one of my pupils.
The last letter I had from my Leland, Ohio daughter, Sue, said she had been quite busy sewing. She had made a garden and had already had quite a few vegetables from it. Said she was planning to teach in Bible School a little later. Rev. Herman Kamlage, pastor of the

THE CARLISLE (KY.) MERCURY, THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1973 - He told us that God works the worship service had charge of. There were about 15 present. Rev. Kamlage played and sang a new song. "Peace My Friends." He told us that God works Continued on page 10
