"Chances are you'll build a home, too. And if you're like us, you won't take chances with the heat. You'll go electric."

Mr. & Mrs. H. L. Bailey, Radcliff, Ky.

"Sure don't need any crystal ball... building or buying a new home is probably in your future. When the time comes, be sure to look into electric heat. You'll never regret it."
 With electric heat's high-standard insulation you get 100% comfort and use of electricity—no waste. Warmth is maintained at an even, draft-free level—no constant, wasteful manipulating the thermostat. You can also have individual room controls to avoid overheating temporarily unused areas. Bonuses: cleanliness to cut redecorating costs; trouble-free performance for next-to-zero maintenance.
 When you build or buy (or even remodel) call us first—for electric heat information and a free estimate.

MONEY FROM JUNK
 It's not junk, actually, but it's worth money, all that stuff around your house in basement and attic, tucked away in drawers and closets, call them odds and ends... the out-of-date and barely used. You can sell them, often for a surprisingly large amount of money. How? Hold a garage sale.

INSIDE STORY OF SEAMS
 Time was when ladies of royal courts concealed the seams of gowns with pearls, other precious jewels or expensive embroidery. The idea, no doubt, was to give the impression that the garment was not sewed but sprang from their perfect forms. The outside of seams are decorated today, but the intent is to emphasize the rather than conceal it.

JOIN IN JUNE DAIRY MONTH

... a special month set aside to pay tribute to the dairy farmers of Kentucky for their contribution to the state's food buying public. Through the dairyman's economy of operation, milk prices at the farm level have not been raised enough to offset his increased costs, contributing to the continued low price of dairy products.

STICKY STUFF — It's had enough to ruin a synthetic fabric garment with a too-hot iron, but there's a remedy. Rub a little of the sticky stuff on the bottom to control it. Rub the iron's thermostat to low, then clean with a damp cloth.

FLUFFY STUFF — For yammy cake filling and/or frosting, make two type bananas with a half cup of sugar, a dash of salt and an egg white. Beat with an electric mixer until frosting is stiff. Heavenly on hot gingerbread.

CLUB CLEANER — Save leftover club soda from parties, the flatter the better. Use it to polish furniture, stoves, refrigerators and porcelain appliances. Shines beautifully and never marks a surface.

GRAPY SLAW — Take a cup of halved seedless green grapes, combine with cups of shredded cabbage. Mix in cup of bottled Italian dressing with the same amount of tomato juice and toss this with the tangy slaw. Season and sprinkle it with poppy seeds if you wish.

SHUTTLE LESS — Decorators say it may add instant coziness to your home is to remove clutter. Store heavy accessories and bulky knickknacks on the bottom shelves of dressers, bookshelves, and wardrobes. Expose lots of shiny wood surfaces, use crystal antiques and vases and heavy pots of greenery here and there. Less clutter is more cooling.

HEAVY SEWER — Cut the elastic off tops of panty hose you're discarding. It's usable to replace worn elastic in skirts, slacks and kids' clothes.

WASH 'N' MASH — Avocado is a delicious wash, so wipe up to their genuine wash. Squeeze slightly rope fruit, hold it in your palm and press — gently — with fingers. If it "gives," it's ready for salads, for combining in all sorts of vegetable and seafood dishes. Once it's cut, sprinkle on lime or lemon juice to keep avocado from darkening.

Miss Betty Goldsboro spent Saturday night with Ragena Mattos.

One of the worst days of our day so far spent through our community and others on Sunday afternoon. A house trailer and all the contents belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Hollar were completely demolished. Many smaller buildings, cars and most of the crops were completely washed away.

The Headquarters Vacation Bible School will begin on Monday night, June 23 through June 28, meeting each evening from 7 to 9 p.m. All children are urged to attend.

W. C. Mattos and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hollar had as visitors during the week Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peaback, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snapp, Mrs. Gladys Kenney, Vaughn Mattos, Patricia Ferra and son, Ragena.
