

Speaking of food prices

In recent weeks, news stories have appeared from the Atlantic to the Pacific, telling of another hoaxes... picketing supermarkets... grocery store... speaking of food prices...

MERCURY VAPORS by Warren R. Fisher

A headline proclaims: "Why not try planting something new? Yes, why not? There are three new varieties this season from Burpee's—Green Arrow, Green Ice lettuce, and Golden Wonder..."

At the same time, they are indirectly responsible for these same costs. "The odds are that not one city dweller in a hundred has ever encountered a worm in an apple..."

Should your fancy run to flowers, then there are seed tapes for the garden worth more of planting, as well as packets... Additional seed tapes for herbs and some vegetables...

Frederick Burkard, Editor and Publisher, of the Carlsle County News, has this to say: "This city citizen is expressing much concern over the increased prices of meats and other farm products, but...

AGREE or NOT

I Say What I Think by S. C. VanCuren

FRANKFORT—The approaching May primary is an important one for candidates for sheriff because of what the county board of supervisors has agreed to do on the November election... "The sheriff is the only elective county official who is not permitted to succeed himself..."

It also would abolish the present three-year term of the Railroad Commission. The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department... "The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department..."

In Gov. Wendell Ford's general reorganization now under way, the Railroad Commission is attached to the Department of Transportation... "The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department..."

Presently, the legislature meets for 60 days every two years, but these are spread over a period of four months... "The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department..."

There was some discussion that the new government structure would not start until 1974... "The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department..."

Legislators say that the legislative days, scattered over four months, would give them more time to consider important bills with their constituents before action... "The legislature then could assign its duties and powers to another government department..."
