FHA Week proclaimed

April 1 through 7 has been designated National FHA Week. Members of Future Homemakers of America will carry out special activities and observations designated to share their experiences and accomplishments with family, friends and neighbors.

The eighty members of the Nicholas County FHA chapter have scheduled a number of activities for this week. Plans outlined by the president include fixing teacher's table in the cafeteria, cleaning up the school yard, doing odd jobs for local residents, and washing windshields of cars.

Officers in the Nicholas County chapter are: Sandra Cleaver, president; Carol Hunt, first vice president; Lisa Reynolds, second vice president; Karen Watkins, secretary; Judy Hunter, treasurer; Sharon Price, assistant treasurer; Mary Ann Wood, historian; James Cooper, assistant historian; Mary Mitchell, parliamentarian; Selma Walker, song leader; Lillian Taber, recreation leader; Debbie Ritchie, entertainment; Carol Landenburg, reporter; Kathy Duncan, devotion leader; Mrs. Bonnie Metcalfe and Mrs. Martha Taylor, advisers.

The theme chosen for this year's National FHA Week is "Exploring New Horizons—Extended Goals to focus attention on what our half-century young men and women in FHA and HERO chapters throughout the country are doing to explore the multiple roles individuals play in family, community and career life."

Sandra Cleaver, chapter president.

points out that several million young people have been challenged to the unlimited opportunities offered through membership in Future Homemakers of America over the twenty-eight years since its establishment as the national organization for high school students in home economics and related occupations. "FHA plays an effective role in the educational system," she stated, "by keeping us involved in activities as family and community members. In other words, it serves as a bridge between the classroom, the home and the community and is the key for developing the potential of each individual member for a productive life in our society."

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self-supporting organization officially sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. It is sponsored by the Home Economics Unit, Bureau of Vocational Education. It encompasses two types of chapters: FHA chapters for students in homemaking, consumer and family life education; and HERO chapters for students enrolled in home economics related occupational courses. High school home economics teachers serve as advisers to the 11,000 local FHA chapters throughout the country. National headquarters are located in Washington, D.C.

Two functions will be held in April by Nicholas County Democrats as part of the state-wide Democratic fund-raising campaign now in progress.

A fish fry will be held on Friday, April 13, 6:30-9:00 p.m. at the Fish and Game Club, at which time a country ham will be given away.

On Saturday, April 21, Democrats from Nicholas, Fleming, Robertson and Bath counties will hold a fish fry at Blue Licks State Park, 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Featured speaker will be U.S. Senator Walter "Doc" Hollifield.

Tickets to these events can be obtained from Avery Mitchell, Jack Corley or any Democratic precinct committeeman.

Proceeds from the fund-raising campaign will be used to build a state Democratic headquarters building in Frankfort, to erect Senator Hollifield's statue, and for operating expenses of the state organization.

Set-aside requirements for Feed Grain reduced

A further reduction in set-aside requirements for the 1973 Feed Grain Program has been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Earl B. Butz, in order to bring the feed grain supplies more in line with expected demand, states Eugene Lettner, Chairman, Nicholas County ASC Committee.

"The required set aside for full compliance is changed from 25 to 10 percent of a producer's feed grain base. For participants who elected not to comply fully with the set-aside program and take a reduced or zero payment, the required set-aside remains unchanged at zero percent," points out Mr. Lettner.

In the March 1 report, the $725-million bushels of corn indicated is considered insufficient to fulfill projected domestic and export demand and maintain adequate carryover stocks and the $3.8-million acres of soybeans indicated are the minimum needed in order to meet demand. Therefore, this action was necessary.

Producers who agreed in the recently concluded 1973 feed grain program sign-up to set aside 25 percent of their feed grain base will not receive less program payment and will automatically have their set-aside reduced to 10 percent.
