

Nursing home news

Mrs. Iva Payne had a beautiful yellow suit given and gold colored robe given to her from an old friend. Believe she said she was a neighbor when they lived at Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Cordia Hamilton and Miss Mary Linn Campbell were around Wednesday spreading a little sunshine.

Bobby Crockett was around Monday morning. Said his mother Mrs. Anna D. Crockett was still in a Lexington hospital. Was better than he had been, was now having skin grafted on her face. She still enjoys letters and cards.

Mrs. Edith Harvey is a new patient, said she lived around Crutcher, short one from Blanch House, two Mr. Carmichael.

Barbara Hopkins went to Lexington to see her mother who has returned from St. Joseph Hospital but will have to go back to the hospital for a similar operation but doesn't seem to be discouraged.

Mrs. Margie Dotson's son Benjie comes most every night to see his mother. I may be wrong but I believe

Miss Tabor correspondent for magazine

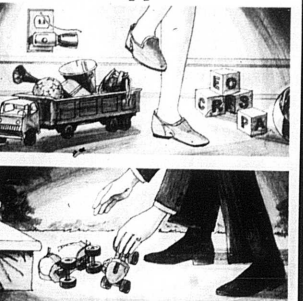

Miss Janice Tabor has been named Co-Ed correspondent for the 1974-75 school year, according to an announcement by Midge Richardson, editor of Co-Ed Magazine. Co-Ed, published nationally by Scholastic Magazine, Inc., for home economics students, contains features on personal development, careers and consumer awareness as well as the latest trends in fashion, food, beauty, and home furnishings.

Miss Tabor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tabor, is a senior at Nicholas County High School. She was appointed correspondent by Mrs. Martha Taylor and Mrs. Bonnie Wilkerson, home economics teachers at the school.

Local student earns diploma

Robert H. Vaughn, Carlisle, Route 3, recently graduated DeVry Home Study School Institute of Technology, Chicago, where he received an electronics technician diploma. Vaughn specialized his training in home entertainment electronics system (with VCR kit). He is employed with Veterans Administration Hospital in Lexington, as a nursing assistant.

"Little" accidents that didn't happen...

thanks to light

Sometimes light is vital. A minor night time accident—tripping over a toy inside, a forgotten trike outside—can have major consequences. For personal and family safety, have some strategically placed lights where they are essential: hallways and bathroom, garage and carport. Safety lighting need not be overpowering, just ample for the task it's doing. And, the cost is minimal: you can burn a 100-watt bulb all night for about 3¢.

she said he lived at Millersburg.

Helen Myers said her mother Nancy Barker just 100 well but in back home now. Helen said she saw Margaret Livingston in Paducah recently and she had several grandchildren with her, wasn't too well but was still working hard as usual.

Thelma Morris had a couple of days off from work, spent the time making candy, about 50 pounds.

Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Berryman came Friday to visit Henry's brother Herman. They stay at Winchester.

I have received two Christmas cards, one from Charles Hildebrand and one from Blanch House, two Mr. Carmichael.

I talked to my daughter, Henslie, who said her three children were doing very well in school. All made the honor roll.

Herman Conyers spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mathis and their children. Mrs. Mathis is his only granddaughter.

Someone brought my roommate, Mrs. Billie Weather, a pretty decorated card and put it on her desk while she was asleep.

Today I received a Christmas card and letter from my late sister-in-law's sister, Myrtle Gage.

Friday Barbara showed us some Christmas pictures, the story of Christmas in Germany. Mrs. Mary Hill who is a native of Germany enjoyed all of the story and was about the last to come from the day room.

Rather late Friday Clara Ruth Craig who used to work here stepped to see us on the way to work, she works at the hospital.

The 6th was Henslie's birthday. Someone gave her a beautiful white reveler, also a necklace, don't know who they were from.

I don't think I'll send many, if any, write Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

The 1974 Census of Agriculture will be conducted by mail by the Bureau of Economic Census which will put the questionnaires in the mail shortly before Jan. 1. Farmers are asked to fill them out and return them, by mail, before Jan. 30 if possible.

Standing by to answer questions about the farm census and the census report form are employees of the Nicholas County ASCS office, said. "We have been supplied with informational material and prepared to help any farmer who wants to know more about the census or the census form."

"I want to emphasize, however, that ASCS is not conducting the census. Our agency is only cooperating with the Census Bureau in an all-out effort to see that every farmer is fully informed about the 1974 Census of Agriculture," said.

The questions ask for such facts as acreage of cropland, harvested, quantity and market value of major crops produced, areas irrigated and means of irrigation, acreage treated with pesticides, lime and other chemicals, and acreage fertilized.

First in answer to the request for a recipe for old fashioned pan cream candy, here is the one I have been able to obtain.

CREAM CANDY

The recipe requires three cups of white sugar, one cup water, one cup cream, one teaspoon vanilla.

Boil the sugar and water well, wipe down crystals or heat the pan. Cook until mixture threads or until 240 degrees. Add cream, a teaspoon of salt, then stop stirring the heat. Then cook to 228 degrees or hard crack stage. Pour on greased marble and add vanilla after candy is poured. Begin pulling as soon as it is cool enough to handle.

OLD FASHIONED GRANOLA CAKE

1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup instant natural cereal (plain, corn or raisin)
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup shortening
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon oil
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup boiling water over cereal and let stand 10 minutes. Mix white and brown sugar, shortening, salt, oil, and flour. Add cereal and flour and mix well. Pour into greased and floured tin. Bake 275 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Dust with powdered sugar or serve warm with whipped cream.

GUM DROP FRUIT CAKE

2 cups pecans (chopped)
1 cup chopped dates
3 slices candied pineapple
3 red gum drops
3 green gum drops
3 orange slices
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups cake flour
1 cup Eagle Brand milk
Cut fruit and gum drops in small pieces. Mix in flour, add milk, coconut, nuts. Mix well. Pour into greased cake pan lined with wax paper. Bake in a very slow oven 260 degrees for 1 hour or until golden brown.

I find these cakes quite different from the small Christmas cakes.

PEANUT-BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES

1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup chunky-style peanut butter
2 cups cake flour
Cream margarine and brown sugar. Stir in flour, measure with 1/2 cup. Add sugar, syrup, and peanut butter. Mix well. Press in ungreased 13x9x2 inch baking pan. Bake in 350

Births

Dr. and Mrs. Larry S. Atkinson of Mayfield, announce the birth of a daughter, born Nov. 28, 1974 at the Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington. This is the first child and has been named Laura Ann. She weighed eight pounds and one ounce.

Mrs. Atkinson was the former Fay Wooten of Orlando, Fla. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Atkinson of Palm Beach, Fla.

74 Agri Census questionnaires are due Jan 30

The questionnaire farmers are asked to fill out for the 1974 Census of Agriculture is shorter than it looks at first glance, according to Ed H. Hall, Nicholas County executive director, ASCS.

"Most Nicholas county farmers will discover while sections of the census form on which all they will have to do is check the 'No' box and go on to the next section," he said. Because the same questionnaire is used all parts of the United States, it contains questions that apply to other parts of the country but not in Nicholas County. Hall explained. And some sections will be applicable for some farms in the county, but not for others.

On the other hand, the victim of the law often does not know the original form often does not have in his possession. In this situation, the law will make fair allowance for the tension of the moment and a normal degree of error.

For example, a home owner, called a mocking name by his neighbor, recalled by his neighbor over the head with a fork. For this, the home owner was later held liable in a courtroom.

In another case, a man responded to a push by knocking the pusher down and then—when he was lying helpless—kicking him in the face. And, a court ruled that the man must pay for "the sheer viciousness which led him to kick the law into his own hands."

On the other hand, the victim of the law often does not know the original form often does not have in his possession. In this situation, the law will make fair allowance for the tension of the moment and a normal degree of error.

degree even 15 minutes. In saucepan, combine white sugar and corn syrup. Heat to boiling. Remove from heat. Add butter, salt, and vanilla. Stir until thick. Spread over baked layer. Cool, cut in squares.

Why you have the corn flakes on hand is another cookie recipe. This makes a soft cookie and easy. They will keep well in a tin box.

SOFT CHOCOLATE COFFEE CAKE COOKIES

3 squares unsweetened chocolate (1 1/4 ounces) can sweetened condensed milk (not evaporated milk)
1 cup pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cornmeal or other flake cereal may be used
1/2 cup coconut
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Stir in condensed milk, vanilla and salt. Stir well. Remove from heat and fold in pecans, cornmeal, and coconut. Drop by teaspoonful into greased cookie sheet. Bake at 200 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool, then remove from cookie sheet.

Myths and realities of today's woman

The Myth: A woman's place is in the home. The Reality: Her place is in the home, but not exclusively. She is no longer a full-time job for most people. Dads and sons formerly related to the home. She is now commercially available, labor-saving devices have lightened or eliminated much work around the house.

The Myth: Women don't want responsibility on the job. They don't want to be in the labor force, they want to be at home. The Reality: Today more than half of all women between 18 and 64 years of age are in the labor force, and they are making a substantial contribution to the nation's economy. Studies show that more than 10 million women work outside the home at some time in their lives. Of the nearly 14 million women in the labor force in March 1973, nearly 10 million were in professional or family economic need. They were either single, widowed, divorced, or separated. More than 10 million women were or had husbands with incomes between $1,000 and $7,000.

The Myth: Women are old 30 more than male workers; they cost the company more. The Reality: A recent Public Health Service study lists little difference in absentee rate due to illness or injury: 5.6 days a year for women compared with 5.2 for men.

The Myth: Men don't work as long as women. The Reality: Men's life expectancy is longer than women's. The average man lives 74 years, the average woman 73 years.

The Myth: Men don't like to work for women supervisors. The Reality: Most men who complain about women supervisors have never worked for a woman. In one study where at least three-fourths of both the male and female respondents (all executives) had worked with women managers, their evaluation of women in management was favorable. On the other hand, the study showed a traditional/cultural bias among those who reacted unfavorably to women as managers. In another survey in which 11 percent of the reporting firms indicated that they hired women executives, none rated their performance as poor. In fact, 56 percent rated them adequate; 41 percent rated them as good; and 3 percent rated them as excellent.
