Griffin's circus memorabilia gets a new home

by Ambrose Boston
Special To The Herald-Leader

What is believed to have been Central Kentucky's largest collection of circus memorabilia has left Lexington to go to the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wisc.

The collection owned by W.B. Griffin, 1929 Hart Road, has been donated to the Wisconsin museum to insure that the material will be preserved in a fireproof building and displayed for the benefit of all persons interested in the circus. Mr. Griffin had hoped to find a local place where his collection could be preserved and displayed, but such a place apparently does not exist here.

The collection ranges from newspaper clippings regarding performers and musicians to the large No. 24 circus advertising sheets which circuses now use in empty store windows and at one time pasted on barns and other available structures in town and country.

Scores of photographs, most of them autographed, are in the collection. Pictures of the Ringling Brothers—Barnum & Bailey bands include two Kentuckians: Otis Jones, Lexington, and Joe Browning, Falmouth, both deceased. Otis Jones' brother, Cecil Jones, is a resident of Lexington.

Among the interesting articles is a sword used by a sword swallower in the old Ringling Brothers' side show.

A large number of circus programs are in the lot. Many are from Ringling Brothers—Barnum & Bailey, while others are from Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West, Al G. Barnes, Sells-Floto, Hagenbeck-Wallace and other circuses.

Pictures from the original Cole Brothers, Gollmar Brothers, Might Haig, Christy Brothers and others are included. One picture shows the Christy Brothers Band, directed by Everett James and including his son, Harry James, age 14, on trumpet.

Mr. Griffin, trombonist for many years with the Oleika Temple Shrine Band, played for the local Shrine circus for 15 years and during this period received autographed photographs from many performers and musicians.

A long personal friendship with Merle Evans, for 50 years director of the Ringling Brothers—Barnum & Bailey Band, led to more autographed photographs. Mr. Griffin is keeping one large 8-inch-by-10-inch photograph of Mr. Evans, a native Kentuckian. Mr. Evans, now 82, still keeps busy. After a concert in Indiana in February, he will come to Kentucky for a band clinic at Morehead State University. While there he will be guest conductor of the Morehead band. From Morehead he will go to Wisconsin for three concerts.

The Griffin collection also includes many annual route books for Ringling Brothers—Barnum & Bailey, Cole Brothers and other shows. These books show all performances during the season, miles traveled, number of bales of hay fed to animals each day and scores of other facts and figures.

One of the band pictures shows the Ringling Brothers' band of about 1910 when it included 45 musicians. "Salary for a band musician then probably was $10 a week," said Mr. Griffin. Autographed photographs of circus band masters also are there.

Izzy Cervone, who succeeded Merle Evans with Ringling-Barnum; Phil Dolo, Cristiani Bros., and Bailey Bros.; Skinny Goe, Gil Gray, Bailey, Cristiani, and Rogers circuses; William Browning, Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros.; Raymond Escoria, Cristiani; Raymond Aguilar, Clyde Beatty; Henry Kyes, Polack, Clyde Beatty, Cole, Sparks and Russell Bros.; Joe Basile Hamid-Morton; A. Lee Hinckley, King Bros., Lewis Bros., Dan Rice, Cristiani; Bill Pruyn, Tom Packs Circus; Joe Rossi, Millie Bros. and Dailey Bros.

In addition to the large autographed picture of Merle Evans, Mr. Griffin is keeping autographed pictures of Emmett Kelley, famous clown, Lou Jacobs, producing clown of the Ringling-Barnum Red Unit; Clyde Beatty, famous animal trainer, and one Henry Kyes, band director of numerous circuses and for 20 years first trumpet under Merle Evans with Ringling-Barnum. He also is keeping tapes of circuses and circus band records which now are quite rare. One of the large boxes sent to Baraboo was filled with newspaper clippings regarding circuses and their performers and musicians.

As all circus fans know, Baraboo was the original home of the Ringling Brothers Circus and winter quarters were maintained there before the days of Ringling Brothers—Barnum-Bailey combined. Part of the Circus World Museum, which covers 40 acres and includes 27 buildings, is on the old Ringling Property. In summer all buildings housing circus relics are open to the public. The Museum library, where the Griffin collection will be housed, is open the entire year.

The Griffin home on Hart Road now has a little more open space, but it still contains a valuable collection of tapes and records, plus show business photographs and a collection of railroad pictures. Mr. Griffin's interest in the circus dates back to his school boy days in Carlisle where he played trombone in the high school band: When the Rhoda Royal Circus came to town he was invited to play with the circus band as a "guest artist." From then until now Mr. Griffin has been a circus fan.

Turn in temporary drivers license now

"Anyone who now holds a temporary Kentucky driver's license", said state Division of Driver Licensing Director F.E. Hodges, "should turn it in before the end of the year. Their permanent licenses are now available at their circuit court clerk's office and they will be issued upon submission of the temporary license.

"After Jan. 1, 1975 the new operator's licenses bearing the color photograph of the driver will be issued. The cost of these licenses is being raised from the current $3 to $4 to cover the additional expense of the photograph.

"Kentucky law requires that all licenses issued after Jan. 1, 1975 bear a color photograph of the driver", said Hodges. "So anyone who now has a temporary license and doesn't turn it in until after the first of the year will be issued the photolicense and will have to pay the additional one dollar."

Under the state's computerized license renewal program, preprinted operator's licenses have been issued at circuit courts throughout the state since April 1974.

"One purpose of the computerized system", said Hodges, "is to eliminate the temporary operator's license which circuit courts issued in the past. And the computerized system has for the most part accomplished this purpose.

"However", said Hodges, "it has still been necessary to issue temporary operator's licenses to individuals whose preprinted licenses have not been on hand at the circuit court when they came to pick them up.

Hodges explained that the most common reason the preprinted license has not been available at the individual's circuit court is that the person has moved from one town to another since last obtaining a license. The preprinted license would in this case have been mailed to the person's previous hometown circuit court.

"We have not taken steps to eliminate the issuing of temporary operator's licenses in the event of such mixups", said Hodges.

"A supply of permanent two-year licenses has been issued to each circuit court in the state, and these will be issued whenever the preprinted license is not on hand at the circuit court.

"This will insure that the individual receives his license on his first trip to the circuit court clerk's office", said Hodges.

Homemakers asked to light candles Dec. 24

Because it is Christmas and the energy crisis is upon us every homemaker in the state of Kentucky has been asked to light a candle at 5:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

It is an old Spanish custom to put a candle by the door or several candles along the driveway on Christmas Eve symbolizing a Christmas home to light the way for the Christ Child.

Paper bags are partially filled with sand and short candles placed inside. The bags are rolled down some from the top.

In Phoenix, Ariz. on the Air Force Base in the government houses last Christmas all driveways on the block had these candles about two feet apart making it a beautiful sight.

As we light these candles let us say a prayer for our nation and all humanity. Merry Christmas.—Submitted by Mrs. George Dale, Bluegrass Area Homemakers president.

After the meal the 15 members and one guest heard accordian music and songs by Mrs. Bonnie Cummins. The scripture was read by Mrs. Russell Shrout and the prayer was led by Mrs. J.R. Hamilton. Mrs. Grimes Caywood lit the Christmas candle. A reading by Mrs. Frank Henry and a Christmas story by Mrs. S.M. DeMyer followed.

An exchange of gifts concluded the meeting.

MAGICWORD

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle then scratch it off list. Circling will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.

MERRY CHRISTMAS! — Sol.: 11 letters
