

It's not the shortage

The fact that there is a fuel shortage in this country is not what is bothering us. Our big beef is in the way in which it is being handled.

At the outset, most Americans are not accustomed to 6 to 10 inches and began wearing. Oh, there were some grumbling and some who still don't think there is any real shortage refused to do with less heat and light. ... The majority of citizens went along the way they were used to.

Two of the outstanding examples were the return to daylight saving time and the gasoline allocation plan.

Wheat sale vs Alaska purchase

As if to add insult to injury, the Russians, apparently, have decided to sell to the United States to help replenish our grain stocks that have fallen to their lowest point since 1945.

It would not be a bad deal for the boys in Moscow. Wheat is selling for the first time about $5.00 per bushel and will probably go higher yet.

It is a "Russian" offer—may have a long-ink-slick quality to it. It was made in a news conference by one Vladimir S. Alkshin, vice president of Deputy Minister of Foreign Trade.

It was announced that the Russians would be buying Alaska back in 1987 for $7 million. "That was cheap, too," he said.

Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

Happiness is neither virtue nor pleasure, nor is this thing nor that, but simply growth. We are happy when we are growing.

—Just heard a good piece of news about my little neighbor, Paty Isham who lives on Symmes. She's home from St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington after a serious operation. Her mother, the late Mrs. Edith Isham and I were such good friends.

Before you say 'I do'

in Hungary, daw-ling, we make sure you did

NEW ITEM "Love at first sight" isn't practical this time in Hungary. The bride and groom exchange advance notice and sign a "marriage school."

"Good morning, class and welcome to the Zsa Zsa Gabor School of Marriage. As prescribed by law, you have married in the state's family planning program. You are now a husband and wife. There will be no divorce. You are now a husband and wife. There will be no divorce.

"Down, boy, and stiff that heavy padding on the front of your suit. The instructor motions the class toward a series of booths set up around the room. "In any successful marriage, there are several situations that are going to arise and you must be prepared to cope with them. Now, you must move up to the first station."

Letters for no reason

Editor, The Carlsle Mercury: I find enclosed check for $6.00 for another year of The Mercury. It is the closest thing to a letter from home. I will be away for two months last spring. I never look at it in old papers. I haven't seen in a long time when I have had a letter from my daughter, Mrs. W.M. Blair—Miss Fannie Herrington Ritchie, 41 Saturday—John W. Myers for more than half a century resident of White, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James W
