appliances, accounted for $382,000. Their total, a year earlier, was $322,000.
If the outlay for take-home food were to be divided equally among all local families, each of them would have a bill of $466 for the year.
Shoppers in the United States, the average was $1,231 per family and, in the East South Central States, $1,078.
The figures for other retail lines also indicate relatively strong consumer buying locally.

Outlets for cars, motorcycles, trailers, boats and other automotive equipment had receipts totaling $1,282,000, an advance over 1973's year's $1,142,000.
Sales of general merchandise, in variety and department stores, came to $297,000. In 1973 it was $269,000.
Stores carrying coats, dresses, shoes, hats and other wearing apparel reported a sales volume of $714,000, compared with the prior $660,000.
