Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

My cousin, Al Playle from England who has been visiting us, was going-wrong to bring me some interesting recipes from well known places in England. With each recipe is an interesting bit of information about the town or place.

Let's start with the first one, the one that I like best. Leave 3/4 min., strain on to the breadcrumbs. Separate the eggs. Beat the yolks into the breadcrumbs. Add butter, 1/2 cup, 2 tablespoons of sugar and the vanilla. Mix until well amalgamated. Put this on top of the jam in the dish. Bake in the center of the oven for 30 mins. or until firm.
