Mrs. Doran receives award

Mrs. Adron Doran, wife of the president of Morehead State University, was presented Thursday night with the 1974 Citation Award of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security (IAPES).

More than 1,400 persons witnessed the presentation during the group's annual convention in Albuquerque, N.M.

Mrs. Doran was cited for her work in the rehabilitation of prison inmates and for founding and directing the Personnel Development Institute on the MSU campus.

She joins former President John F. Kennedy and U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills as recipients of the top award of IAPES, a professional manpower organization with more than 30,000 members in 101 countries.

Cecil L. Malone of Little Rock, Ark., IAPES president, described the award to Mrs. Doran as "an expression of appreciation for a lifetime of dedicated service to people from all walks of life."

Citation Award Committee Chairman Roy Mearns of Medina, Ohio, characterized Mrs. Doran as "a charming and gracious First Lady who unselfishly and constantly shares her talents and energy to improve the quality of life."

Mrs. Doran, a former president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, was nominated for the international recognition by the Kentucky IAPES chapter.

A native of Graves County, Ky., Mrs. Doran was recognized in 1971 by the Kentucky Young Democrats as the Clancy, West Virginia; six half-sisters, Mrs. Jack Broshko, Mrs. Claude Bieschke, Mrs. William Barkley and Mrs. William Jenkins, all of Lexington; Mrs. Thurber Rawe, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mrs. Robert Rawe, Los Angeles, Calif.

Services were conducted Saturday at the St. Paul's Church, Lexington. Burial in the Carlisle Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary at the W.R. Milward Mortuary was on Friday night.

Olive Hill homecoming
Advance ticket sales for the Tom T. Hall show are on sale at the following establishments: the Western Auto Store, James' Drive-In, Olive Hill Motors and Peoples Bank. Purchase of tickets in advance guarantees admittance to the concert event if it rains and the show is forced inside, according to a representative of the sponsoring Olive Hill Area Chamber of Commerce. The event is part of Olive Hill's 8th Annual Eastern Kentucky Homecoming and guest stars Bill Moore, Jimmy C. Newman and the Starvorts and, of course, the town's native son, Tom T. Hall and his storytellers. Show time is 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, July 2 and will be emceed by noted Nashville radio and TV personality, Ralph Emery. This year's homecoming, which annually draws thousands "back to the hills of Kentucky" and promises to be the biggest and best yet, gets into official swing June 29 with a Jaycee-sponsored golf tournament and proceeds for eight days of festivities, including a National Horse Show slated for Wednesday, July 3.
