eventual cost of such benefits, but one thing is sure," McDowell said, "the heaviest burden will fall on the small mine operator whose work force is generally older in age and years of service." Compensation rates in most states have more than doubled and will continue to rise as Congress votes to raise benefits and reduce the period of exposure to 15 years without qualifications.

The United Mine Workers and Bituminous Coal Operators Association are now engaged in collective bargaining sessions which will result in an escalation of cost due to increased wages, benefits and welfare royalty. Increased wages of 50 per cent and triple the royalty of 80 cents per ton have been mentioned as part of the cost of the three year contract. The present contract expires Nov. 12. These added costs will create an additional burden, not only for the coal industry, but for the consuming public as well, McDowell said.

State and federal regulations on surface mining will be more rigid under the new federal surface mining legislation now pending in Congress, thus reducing the output of coal from this source, mining spokesmen believe.

"It appears that the problem of coal production will become worse before the public will demand less government interference and more productivity, but that time may materialize before the year 1980," McDowell said.

FOOTNOTE: For fiscal year July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974, black lung payments from the Kentucky Special Fund were $16,235,000. Payments from Jan. 1 this year to Sept. 30, the payments have been $11,195,734. Notice that the first six months of this year are included in the two figures above.

Mrs. Don Hughes featured in newsletter

Mrs. Jeanette Ewalt Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ewalt of Paris, was one of those featured in the Forest Retreat Farm Inc. Newsletter for October.

Mrs. Hughes has been with the Forest Retreat Farm since October, 1970.

A 1954 graduate of Paris High School, Jeanette was a Girl Scout leader for three years. She is a charter member, past president and past secretary of the Carlisle Junior Woman's Club and served as Junior Fine Arts chairman for the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in 1970-72. She is also an active member of the Carlisle Christian Church, and enjoys the hobbies of sewing and bridge.

She has also found time to raise three children, Donna Gail, 12½, and twins, Robert and Jennifer, 9 years old. Her husband, Don R. Hughes, is an insurance agent.

In speaking of Mrs. Hughes, the paper said, "That friendly voice answering the telephone at Forest Retreat belongs to Mrs. Hughes." Farm employee manager, B.F. Hughes calls her the "closest to being indispensable in our operation." "She keeps records, does the billing, books mares, takes letters, pays the bills, answers the phone, keeps the files in order, does the payroll and a few hundred other things," comments the Forest Retreat Manager, "and, most remarkable of all, is always cheerful."
