VA questionnaire deadline Jan. 1

More than a million persons who will receive income questionnaires with Veteran Administration pension checks for November must return them by Jan. 1 instead of the customary Jan. 15 deadline.

VA officials explained the new deadline was set to relieve the annual burden in preparation of January checks when pensioners returned the questionnaires near or after the former Jan. 15 deadline. Pensioners are urged to complete and return the questionnaires promptly.

Under the law, VA mail questionnaires to veterans on non-service-connected pension rolls, widows of veterans receiving pensions based on the non-service-connected death of a husband, and certain parents who receive monthly checks because of the service-connected death of a veteran or serviceman.

The VA noted most pensioners must file questionnaires each year. Exceptions include pensioners 72 years old or over who have been on pension rolls for two consecutive years, though they must report income changes when they occur.

Some beneficiaries who normally are exempt will receive questionnaires this year because of cost of living increases in their annuities.

The agency pointed out prompt return of questionnaires by the new Jan. 1 deadline will avoid delay in next year's checks.
