Up, up and . . .—This kick-off started the game Friday night in which Nicholas County played hard, played well, and played to win which are some of the steps on the ladder of success.—Riggs photo

The second half began. On the first play Allen Atkinson was the tackler. The Raiders gained six yards on the next play, Ruddell and Clark brought him down. Then G. Thompson stopped the Raiders with no gain of yardage. Next, the Raiders gained three yards and was stopped by R.T. Massey and Letcher. The final score of the game was Nicholas County, 32, East Carter, 0.

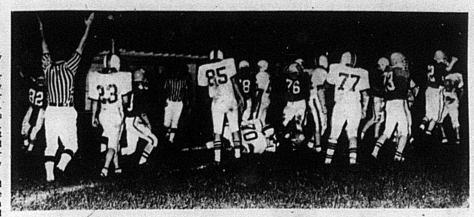
Coach Ben Pumphrey commented after the game that the team made the effort, the defense was great, the kids played the way they were supposed to, and everything was good. The whole team was in fine condition for the game. He stated that they played what most people would call, "Four yards and a cloud of dust."

He also said that D. Snapp and G. Thompson didn't miss a block.

The Jacket's next attempt will be this coming Friday, Sept. 5, at home against Kentucky School for the Deaf.



We've Got Joy—Friday night turned out to be a joyous night in the eyes of Bluejacket fans. This picture relates only one of five touchdowns that the Bluejackets succeeded in making. —Riggs photo

FRANKFORT—Thirty-two employes from State Highways District 9 at Flemingsburg recently were awarded certificates for completion of a "Managing Highway Maintenance" training program.

KYDOT Secretary John C. Roberts had credited the program as having "greatly changed the concepts of work planning, scheduling and optimum utilization of labor forces."

It also resulted in the adoption of new, more efficient methods for measuring and reporting work performances, he said.

District 9 includes the counties of Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Lewis, Mason, Nicholas and Rowan.

Tackett, Chester Williams, Burl Everman, W.W. Wurts, A.R. Tackett, Elmer Fraley, Carmel Barker, Thomas Strode, Albert Lybrook, John Applegate, Daniel Rees, Ronnie Lawson and James Moore.
