

The Carlisle

Volume 108, Number 7

Carlisle, Ky. 40311, Thursday, February 13, 1975

20 Cents per copy

Fund kick-off

Attending the State Heart Fund kick-off luncheon at the governor's mansion in Frankfort recently was the Rev. H. St. Nicholas County Heart Fund chairman. With him is author Jesse Stuart (far left), Kentucky Heart Fund campaign chairman; Gov. Julian Carroll; and Martha Shuffelord (center), the 1975 state Heart Fund poster child. February has been designated by Gov. Carroll as the state Heart Fund month.

Coffee Day, Feb. 14 to help Heart Fund

Last year was the first year that the Heart Association's Coffee Day was observed in Nicholas county. This year it will be observed again on Feb. 14 at the following places: Evans' Big Tee Burger, Garret's Restaurant, J & G Restaurant, Marshall's Restaurant, Little House, Rock Haven, Nicholas County Hospital, First National Bank, Allison's Catering Service at Blue Grass Knitting and Blue Grass Industries. Each person patronizing these establishments on Feb. 14 is asked to donate the cost of one cup of coffee to the Heart Fund. Last year through these establishments participating in Coffee Day, $2.22 was received. This year there are ten participating establishments. If the patrons of each of these "coffee-drinking places" would help, perhaps our county could receive $50 for Coffee Day!

Extension program for Feb. 13

Mrs. Charles Wilson announces there will be a special meeting, Thursday, Feb. 13 at 1:30 p.m. in the little courtroom of the courthouse, sponsored by the Extension Service. The program is entitled "Estate Planning and Taxes." Speakers are Miss Helen Stevens, specialist in Family Economics, and Steve Allen, specialist in Economics. Both are from the University of Kentucky. This program is open to the public.

Council passes ordinances; tables trash pick up bids

City Council met in regular session Monday night in the City office. Alex Crawford was absent due to illness. Bids for City trash pick up from Robert Crump of Millersburg and Kenneth Ulmsted of Carlisle were read by Mayor Power. Council members voted to table the matter until all members were present. Building permits read and approved were for Gilbert Reed to excavate a building on lot on Locust Street, and for Eugene Coles to repair dwelling and storage buildings on McCracken Street. Ordinances passed are: -to withdraw from the Carlisle-Nicholas County Joint Planning Commission; -to adopt a revised No Parking Zones Ordinance, with only change being $1.50 charge for first offense; -to adopt a revised City Sticker Ordinance, with only change being Feb. 1 as final day for purchasing. Other motions passed are: -to have City Attorney Billy Hopkins reintegrate Fiscal Court about joining a new proposed City/County Planning Commission; -to purchase a Scott Air Pack for City Fire Department. This is an oxygen mask and tank apparatus, the cost being approximately $400. -to give Clarence Moss, who operates the police radio, full powers of a policeman, such as power of arrest. He will also work part time when needed on the police force. -to refuse to pay a bill from the Nicholas County Clerk for $25 salary for Civil Defense, until Mayor Power receives a card as co-director of Civil and Air Defense in Nicholas County as was promised. A roll call vote was made with Councilmen Clarence Cord and Charles Fay voting. The bill covers a nine-month period. -to match the cost of a new fire siren with Fiscal Court, and install siren in a location other than the courthouse, and to pay half of repair bill on siren now in operation stop the courthouse. The new siren is to be a back-up in case the one on the courthouse fails to function. Elzie Shan appeared before Council with a request that the creek running along the back of his property on Lower Jacktown Road be cleaned out, as waste from the Water Plant backs up on his land. Request was granted.

Sixth finalist

Mrs. Douglas Hamilton, bookkeeper at the First National Bank, seems happy that Robin Creech is the sixth and final finalist in the Kentucky Group Bank New Car Giveaway. Contestant Cobble Lee, principal of Nicholas County High School, drew Mrs. Creech's name Friday morning. -Duncan photo

HEALTH SERVICES Are they within reach?

Health services for Nicholas counties ideally should be within easy traveling distance. And the taxpayer should get his money's worth when his money is used to fund health programs. But how can any individual Nicholas counties have any say in where a hospital is built, for example. How can he hope to have any real voice in where his tax dollar goes? Well, in part through Dr. Grace G. Edson. Grace is Nicholas county's representative with the Bluegrass Regional Health Planning Council, Inc. The Council and its sister agencies in local and state were born in the 1960s federal "Partnership for Health Act." The cost of health care was going up and yet many were not receiving services. Grace says, "So, the federal government saw the need for a majority group of consumers to do planning at the regional level, figuring they would know the needs of their own areas."

The Bluegrass Council serves Nicholas and 18 other counties: Anderson, Bourbon, Boyle, Clark, Estill, Fayette, Franklin, Garrard, Harrison, Jessamine, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Powell, Scott and Woodford. The Council has 37 members. Some are health care providers, like Grace. A resident of Nicholas county, she is associate professor of community health and medicine at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine. She Co-sponsors of the session here are the Carlisle Rotary Club and the Carlisle Junior Woman's Club. Serving with Grace on the Council are other providers, as well as local government officials from various counties and health care consumers. Names for new Council members usually are suggested by community organizations. A nominating committee, to select prospective nominees to determine their interest. If they express positive interest, their names are submitted to the full Council at its next meeting. The Council meets every other month.

Deadline near for accepting farm allotments The deadline for accepting new farm allotments for tobacco and feed grain is Feb. 15, according to Paul E. Hall, ASES director. The following requirements must be met in order to be eligible: 1. Neither the owner nor operator shall own or operate another farm in the United States, nor have any allotment, base, or quota for the commodity which the application is filed. 2. The producer must own, or have individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

Lodge to meet Dougherty Lodge No. 65 P. & A. M. will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday, Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Farmers to attend UK Tobacco Day

Nicholas County Burley growers will take part in the Tobacco Day program sponsored by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture on Feb. 16. The program is held at the Soy Admixture on the UK campus, Lexington. The program is scheduled to get underway at 9:30 a.m. and will run until 3 p.m. The first speaker will be Robert Miller, Director of the USDA's Agricultural Statistical and Analytical

Local co-op to meet at Morehead Feb. 18

Approximately 15 members of the Southern States Cooperative's local board and committee members, agricultural workers and retail agency managers from this area, will attend a regional board meeting in Morehead on Feb. 18. The session will be held at the Holiday Inn and registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. Those expected to attend the meeting from this area are: Franklin Bell Vaughan Jr., manager of Southern States Carlisle Cooperative; and local board members, Sam Heynsfeld, Eugene Lecher, William Dampier, Herbert Cecil Duncan, Lovell Lavine, James Platt and James S. Anderson. The meeting will be held at the Council Feb. 18 at the number of guest young farmers from this area.

School system joins Region XV District

The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

Local co-op to meet at Morehead Feb. 18

Approximately 15 members of the Southern States Cooperative's local board and committee members, agricultural workers and retail agency managers from this area, will attend a regional board meeting in Morehead on Feb. 18. The session will be held at the Holiday Inn and registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. Those expected to attend the meeting from this area are: Franklin Bell Vaughan Jr., manager of Southern States Carlisle Cooperative; and local board members, Sam Heynsfeld, Eugene Lecher, William Dampier, Herbert Cecil Duncan, Lovell Lavine, James Platt and James S. Anderson. The meeting will be held at the Council Feb. 18 at the number of guest young farmers from this area.

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

by Jeff Kerr The Nicholas County Board of Education authorized the Nicholas County school system to join the Region XV Educational Development District Saturday night. Supt. Don Elder said the districts are being set up over the state to allow individual school districts to band together to work on problems that affect the system. Elder said one of the aims of the district would be to buy common supplies at a cheaper rate. Another advantage of the district would be better cooperation between the schools and the state's universities. The board also authorized Chester Bretz to maintain the hearing system at the high school for the remainder of this year and to make the necessary repairs. An amendment to the 1974-75 working budget was approved to be sent to the Department of Education. There were no amendments to the Nicholas County budget last the form must be filed out

Microfilm Center, Mrs. Margaret I. Ries Library, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506