Changes in drivers' licenses approved by 1974 Assembly

Drivers' licenses issued in the Commonwealth of Kentucky this year will bear a color photograph of the license holder. Another change in the Kentucky driver's license approved by the 1974 General Assembly is the anatomical gift designation on the back side of the driver's license. State Driver Licensing Director F.E. Hodges said that Kentucky will be the first state to have a license with both the color photograph and the anatomical gift designation included on it. Under the "instant" photo process which has been adopted for the license pictures, the applicant will have his or her photograph taken where the license is picked up. The photograph will be developed, laminated to the license and given to the applicant in just a few minutes. The cost of the photo-license is being raised from the current $2 to $4 to cover the additional expense of the photographic process. The new photo-bearing driver's license was approved by the Kentucky
