Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Timothy Wells Watkins-Wells vows spoken at Methodist Church in Paris

Miss Selma Kay Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Watkins of Paris, became the bride of Elmer Timothy Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Wells, Paris, in a double ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Donald Goh, at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, June 16, 1973 at the First United Methodist Church in Paris.

Mrs. Bobby Downing, organist, presented a selection of traditional nuptial music. The church was decorated with floral arrangements of white gladioli and mums and lighted tapers in candleholders.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white silk knit. The A-line style gown featured a slash V-neckline, lace bodice and sleeves, and a softly flared skirt, terminating in a cathedral train. Seed pearls highlighted the neckline, bodice and sleeves and a lace ruffle bordered the skirt and train.

The groom, in pink; Mrs. Bill Hickman, North Middletown, aunt of the bride, in blue; and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Jill Wells, sister of the groom, in lavender.

The flower girls were Miss Jennifer Wells, sister of the groom, and Miss Tammy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Anderson. They wore green and white gingham dresses and picture hats. They dropped daisies from their cascading orchids and white stilettoes entwined with ivy and tied with white streamers. The gown and veil were fashioned for the bride by her mother, Mrs. Dennis Deaton was her sister's matron of honor. She was attired in a long gown of green and white gingham trimmed with lace. The gown was styled with a fitted bodice and short sleeves. She wore a green picture hat with a gingham band to match her gown and carried a green straw basket filled with dried flowers.

ELECTRICITY GENERATES JOBS FOR YOUR TODAYS & THEIR TOMORROWS.

Jobs for this generation. More jobs for the next. Everyone of them depending on a reliable supply of electricity. Imagine your job with electricity off for a day. Or an hour. Or just frequently. Or a new plant being built without assurance of a reliable source of electric power.

To maintain jobs for today's workers, a dependable supply of electricity for industrial plants and commercial establishments is vital.

To create jobs for tomorrow's workers requires attracting new industry and expanding our present industries to expand. And our assurance that more electricity will be available when needed. And that requires huge investments in generation and transmission facilities.
