Saltwell

The Saltwell Sunday School held their annual School picnic at the Harrison County RECC grounds Friday afternoon. The picnic was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Gaunce and Mrs. Carl Coburn accompanied Mike Sherr and Timmy Galt. Plans are on Tuesday to play ball. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huguenot also of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lyons of Orlando, Fla. spent several days of the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Mattox. Norman Anderson of La-Grange also spent the day on Monday. Jeff Earlworthy spent a few days of the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Flora and son of Cynthiana Road.

Andy Gaunce of Surratt is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Gaunce, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Gaunce and Kenney and a group from Harrison county are vacationing in Canada and other places of interest.

Mrs. Carl Coburn and son, Daniel and Timmy Galt and Dinah Booth visited relatives of the Coburns in Frankfort on Thursday.

The revival at the Headquarters Church will begin this Wednesday night, Aug. 6 with services each night at 7:30. Rev. Allen Moran of Science Hill will be the evangelist and special singing each night.

Zara Gaunce of St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington the past week for treatment and residing in a patient room at the hospital. She is the wife of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holler visited Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Mattox on Friday night. Mrs. Mattox has been ill but is improved at this writing.

Billy Knippenberg accompanied Mrs. John McManis and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dennis to Middletown on the proposed regulations. Before the Register was established no public notice was given when regulations were filed with L.C. There was no provision for a committee hearing to give interested parties an opportunity to object or make suggestions to improve the regulation.

Only the LBO staff saw the regulations before the Register publication began. Afterward, companies and public officials who may submit to the Register. A selected group thus sees the Register for its subscription price is $24.00 per year.

House Majority Leader John Swinford, D-Cynthiana, has been in a spat with the Executive Subcommittee because it rejected regulations written by the Department of Natural Resources to implement a deep mining bill that Swinford sponsored in the 1974 legislature, and there are no approved regulations at the moment on the bill.

After Natural Resources got the regulations back the second time, the agency hired a New York firm to iron out controversial technicalities. Now the revised, less stringent, regulations must go to the regulations review panel the opportunity for "re-appeal."

Swinford says the panel's power offers the opportunity for "re-appeal." Swinford did not seek re-election and his term expires Dec. 31.

The legislature for years has been trying to strengthen his position as a body independent from the executive department. Swinford's action indicates he wants to lease the power of the interim committee to review and approve regulations. Now, the committee can send the regulations back as many times as the committee wants.

While Swinford is complaining about "potential tyranny" when it affects a bill he sponsored and got passed, he as majority floor leader in the 1972 session is the one who refused to let the open meetings bill go to the floor for a vote. Terry McClary had sponsored the bill. It got passed in 1974 because the governor supported it as an administrative bill and Swinford had to help get it passed, even against his personal wishes.

The review panel can delay regulations, but they can't kill regulations. The regulations ultimately go into effect if the government agency permits.

But the Administrative Register is important because it gives the public notice on what regulations are being considered for approval.

Friday night and spent the night with his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Duane Knippenberg and Arden Livingside are spending the week at 4-H Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Mattox and children, Miss Alma Mattox and Everett Stansley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mattox and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stone and Denise and Mrs. Lena Ham of Carlsle visited Mr. and Mrs. Gary Holler and children on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. McCreve and Holy Rose, Cynthiana; Mr. and Mrs. James Sigal and children, Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Strader Holler and family, Mrs. Christine Rogers and sons, Mrs. Bobby Brady and Mrs. Larry Woolley and children were Sunday dinner guests of Miss Jeanice McCreve honoring the birthday of Paula McCreve and Frankie Holler.

Rev. and Mrs. Howard Livingside and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Carter and Robyn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and Johnny of Versailles entertained on Monday night with a surprise birthday supper at their home for Bill Burden's 79th birthday and on Tuesday they attended the Cincinnati and San Francisco ball game in Cincinnati.

Norma Jean Gaunce spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sparks.

We believe in this community... and in you

We believe this is one of the best places in the world to live... and to rear able and responsible young people.

And we believe you agree with us that one of the best ways for us to keep this as such a community is to support our local economy by doing most of our business at home... with each other.
