No-fault insurance law basics given

by S.C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT—The new no-fault insurance law automatically goes into effect July 1, and this is the type coverage you will get if you don't reject in writing before that date. The rejection must be mailed to the State Department of Insurance.

Companies are now mailing these forms to their customers. If you haven't received one, ask your insurance agent. A lot of people don't understand no-fault insurance. A brochure prepared by the Kentucky No-Fault Insurance Information Council explains it rather well.

I'll attempt here to explain the basics under no-fault coverage. As of July 1, all motor vehicles registered or operated in Kentucky must be protected by automobile liability insurance and basic no-fault personal injury insurance.

No-fault insurance covers bodily injury only up to $10,000. This limits your right to sue another motorist because of injuries unless your medical expenses exceed $1,000 or you suffer certain serious types of injury or death. Your own insurance company will pay the bills up to the limit of the policy without your having to bring suit to establish blame for the accident.

The following benefits, up to a total of $10,000 per person, will be paid regardless of fault.

Medical and rehabilitation expenses. Up to $200 per week for loss of income, replace services or benefits for your survivors.

One thousand for funeral and burial expenses.

To get this coverage your right to sue will be limited in case of minor injury. If you don't want this lawsuit limitation you have the option to reject these benefits.

If you decide to reject the lawsuit limitations, your rejection must be in writing on a form which you can obtain from your insurance company, your agent or the Kentucky Department of Insurance.

A 10 per cent reduction will be reflected in liability rates if all members of the family accept no-fault protection.

This new law does not change property damage liability and collision insurance. Payments for damage to vehicles will be handled exactly as they are today.

Failure to carry insurance can result in a criminal penalty.

The new law requires, when you register your vehicle, that you have and continue to carry basic automobile liability protection in the amount of $10,000—$20,000 for injuries and $5,000 for property damage plus a minimum of $10,000 basic no-fault benefits for each person.

Failure to maintain the necessary insurance under the law may result in a fine of up to $500 and other penalties.

Here are some questions and answers that may be helpful.

Q. What if I have my own policy and I'm riding in another person's car, and I'm injured in an automobile accident, who pays?

A. The company insuring the automobile pays. If the car is uninsured, your company pays.

Q. What happens to a person who is injured but, for some reason, cannot collect under any insurance policy?

A. An assigned claims plan has been established. This plan will provide payment of no-fault benefits for those who have not rejected their lawsuit limitations.

Q. What do I, as a policyholder, do before the no-fault law goes into effect July 1?,

A. Current policyholders with motor vehicle liability insurance are not required to do anything if they want no-fault protection. If you already have a motor vehicle liability policy, it will be automatically changed by your insurance company to include the basic no-fault insurance benefits.

The no-fault plan looks good to me, but every person must make up his own mind.

Remember, it only limits your right to sue when your personal injuries are less than $1,000.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay R. Pollan

Note planetary ruler of your birth symbol

FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, JUNE 16, 1975

★ If your birthday occurs this week . . . your energies flow naturally into adventurous paths. Movement, physical and mental, is essential to you, and you express yourself best when working, playing, living actively. Others express open admiration for your sense of independence and freedom. Press forward! You're going to win!

Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Pluto ♇
A week when you get involved in many affairs, some not to your liking. Tread lightly. Sudden changes of policy and attitudes are indicated. You may suffer an emotional bruise, but you'll soon forget it and will be the better for the experience. An attractive member of opposite sex makes you feel needed, wanted.

Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 Venus ♀
Your money situation is accented. It's time to take an inventory of your assets and consolidate your resources. Certain financial commitments should be clarified, especially those related to partnerships and joint accounts. Problems related to insurance and investments should be reviewed, perhaps revised.

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury ☿
Someone may startle you with unorthodox ideas or attitude. You may be a little out of your depth in relationships. Be an opportunist and try to trim with the times. If you have any delicate situations to deal with concerning authorities, act now. You'll have to make the best of things as they are, temporarily.

Cancer June 21 - July 22 Moon ☾
Active week. Go after what you want now. This is the time to be persistent, aggressive. To your surprise, you may find progress and promotion possible when you discuss your talents and ambitions. Your keen intuition makes you a winner. Don't be drawn into some risky activity. Refuse to be boxed in.

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun ☉
You'll need to be firm about your work intentions. Try to accomplish all that is demanded. Unless you take care of daily duties, pressures could mount, nerves become edgy. Don't worry about competition, as opposition is not well organized. Those in authority will aid you, if approached properly.

Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Mercury ☿
Social activity accelerates. Many now express their admiration and appreciation of you and seek your companionship. The key is to enjoy yourself and not waste energy. Personal and business prospects appear good. Aid can come from a member of the opposite sex, if it's wanted. Be subtle. Don't force issues.

Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Venus ♀
Bright aspects put the spotlight on you and open all doors you knock on. There is no limit to the things you're able to do at this time, except your courage to seize the moment.
