

County's 175th anniversary and state's 200th birthday commemorated

Next week marks one year since biggest celebration; 'History of Nicholas County' to be lasting memorial

Next week, June 23-30, will mark one year since Nicholas County so successfully celebrated its 175th anniversary and Kentucky's 200th anniversary.

As a lasting memorial to that celebration, and to our country's 200th birthday in 1776, the Bicentennial Committee, now the Nicholas County Historical Society by all those who worked so hard during the 1974 celebration week.

Mrs. Warren Fisher and Jack Conley served as county coordinators for last year's celebration.
