Local residents honored by state selective service

Brenda Anderson and Ida B. Conyers of Nicholas County High School and Billy C. House and Dianne D. Livingood of the First National Bank, Nicholas county residents, were recently honored by Col. Taylor L. Davidson, State Director of Selective Service.

Certificates of appreciation were presented on April 28, by Orene N. Walton, on behalf of Col. Davidson, for their valuable service contributed to selective service as volunteer registrars. Mrs. Walton took this opportunity to remind the young men of Nicholas county that a recent presidential proclamation has currently suspended continuous registration as of April 1, 1975. This proclamation does not relieve young men of their responsibility to register, for it is anticipated that the President will announce by a future proclamation, the plan for an annual registration. The time and place announced through the news media, thus informing all young men who have reached the age of 18 and others who have not previously registered.

KU adds emergency telephone service

Customers of Kentucky Utilities Company served from the Carlisle Kentucky Utilities office now have additional telephone numbers available to report emergency conditions. M. W. Whiteley, manager, announced this week.

To report an emergency condition to Kentucky Utilities after 5:00 p.m. and on weekends and holidays, local customers may call the following numbers: 285-2524; 285-2490; 285-2827; 285-2472.

If no answer locally call: 987-6234; 987-4147; 987-3682; 987-6238; 987-1264; 987-3778.

If no answer to above phones, call Lexington 606-278-8355.

He said the Lexington phone is manned 24 hours a day and can handle emergency calls throughout the area by radio communication.
