Gov. Carroll asks tax exemption for local governmental units

Gov. Julian Carroll has resubmitted to the Kentucky General Assembly's Administrative Regulation Review Subcommittee an emergency regulation for the Department of Revenue that exempts from the Sales and Use Tax all purchases made by cities, counties and all other local governmental units.

The exemption includes utility service.

Gov. Carroll's primary reason for approving the regulation granting the blanket exemption to cities, counties and other local government units is to afford them some financial assistance, particularly badly needed now because of the soaring costs of utilities.

The governor is also concerned about the competitive disadvantage over Kentucky retailers heretofore enjoyed by out-of-state retailers who can make tax free sales of items of personal property to these same units of local government. This regulation will take away that out-of-state disadvantage.

A similar regulation was submitted to the legislative panel's approval on Jan. 29 but two of the three members of the subcommittee objected to a $500 limitation that was part of the proposal.

The current proposal has no such limitation and the governor anticipates the subcommittee's approval.

Peabody coal reservations

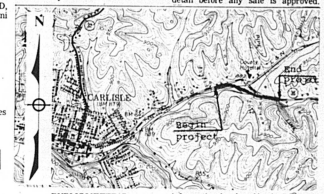
WASHINGTON—Senator Walter Dee Huddleston has raised a number of questions and expressed serious reservations about the proposed sale of Peabody Coal Company to the Tennessee Valley Authority. Huddleston did so at a hearing before the Senate Public Works Committee.

"I am sympathetic with TVA's objective of guaranteeing a coal supply at lower prices in order to reduce the cost of electricity to their consumers," the senator said. "But the prospect of an independent government agency buying the largest coal producing company in the country raises very serious questions."

"Do we want to inject the federal government further into private enterprise? Do we want a federal agency competing with private concerns? If TVA plans to supply only their own needs with Peabody coal, what happens to their other suppliers, especially small independent operators in Kentucky?

"In Kentucky, Peabody pays more than $7 million in severance taxes, not counting corporate income and other taxes. But TVA is exempt from taxation at the state and local level. Would this exemption extend to Peabody?"

Huddleston said these and other questions must be examined in great detail before any sale is approved.



PUBLIC MEETING

The Kentucky Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highways, will hold a public meeting Thursday, May 29, 1975, in the County Court Room of the Nicholas County Courthouse, Carlisle, Kentucky, at 3:00 p.m., prevailing local time, for the purpose of discussing with the public the proposed location that has been considered by the Bureau for the relocation Kentucky Highway No. 36 (Carlisle-Owingsville Road). This project is located 0.7 mile East of the East City Limits of Carlisle and includes an at-grade crossing for the L & N Railroad and approaches thereto.

Maps, drawings and other pertinent information developed by the Bureau of Highways are on display at the Bureau of Highways District Office, Elizaville Avenue, Flemingsburg, Kentucky between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and make their comments known to the Bureau either at the meeting or by writing the District Engineer, P.O. Box 347, Flemingsburg, Kentucky 41041.

Comments received by the district engineer within ten days after the public meeting will be considered by the Bureau.
